SCHOOL BUILDINGS DEPT.
SUBJECT OF FIN. COM.'S REPORT TO MAYOR HYNES

November 19, 1956.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

Recently there has been public discussion concerning the control of administration in the construction of new schools, and the repair and alterations of schools already in existence. Incidental to this discussion, question was raised as to what agency of government has the right to determine personnel policy in the School Buildings Department. The occasion of this discussion was the refusal, for an extended period, of a majority of the School Committee to make appropriation for the salary of a new superintendent in the School Buildings Department.

At about this time, the School Committee requested an opportunity to confer with the Finance Commission in regard to questions raised by members of the School Committee. These were, in effect:

1. Does the Mayor of Boston have the right and duty to pass upon contracts awarded by the School Buildings Department?
2. Does the Mayor of Boston have the right and duty to pass upon the hiring and paying of employees of the School Buildings Department?

It was stated by the School Committee members present at a conference which was held during a regular meeting of the Finance Commission that what they desired was that the Finance Commission examine the law in regard to the control of the construction, repair, and alterations of school buildings, and to review the experiences of the Commission in observation of this work, with a view to suggesting changes in the law.

Because of statements publicly quoted, and because of the contentions made by members of the School Committee at the aforementioned conference, it is apparent that there is strong difference of opinion between various public officials in regard to the legal responsibilities of the Mayor in the award of contracts for school construction, repair, and alterations; and, as well, in regard to the legal responsibility of the Mayor in the matter of the hire of employees and the fixing of salaries of the employees of the School Buildings Department. These differences of opinion could provoke situations which it would be best for the city to avoid.

It is not the function of the Finance Commission to interpret the law for city departments. The City Law Department, by ordinance, is given that authority. Since there is a dispute, however, which, as stated, might have serious consequences, it seems to the Finance Commission that an interpretation of the law should be had from the only authority which can finally settle the matter—the courts. The procedure would probably be by a petition for a “declaratory judgment.”

As may be seen in a copy of the report which the fathering Survey Committee made, when the present School Buildings Department was created, it was the intention to set up a commission which would represent the three agencies making appropriations for schools in Boston—the state, the city, and the School Committee. The Survey Committee recommended appointment to the School Buildings Commission of one member by the Governor, one by the Mayor, and one by the School Committee.

While the petition for such enactment was before the Legislature, it was decided to change the provision regarding the first indicated member. Rather than to have the Governor make the appointment without condition, it was provided that the Governor would name this member only in the event that the appointees of the Mayor and School Committee could not agree on a choice in thirty days.

In 1929, when the creating act was adopted, the state made no contribution to construction of schools in Boston. All the funds used were provided by appropriation by the School Committee, with the Mayor being given veto power. Now, however, in addition to the funds the state contributes to educational purposes, it contributes substantially for schoolhouse construction. It therefore would be appropriate for the Governor to name a member of the School Buildings Commission without having to wait until the appointees of the Mayor and the School Committee are unable to agree on a choice. It must be recognized that whether or not the School Buildings Commission remains the independent agency which was intended will depend always on the attitude of the members.

Otherwise, the Finance Commission is satisfied that the present statute provides a satisfactory arrangement for the control of the construction, repair, and alterations of schools; but obviously there should be no doubt as to the limitations of the powers of the school authorities. As indicated above, it will require a decision by the courts to clarify this situation.

Respectfully submitted,

H. W. DWIGHT RUDD, Chairman,
LEO J. DUNN,
EDWARD U. LEE,
ROGER J. ABIZAID, M.D.,
HENRY A. SASSERNO,

THE FINANCE COMMISSION.

Secretary.

PROCEEDINGS OF CITY COUNCIL.

Tuesday, November 13, 1956.

Regular adjourned meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p.m., President McCORMACK in the chair, and all the members present.

Right Reverend Albert J. Shea, of St. James Roman Catholic Church, Boston, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY RT. REV. ALBERT J. SHEA.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

Heavenly Father, Whose Divine Mercy and Justice we humbly reverence, we place ourselves today in Thy keeping.

At this time, as the members of the City Council of Boston are gathered in the interests of our city and its people, our minds are naturally recalling a November day of 1918 when joy and suffering, hope and fear mingled together as peace returned to a weary world.

It is in the power of this Council by Thy Grace to contribute to the well-being of the City of Boston. Grant, dear Saviour, that at this and every meeting their deliberations may be guided by the light of Thy Divine Wisdom. Grant to them, also, Eternal Father, a full understanding of peace as they understood it in the original Armistice Day, that it may inspire every thought and action in the office to which they have been elected by a confident people.

We are grateful for Thy blessings of the past. We implore Thee, dear Lord, to stay with us, to direct and to guide and to bless our works. Amen.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

I also find that arrangements have already been made to replace the existing gas lamps on Dawes street and Mayhew street with modern electric street lights.

A street lighting survey of all other streets included in the above-referenced list will be made, and steps taken to install new electric lights at some time in the future.

I trust, therefore, that these matters will be adjusted satisfactorily.

SALE OF LAND ON VIENNA STREET, EAST BOSTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 5, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I am in receipt of a communication from the Commissioner of Public Works in which he concludes, after a duly held public hearing, that there is no continuing public necessity for retaining a small portion of Vienna street, East Boston.

The area of land in question comprises 1,488 square feet. It represents that part of Vienna street which was intended to be used for highway purposes, but not so used. An abutting owner has made an offer for this area of land and the Commissioner of Public Works recommends that the said offer be accepted and approved.

I therefore, transmit to your Honorable Body an order for the sale of 1,488 square feet of land in Vienna street, East Boston, for the sum of $470, which is the valuation of property abutting the area to be discontinued and sold.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Improvement Commission,
October 17, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

Transmitted herewith for your approval is an order for the proposed discontinuance of a portion of Vienna street, formerly Orleans street, East Boston District.

Several years ago, in connection with the construction of the East Boston Expressway, the Commonwealth of Massachusetts made a widening, on behalf of the City of Boston, of Orleans street, now Vienna street, taking a parcel of land at the northeasterly corner of said Vienna street and Neptune road. In constructing Vienna street, however, the Commonwealth utilized only a small portion of this taking, and the above-referenced discontinuance is being made on that portion which has never been used for highway purposes and left in an unsightly condition.

We have received a petition from Mr. Joseph Buono, owner of the abutting property, requesting this discontinuance and offering to purchase the area amounting to 1,488 square feet for $470 which is the assessors' valuation of the abutting property (30 cents a square foot).

After viewing the location and holding a public hearing, this Commission has concluded that there is no continuing public necessity for retaining and maintaining this small area of land. It is respectfully recommended, therefore, that the enclosed order, which provides your Honor with the necessary authorization to sell this land at private sale to Joseph Buono for the sum of $470, be transmitted to the City Council for the approval of that body.

Respectfully,
GEORGE G. HYLAND, Chairman.

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of approximately one thousand four hundred eighty-eight (1,488) square feet of land in Vienna street, East Boston District (formerly Orleans street), being that portion of Vienna street discontinued as a public highway by an order of the Public Improvement Commission and approved by his Honor the Mayor October 17, 1956; and

Whereas, The Public Improvement Commission has determined the said parcel of land is no longer required for public purposes; and

Whereas, Joseph Buono is the owner of the abutting property and has offered to purchase the land for the sum of $470; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to sell at private sale to Joseph Buono for the minimum price of $470 and to execute and deliver to the purchaser an instrument in writing satisfactory in form to the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston conveying all the City of Boston's right, title, and interest in and to the following-described parcel of land:

A certain parcel of land situated at the north-easterly corner of Neptune road in Vienna street, in the East Boston District of the City of Boston, bounded:

Southwesterly by the southwesterly line of Vienna street as it existed prior to the order of discontinuance dated October 17, 1956, seventy-seven and 86-100 feet; northeasterly by the northeasterly line of Vienna street as it existed prior to the order of discontinuance dated October 17, 1956, twenty-six and 23-100 feet; northwesterly by the northwesterly line of Vienna street as laid out under the order dated October 17, 1956, by two measurements, sixty-six and 18-100 feet and twenty-one and 32-100 feet on a curve of fifteen and 22-100 feet radius; containing one thousand four hundred eighty-eight square feet, more or less.

The above-described parcel of land is shown on the plan marked "City of Boston, Vienna Street, East Boston, September 26, 1956, George G. Hyland, Commissioner of Public Works," and on file in the office of the Public Works Department.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

APPROPRIATION FROM PARKMAN FUND.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 7, 1956.

To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I am in receipt of the attached communication from the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, requesting the appropriation of $25,000 from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, for the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887.

The 1956 budget estimates for the personal service requirements of the Parks and Recreation Department included an estimate of the total yearly income from the George F. Parkman Fund. The budget allowances made provision for the appropriation of this income as it accrued for the purpose of defraying the cost of work actually performed on the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887.

I submit herewith an order appropriating the sum of $25,000, the accrued income now available from the Parkman Fund, and respectfully recommend its immediate passage by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Parks and Recreation Department,
November 2, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

You are respectfully asked to request the City Council to transfer from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund the sum of $25,000 which is now available, to be expended under the direction of the Park Commissioner, as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of..... $25,000

When making up the budget estimates for the year 1956, a sum equal to the total yearly income of the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from Item 100, Permanent Employees, with the understanding that this deduction was to be replaced by the total yearly income of said Parkman Fund for 1956, to be transferred as it accrued from time to time during the year to the regular maintenance appropriation of the Parks and Recreation Department.

Respectfully yours,
Frank R. Kelley, Commissioner.

Ordered, That the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) be, and hereby is, appropriated from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, for the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance and Improvement of..... $25,000

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations and Finance.

TRANSFER OF APPROPRIATION TO SNOW REMOVAL.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 13, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I submit herewith an order providing for the transfer of $30,000 from the appropriation for Bridges, Repair, etc., Rebuilding of South Boston Approach, Summer Street Bridge, at Reserved

Channel, to the appropriation for Snow Removal, and a letter from the Commissioner of Public Works explaining the reasons therefor.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
November 9, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

At the present time, there are no funds available in our special budgetary item titled, "Snow Removal," for the purchase of supplies and materials.

The Purchasing Department is in the process of awarding a contract to the Eastern Minerals of Chelsea for the furnishing of 1,000 tons of salt to this department, but the contract cannot be executed, due to lack of funds. It is most essential that this salt be provided, in order that we will have an ample stock on hand in the event of snow or icy conditions developing during the remainder of the current year. It is most advantageous to have a salt contract with a vendor located in Chelsea, as the material can be delivered in trucks on 24 hours' notice. The other contracts that we have with salt companies provide for deliveries from distant locations over railroad lines, and we have to wait from three to four weeks for deliveries. Therefore, as stated, there is a big advantage in having a contract with a local supplier for salt.

At the present time, the City Auditor is holding a contract for the purchase of 23 new plows, due to lack of appropriations. Bids for these plows were opened in this department several weeks ago, and the low bid was submitted by the E. J. Bleiler Equipment Company, of Needham, in the amount of $12,075.

It is estimated that the salt will cost $14,750 for 1,000 tons. Under the circumstances, we will need a minimum of $26,825, in order to execute these contracts. I feel that at least $30,000 should be provided at this time, with the understanding that the estimated balance of $3,175 will be used to pay for overtime worked by department employees in connection with the installation of plows on contractors' trucks hired by the department.

I respectfully recommend, therefore, that an order be submitted to the City Council, requesting the transfer of $30,000 to our Snow Removal item from Item 713, Bridges Repairs. The latter item provided for the rebuilding of the South Boston approach to the Summer Street Bridge, at the Reserved Channel. This work, however, cannot be done this year, and I feel that it is more beneficial to the city if the above-referenced $30,000 were provided for the purposes described above.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Bridges, Repair, etc., Rebuilding of South Boston Approach, Summer Street Bridge, at Reserved Channel, $30,000, to the appropriation for Snow Removal, $30,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 9, 1956.
John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

The following was received:

Office of the Mayor, November 5, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I submit herewith an order providing for the transfer of $20,845.50 from the Reserve Fund to Public Ways, Construction of, Sewerage Works, Construction of, Buildings, Departmental Equipment, and Bridges, Construction of, to provide additional funds in accordance with section 7 of chapter 44 of the General Laws, each in the amount of $1,169.10. Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Auditing Department, November 5, 1956.
Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

In accordance with section 7 of chapter 44 of the General Laws, prior to authorization of a loan, an appropriation must be made of ten cents on each one thousand dollars of the assessed valuation of the city for the preceding year. This year appropriations in the amount of $150,000 were made in anticipation of loan authorizations for Public Ways, Construction of; Sewerage Works; Construction of Buildings; Departmental Equipment; and Bridges, Construction of. It has been called to our attention that the so-called statutory down-payment appropriations in connection with each of these loan authorizations should have been $154,169.10, based on a valuation of $1,541,691,000 for 1955. I am submitting herewith requests for transfers of funds from the Reserve Fund to each of these respective appropriations in the amount of $4,169.10 to fulfill the requirements of the statute. I respectfully request that these be submitted for the consideration of the City Council at today's meeting.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH P. LALLY, City Auditor.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Reserve Fund, $20,845.50, to the appropriation for Public Ways, Construction of, $4,169.10; Sewerage Works, $4,169.10; Construction of Buildings, $4,169.10; Departmental Equipment, $4,169.10; Bridges, Construction of, $4,169.10.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

PRINTING OF "BOSTON'S STREETS SUPPLEMENT."

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 13, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

It is time that the volume "Boston's Streets" be brought up to date. In the accompanying communication from the Commissioner of Public Works it is proposed that instead of printing a new volume, a pamphlet supplementing the 1955 edition be printed. This would appear to be quite satisfactory, and, of course, a distinct saving in expenditure.

I, therefore, recommend the passage of the attached order for the printing of 1,000 copies of a pamphlet entitled "Boston's Streets Supplement."

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
November 8, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

In recent years, it has been the practice of the city to put out a new edition of "Boston's Streets" every four or five years. Because of the long period between editions, we receive many inquiries daily from other city departments and the public relative to changes that might have taken place since the last edition was published.

This, I believe, shows the need for either publishing new editions more frequently or publishing periodic supplements to the most recent edition. New editions are costly, and accordingly, I suggest that we provide for the issuing of annual supplements which could be prepared in pamphlet form. I respectfully recommend, therefore, that you submit to the City Council, for approval, the attached order which provides, in substance, for the printing of 1,000 copies of a pamphlet supplementing the 1955 edition of the booklet titled, "Boston's Streets."

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

GOVERNMENT CENTER PLAN WINS ENDORSEMENT

Construction of a proposed government center extending across the eastern slope of Beacon Hill from the State House to Faneuil Hall, as outlined last August by the City of Boston Planning Board,* this week won the support of a special committee of Greater Boston business, professional, and labor leaders. Key to the plan is the announced intention of the Federal Government to construct a $28-million federal building in Boston.

Mayor John B. Hynes, on his return from the American Municipal Conference at St. Louis on November 28, said the project depends upon the Federal Government's willingness to build in the Pemberton-Dock Square area. "If they will do this," the Mayor said, "then we can assure the federal authorities that Boston definitely intends to go ahead with the project." The Mayor said he expects to discuss the matter in the near future with the General Services Administration in Washington.

The citizens' committee, after a meeting at the Greater Boston Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, called for construction of the government center, including a federal building, a new city hall, county court house, and state office buildings. The project, the committee contended, would create a "modern, attractive governmental center in the historic section of Boston."

John Deady of the Boston Central Labor Union, a member of the special committee, said labor "strongly favors" construction of the federal building in this area. He envisioned the proposed project as the "northern wall to spotlight and spark a real drive to rebuild and restore a valuable part of Boston." Mr. Deady termed it "imperative" that labor, business, and industry join hands to make this government center a reality.

John T. Blackwell, planning advisor and committee member, said any building of the physical size of the federal structure would be a landmark for many years. "A community capital outlay of this magnitude and probable permanence," he continued, "warrants community insistence on careful placement in a more accessible location with handsomer and more open landscape design, and with more adequate parking than has characterized any previous building of similar size in downtown Boston."

Tentative plans for the new federal building have already been approved by the General Services Administration and the cost of $28 million has been estimated. The structure will be of the modern skyscraper type and, it is said, will vie in size with the John Hancock Building.

Several months ago the federal authorities assured Mayor Hynes that if the new building is constructed under the lease-purchase formula, the City of Boston will receive full taxes on the building alone, apart from the land on which it is constructed. Mayor Hynes said he is pushing for this or some such agreement in order that Boston will receive much-needed municipal revenue from such a huge structure. A State Legislative Recess Commission has reported on the need of a state office building. The construction of a new city hall has long been pointed out as a pressing necessity by Mayor Hynes. The City Planning Board proposal further foresees the eventual replacement of the old Court House by a new building which could include quarters for a new downtown police station.

A cardinal part of the proposal, as outlined by the Planning Board, is the beginning of a scheme for simplifying the downtown street system and not only creating ample settings for new development, but eliminating much of the present hodgepodge. The 50-acre tract is now encumbered with a hopeless confusion of streets which occupy nearly one half the total area. The Planning Board further points out that the new government center project would stimulate private renovation, alterations, and new construction throughout the entire adjacent areas.

Arthur J. Gartland of Cronin, Gartland & Co., is chairman of the committee.

Other members are:

Irving L. Franklin, Boston Chamber of Commerce, secretary; Henri Bourneuf, New England Mutual Life Insurance; Francis V. Bulfinch, Shepley, Bulfinch, Richardson & Abbott; Bertram A. SNOWSTORMS! HOW THE PUBLIC CAN COOPERATE

BY GEORGE G. HYLAND
COMMISSIONER OF PUBLIC WORKS

The snowstorms of last March resulted in serious and prolonged traffic tie-ups that inconvenienced large numbers of motorists and paralyzed traffic on many of the main highways for periods ranging from twelve to thirty-six hours. We were fortunate that a major fire or some other type of disaster did not occur during these tie-ups when the highways were rendered impassable by large numbers of abandoned vehicles.

We can and must prevent a repetition of these conditions during the coming winter. The Public Works Department will utilize every resource at its command to keep all main highways and residential streets properly plowed and sanded, but we need the wholehearted cooperation of all residents and motorists to achieve such results. We have the man power and the equipment to do a good snowplowing job, but we need the help of the general public.

Regulations Listed

Therefore this is an appeal to residents and motorists to comply with the following regulations which have been adopted in the interests of public safety:

1. Do not operate a motor vehicle during a snowstorm unless it is equipped with chains or snow tires. Chains are preferred, as they are more effective than snow tires. Therefore the latter may be considered as a substitute only.

2. Any vehicle not equipped with chains or snow tires should be parked in an off-street parking facility during a storm. If you are driving on a highway when a storm starts, park your vehicle in an off-street parking facility immediately. If none is available park your car close to the curb, and let it remain there until the storm is over and the street has been plowed. It is better to park your car at the curb rather than risk further driving that might result in the blocking of the travel lane by your vehicle. Six or seven stalled vehicles can inconvenience thousands of motorists and effectively block a highway for miles. We must, in the interest of public safety, keep our highways open at all times.

3. If snow is predicted, leave your car at home and use the public transportation systems.

4. If the roads are slippery, drive with extreme caution. Stay well behind the car ahead of you.

At Home

1. Park your car off the street in a garage, vacant lot, driveway, or other off-street parking facility. If, due to inadequate off-street parking facilities, you must park on the street, park on alternate sides on alternate days. Park on the odd-numbered side of the street on the odd-numbered day, and on the even-numbered side on the even-numbered day.

2. Do not, under any condition, park your car on a main highway during the nighttime.

New Fee Schedule Goes To Mayor Hynes For Final Approval

The Boston City Council, after several months of deliberation and public hearings, on November 28 resubmitted to Mayor John B. Hynes a revival of his proposed ordinance calling for a new schedule of fees charged by the city for municipal permits and for special services.

Under the Council's revised draft, which has been referred to the Mayor for final approval, the city's revenue would be increased by an amount which has not yet been officially estimated. Under the Mayor's original recommendation the increased revenue to the city had been estimated at $300,000 annually. The Council's version is unofficially estimated to be several times that amount.

Full text of the Council's order as passed at the November 28 meeting will be published in the City Record of December 8.

These highways constitute the life lines of our city, and they must be kept open at all times, regardless of the depth of snow.

3. Shovel the snow from your sidewalk by opening a path about four or five feet wide. Store the snow in the sidewalk area. Do not shovel it into the roadway area unless the fall of snow is light.

4. If your car is "plowed in," do not free it by shoveling the snow into the travel lane; pile it in the gutter or on the sidewalk close to the curb.

General

The regulations concerning the operation of vehicles during storms might appear to be severe and will result in an undue hardship to individual motorists. However, we must—in the interests of public safety—adopt such regulations, as the keeping of highways open to travel is the key to the solution of all the problems that occur during and following snowstorms. On many occasions department plows have been rendered useless, as we have been unable to get through the streets because of the abandoned cars or because of cars that have become stalled in the snow. Therefore we must insist that vehicles be equipped with chains or snow tires, if they are to be operated during a storm. Most of the vehicles in the storm of last March were bogged down and became inoperative before three inches of snow had fallen. In fact, on an incline, one inch of wet, freezing snow will make the highway impassable for a vehicle not equipped with chains.

For these reasons, therefore, we must, as stated, insist that vehicles be equipped with chains or snow tires at the start of and during a snow storm.

CLAIMS APPROVED.

The Mayor, on recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, approved the following votes of the Committee on Claims:

Settlement of the claim of Kathleen Sharp, 30 Robey street, Roxbury, for compensation for personal injuries caused by a hole in the sidewalk on Langdon street, near corner of George street, Roxbury, August 8, 1953, by payment of $485.

CITY'S PERSONNEL PROBLEM SUBJECT OF PANEL DISCUSSION

II

This is the second in a series of six reports of a recent two-day Boston Municipal Administration Conference in which 200 key city employees participated.

City of Boston employees, in the third session of the two-day Conference on Municipal Administration, held recently in the Lecture Hall at Boston Public Library, explored several phases of the city's personnel administration.

Thomas J. Greehan, Massachusetts Director of Civil Service, who supervises 88,000 positions on the state level, served as moderator for the panel. The four participating panelists were: Frank P. McDonough, assistant supervisor of personnel, City of Boston; Paul L. Carty, executive officer, Boston Retirement Board; William T. Doyle, executive secretary, Boston Traffic Commission; and James B. Goldrick, senior budget analyst, Administrative Services Department. A question and answer period followed the discussions.

REMARKS OF MR. GREEHAN, PANEL MODERATOR

One of the most hopeful signs on the immediate horizon in government administration is the initiative taken by the larger metropolitan cities of the nation in examining their own methods of administration for the purpose of determining whether improvements in the quality of the service rendered to the public can be made and whether the huge system such service requires may be operated with greater economy. It is not surprising, therefore, to find that Boston, in the vanguard with New York, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, and many other up-and-coming municipalities, is initiating today at the Boston Public Library a sound research program by means of panel discussions into the many facets of public administration encountered in the massive and diversified establishment of the modern metropolis.

These governments understand that progress is not to be made by waiting for a sudden discovery of ways to make immense savings, or the finding of vast sums available for current expenditures, but by an immediate scientific and minute examination of the municipality's methods of operation, much as the modern health authorities, upon discovering in a community an epidemic of a fatal or disabling disease, seek to stop the epidemic by turning to the microscope to locate the almost invisible parasite which causes the disease. Much as we may dislike to use the word "scientific" at our present stage of development in personnel administration, we must nevertheless use scientific measures rather than rule-of-thumb measures to isolate the causes of the problems which bedevil large city jurisdictions today.

The particular point that our panel is to discuss today is that part of public administration relating to matters dealing with the personnel who operate the governmental agencies. And well might one of the panels be devoted to this subject, which consumes over half of the current annual expenditures of a state, a city, or a town.

Fair Treatment the Key

Modern personnel administration demands, for the fair treatment of the employee, the taxpayer, and the administrative officer, that there be two plans established and coordinated with each other. One is the Classification Plan, which puts a descriptive title on each job and provides the same title for the same kind of work. The other is the Compensation Plan, which is independent of but works with the Classification Plan, which establishes what rates are to be paid for each of the several grades in the Classification Plan. We have been requested to discuss these two plans.

In these days of specialization we cannot hope to have all new employees familiar with all the specialties required of the city staff. Hence, we shall also discuss the remedy for this difficulty—namely, employee training.

Four officers of the City of Boston will discuss these points. Each of these persons is qualified to speak in his own right for that segment in the city service which he represents. What he has to say, therefore, should be of interest to all of us. Following the panel discussion, we will have questions from the floor.

CLASSIFICATION AND COMPENSATION PLAN AN ADVANTAGE

By Frank P. McDonough
Panelist

The establishment of a Classification and Compensation Plan has provided a comprehensive system whereby employees now have a more complete knowledge of their status, benefits, and future prospects in the employ of the municipal government.

A more or less haphazard method of adjusting salaries has been eliminated. Prior to the adoption of the plan, I am informed that an employee's salary advancement was sometimes determined by the extent of influence he was able to exert. Under the compensation plan an employee's salary is increased progressively until the maximum of the grade is attained.

Employees have become more educated and more aware of their individual status as a result of the establishment of a set of rules and regulations for administering the Compensation Plan. Heretofore, very unsatisfactory situations existed within certain classifications—clerical, for example, wherein a group of persons with the identical title of clerk received widely different salaries which frequently failed to indicate the scope of duties and responsibilities involved in the individual positions. Under the Classification Plan the various titles have been clearly established and the relationship defined. A job description for each title has been prepared, thus making available to the employee the knowledge required for aspiration to positions in higher categories. All this information is available to the employees. Such was not always the case in the past.

The Compensation Plan has included certain benefits which were not considered before, such as credit for prior service with the city, state, or County of Suffolk. Longevity provisions have been added, granting credit after ten and twenty years' service, recently amended to seven and eleven years. Payment of extra compensation for work when assigned to a higher classification is covered within the rules.

Room for Improvement

A Compensation Review Board, appointed by the Mayor, functions as a source of appeal for the employee who is aggrieved by the allocation of his or her position to a salary grade, or in the application of the rules in his or her case.

In my opinion, the establishment of the Classification and Compensation Plan has been a major improvement in our personnel system. Since its adoption many sorely-needed adjustments have been accomplished, and, although inequities may exist, the means for eliminating them have been provided.

Basically, a very large majority of the employees included in the plan benefited immediately upon its adoption. Eventually, all should benefit. The granting of equal pay for equal work is more nearly a reality than in the past.

In so far as the Personnel Division is concerned, the adoption of the plan has alleviated a great many of the difficulties formerly encountered. The printed rules and regulations define and cover the various situations that continually develop. Copies of the various documents may be obtained at the City Document Room at City Hall.

I do not mean to imply that there is no room for improvement in the rules, or that amendments from time to time are not necessary. The Compensation Plan itself, however, provides the appropriate machinery to accomplish it.

COMPENSATION PLAN AS IT AFFECTS RETIREMENT

By Paul L. Carty,
Panelist

We have found that the adoption of the Compensation and Classification Grade Plan has greatly aided us with the administration of the retirement system.

With the adoption of this plan, we are able to give an employee an estimate of his retirement allowance much quicker.

I feel that this meeting gives me the opportunity to bring to your attention the following features in order to have the employees fully protected.

A membership blank and a beneficiary form should be on file, together with a birth record, and, in the case of a veteran, a copy of his discharge.

Beneficiary Forms

The 4 per cent system provides for a cash refund only to the widow or other beneficiary without court proceedings.

The 5 per cent system provides for a cash refund to the widow or a monthly allowance only for a widow, child, mother, father, or an unmarried or widowed sister.

We find that many widows or other eligible beneficiaries prefer a monthly allowance instead of a lump-sum payment. So you can see how important it is that this form be on file and up to date.

Termination Notices

Immediate notice to the Retirement Board of the resignation of an employee who is a member of the 5 per cent system should be given for these reasons.

Any employee who has at least fifteen years service and resigns because of ill health and is under fifty-five years of age may receive an ordinary disability allowance payable for life.

Any employee who resigns for a reason other than illness and has at least twenty years service and is under fifty-five years of age may receive a monthly allowance payable for life.

New Employees

Upon appointment, a new employee should complete a retirement membership blank and a beneficiary form and file it with a birth record at the Retirement Board.

The Retirement Board will supply membership blanks and beneficiary forms to those departments who have not made a practice of having employees who are newly appointed complete such forms.

Change of Name

When a female employee is married, the Retirement Board should be notified of this change of name immediately.

Since the laws governing the retirement systems are so often changed, it has been impossible to have printed pamphlets containing up-to-date accurate information concerning retirement.

If any of you have any questions concerning the Retirement System, please contact the Retirement Board and we shall be happy to explain the different phases of the system.

ON-THE-JOB TRAINING PROGRAM

By William T. Doyle,
Panelist

Today I would like to discuss with you the problem of "On-the-job Training for City of Boston Employees." This is perhaps a new theme in municipal administration, but it is equally as important as any subject that will be discussed at this symposium today.

Unlike industry, where pre-employment formal training programs have been developed, municipal administrations for too long a time have had to rely chiefly on the ability of employees to pass civil service examinations. It is for us now to establish and vigorously promote on-the-job training programs as a means of developing trained staffs. The present administration under Mayor Hynes has not overlooked the establishment and carrying out of training courses. There immediately come to my mind police and fire-fighting training courses. These organizations, however, so vital to municipal administration, cannot be thought of exactly in the same frame as civilian employees like ourselves, because police and fire fighters both belong to semimilitary organizations. There comes to mind the training program established by Commissioner Frank Kelley under the direction of Pat Ryan in the Park Department for recreational workers and the training of the security guards at the City Hospital and, outstandingly, I want to talk to you about the driver education training program established in the City of Boston five years ago by Commissioner William Arthur Reilly under the direction of Ted Hoppe of the Boston Traffic Commission. To my way of thinking, the benefits derived from this particular program have been so dramatic that it should teach and encourage all of us in the construction of our own respective training needs. This training program, it appears to me, could easily serve as a model for any other school which I now hope will be developed by the City of Boston. We are all interested in personnel who will be as efficient and conscientious in their respective assignments as any professional is in his work. To be a driver for the City of Boston today, one is graded on his aptitude, on good public relations, on his attitude toward alcohol, on his initiative in an emergency, and on a dozen other qualities.

About 15 per cent of all applicants, either new men or those who previously held the job, fail to make the grade. The other 85 per cent because of accident-free driving, receive the benefits of incentive awards. As of today, some 1,000 students have completed the course. For the past four years, 500 have driven accident free. As a result of all this careful training through fleet supervision, the City of Boston has saved hundreds of thousands of dollars in direct and indirect costs resulting from involvements in motor vehicle collisions. Specifically, five years ago it was not an uncommon thing to have the city fleet involved in upward of 550 accidents annually. Today that figure does not exceed 250 preventable accidents.

Flexible Program

Training of all city employees, therefore, I feel, must be given its proper importance. We can no longer apply rigid formulas to different people. We must develop types of training or develop levels of training that are basic. Our program must be flexible, and flexibility in this sense means that we must be prepared to use combinations of training methods depending on the nature of the subject, the time available, and the capabilities of the trainee.

Finally, the never to be forgotten fact is this—that any training program, to be successful, must include the trainer as well as the trainee.

I therefore respectfully suggest that consideration be given to the setting up of this type of program under the direction of our Director of Personnel, Mr. Foley, who, incidentally, while he has only been with us for a short period of time, has demonstrated that he is sympathetic to our problems and that he also wants to help us solve them.

Big Problem—Money

Finally, let us be practical. We all realize the financial condition of the city. We have the same problem that confronts every city and town all over the country—MONEY. Further, we realize that in Massachusetts cities with a population of 250,000 to 1,000,000 the number of employees engaged in common municipal function (excluding schools) shows Massachusetts with 146.3 per 10,000 population while the average of the United States as a whole is 105.9. We know that chances of getting new types of revenue are rather remote, so what can we do? I believe that the proper job training of employees will cut back the number of employees needed because of the efficiency that will be attained under this type of program. I further believe that this will result in better working conditions, better pay, and, above all, a better chance for the employees coming after us to be proud of the fact that they are equally as important as any other person working in private industry.

A BUDGETARY VIEWPOINT

By James B. Goldrick,
Panelist

The Budget Division is responsible for the preparation of the annual budgets and the supplementary budgets. It is further responsible for all subsequent revisions of any items in the budget. This division projects the costs of the management of the city, and submits its final analysis to the Mayor for his consideration. The Mayor, as chief executive, is vitally interested in the cost of the city government, and especially in the cost of personal services, which usually constitutes 60 per cent of the entire appropriation, including both city and county but no schools. It is his duty to tailor his estimates to fit the ability of the city to provide funds to pay these costs from its present income.

In the preparation of the budgets for submission to the Mayor, time is of the essence. The Classification and Compensation Plan has simplified the computation of the personal services appropriation, thereby speeding up the budgetary processes considerably.

The plan has reduced the number of anniversary dates for step-rates from 365 to 12. For example, prior to the plan, an anniversary date could fall on any one of the calendar days in the year; now however, an anniversary date falls during the first week of each month. The number of possible costs of increments has also been reduced from 1,095 to 48. These figures are obtained by multiplying the four costs of increments, for example, 2.50, 3.50, etc., by the number of anniversary dates. Under the present plan there are 35 different weekly salaries; under the old system there were 150.

The plan has also reduced the number of position classifications to 900.

The Classification and Compensation Plan has helped department heads to make recommendations affecting their employees and has assisted in the proper staffing of their departments. The establishment of the plan has resulted in fewer inequities and variations in compensation for positions with comparable duties and responsibilities.

The plan has provided an orderly and systematic approach to determining the relative work of jobs and has reduced or minimized the possibility of errors or inequities.

The Classification and Compensation Plan provided a sound basis for determining the salary differential for all positions.

The initial cost of installing the City Classification and Compensation Plan was about $3,500,000.

Facts and Figures

The Classification and Compensation Plan and pay schedule gives firm control to personal services expenditures. Here are a few facts relating to the personal services appropriation for the year 1956. The 1956 appropriation for city maintenance under control of the Mayor amounts to $101,600,000, and of this amount $55,200,000 was for personal services, or 54 per cent of the total appropriation, providing for 15,375 positions. The 1956 appropriation for income departments amounts to $3,600,000, and of this amount $2,000,000 was for personal services, or 57 per cent of the total appropriation, providing for 571 positions.

The 1956 appropriation for county maintenance amounts to $7,700,000, and of this amount $5,400,000 was for personal services, or 70 per cent of the total appropriation, providing for 1,218 positions. The number of employees under the City Compensation Plan totals 10,000.

The cost of salary adjustments in city departments in the 1956 appropriation for personal services is as follows:

The plan provides step-rate increases for 2,656 employees, amounting to $211,300.

The reduction of longevity step increments from ten and twenty years to seven and eleven years amounts to a total of $337,500.

The compensation of the 1,218 county employees is adjusted in the following manner:

There are 912 employees under the County Classification and Compensation Plan. The statutes adjusted the salary for 305 employees, and only one is set by ordinance.

The 1956 personal services appropriation for county departments provides the following allowances:

The plan provides step-rates for 328 employees, at a cost of $34,800. The reduction of longevity step increments for county employees amounts to $17,500.

Most Recent Amendments

The most recent amendments to the County Classification and Compensation Plan, effective October 1, 1956, based on a survey of consultants employed for this particular purpose, will cost about $54,000. This adjustment allows for an increase in salary for 176 employees.

The adoption of the City and County Classification Plans, I feel, has helped the departments in the preparation of their budget estimates for personal services; it also assists the Budget Division in making reports and recommendations of any changes and to project the costs of such proposals.

What is more important, it has improved the morale of the employee, since he knows what his opportunities are in grade and future promotions. This assurance has made him a more satisfied and efficient public employee.

The Compensation and Classification Plans, being flexible, may be amended when conditions warrant. This is a report of progress.

Office Survey

The Mayor, on November 23, approved the award of a contract without advertising, based on the following communication:

DEAR SIR:

The Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare has for some time been considering a survey or study of one of its district offices, such survey or study to be used as a prototype of respective duties in other district offices.

The aim of the study would be directed towards the adoption of procedures that would permit social workers to devote more time in the field visiting cases through the absorption of clerical duties by the clerical staff. The study will include a review of forms and the relation of the business activity to the social service activity.

A committee of the Board of Overseers has given careful consideration to the selection of a person to conduct such a survey and has selected, as best qualified in its opinion, the firm of Charles M. Evans & Associates, such survey to be conducted on a full-time basis during the month of December, 1956, at a cost not to exceed $2,000.

Because of the nature of the personal services to be performed, it is requested that the Board of Overseers of the Public Welfare in the City of Boston be authorized to engage the services of Charles M. Evans & Associates without advertising.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM F. LALLY,
Acting Secretary.

Referred to the Committee on Confirmations.

LOAN IN ANTICIPATION OF REVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 19, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

In accordance with the attached recommendation of the City Auditor, I submit herewith an order authorizing the issuance of temporary loans in anticipation of revenue in the amount of $15,000,000 to meet the city's financial requirements for the balance of the fiscal year. Such action is necessary as outlined in the letter of the City Auditor.

I respectfully recommend consideration and adoption of the order in question.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Auditing Department, November 16, 1956.
Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

Under date of December 28, 1955, I recommended to you that an order be submitted to the City Council for authorization of temporary loans in anticipation of revenue in the amount of $75,000,000, and such an order was adopted by the City Council on January 9, 1956. It is now quite certain that this authorization will not be sufficient for the financial requirements of the city for the remainder of the fiscal year and that an additional authorization of $15,000,000 will be necessary.

This situation has been brought about by three major factors: (1) the lateness of the mailing of bills because of unavoidable delay in the setting of the tax rate; (2) the fact that funds in the amount of $7,919,380 have not been forthcoming from the Massachusetts Port Authority, which amount was used as an estimated receipt in the computation of the tax rate; and (3) the increase in the operating expenses of the municipal government.

In regard to the lateness in mailing tax bills, payment was consequently delayed. A comparison of tax receipts of the 1955 and 1956 tax levies at comparable dates illustrates this quite conclusively.

DATE IN YEAR OF LEVY	RECEIPTS. LEVY OF 1955	LEVY OF 1956
September 30.....	$27,206,359	$20,192,924
October 15.....	$37,850,796	$42,176,755
October 31.....	$84,361,508	$83,465,069

Because receipts of the 1956 levy were running approximately $7,000,000 behind what would have been a normal percentage of the levy as of September 30, it was necessary to issue a temporary loan of $5,000,000 in August which ordinarily would not have been issued until November. As of September 30, 1956, $60,000,000 had been issued, and as of the same date in 1955, $55,000,000 had been issued.

It had been expected that transfer of the Sumner Traffic Tunnel to the Massachusetts Port Authority would have been consummated before now and consequently the amount of $7,919,380 would have been received for general funds of the city. However, the transfer has not taken place, and it will now be necessary to finance this anticipated revenue by means of a temporary loan.

Total appropriations and charges for fiscal year 1956 were $167,579,949, an increase of $11,291,233 over the 1955 total of $156,288,716. These increased operating expenses have resulted quite reasonably in an increase in the monthly average expenditure. None of these factors could have been foreseen when the recommendation was made.

By authority of section 4 of chapter 44 of the General Laws, the city could issue in 1956, in anticipation of revenue receipts, temporary loans which would not exceed in the aggregate the total tax levy of the fiscal year 1955 together with the corporation and income tax received from the Commonwealth during the same year. This would total approximately $117,500,000. In 1955 an authorization of $75,000,000 was made, and it was necessary to issue during the year temporary loans in the same amount. In 1956 an authorization of $75,000,000 was made, and as of this date $68,000,000 has been issued. It is now quite certain that an additional authorization of $15,000,000 should be made for the financial requirements of the city for the remainder of the year.

Immediate action is necessary, and I respectfully recommend that an order be submitted to the City Council for consideration and adoption.

Respectfully,
JOSEPH P. LALLY, City Auditor.

Ordered. That to provide temporarily money to meet the appropriations for the financial year 1956, the Collector-Treasurer be, and hereby is, authorized to issue and sell, at such times and in such amounts as he may deem best, notes or certificates of indebtedness of the City of Boston not exceeding $15,000,000 in the total, in anticipation of the revenue of the financial year; that all such notes or certificates of indebtedness be made payable with the interest thereon within one year of their date and bear interest from their date until the same are made payable at such rate as the Collector-Treasurer and the Mayor may determine. The said Collector-Treasurer is hereby further authorized to renew or refund any such notes issued for a shorter period than one year, under the provisions of section 17 of chapter 44 of the General Laws.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

ELECTRIC LIGHTS AND PAVEMENT ON CERTAIN DORCHESTER AND SOUTH BOSTON STREETS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 19, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication from the Public Works Commissioner concerning your order of October 29, 1956, relative to installing electric lights on the following streets: Cottage street, D street, Darius court, E street, Earl street, East Eighth street, East Ninth street, F street, Frederick street, Gustin street, Knowlton street, Lark street, Mercer street, Middle street, Mitchell street, Plummer place, Sayward place, Telegraph street, Tuckerman street, West Eighth street, West Ninth street, West Seventh street, Woodward street and having these streets or courts properly paved.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
November 9, 1956.

Harold B. Flemming,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Flemming:

This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of October 29:

"Ordered. That his Honor the Mayor request the Public Works Commissioner to install electric lights on the following streets: Cottage street, D street, Darius court, E street, Earl street, East Eighth street, East Ninth street, F street, Frederick street, Gustin street, Knowlton street, Lark street, Mercer street, Middle street, Mitchell street, Plummer place, Sayward place, Telegraph street, Tuckerman street, West Eighth street, West Ninth street, West Seventh street, Woodward street; and be it further ordered, That these streets or courts be properly paved."

A survey of the above-referenced streets will be made, and steps taken to provide for the effecting of whatever repairs are deemed necessary. Consideration will be given to including in the 1957 highway program those streets that need complete resurfacing.

The installation of modern electric street-lighting facilities in such a large number of streets cannot be accomplished within what might be considered a reasonable period, but you may be assured that we will do everything within reason to provide for the modernization of the street-lighting facilities in these streets as soon as possible, consistent with the carrying out of the city-wide program in connection with street-lighting modernization.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 19, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication from the Commissioner of Public Works concerning your order of October 29, 1956, relative to installing street lights on the following streets in Dorchester—Col. Michael McDonough Way, Dr. Michael Gavin Way, Gen. Lawrence J. Logan Way, Gen. William H. Devine Way, Henry Sterling square, Kemp street, Mon. Denis F. O'Callaghan Way, Carmody court, Carpenter court, Darius court, Dexter street, East Eighth street, East Ninth street, Ellery street, Gifford place, Glover court, Humboldt place, Jenkins street, Leeds street, Liberty place, Mercer street, Mohawk street, Patterson Way, Pilsudski Way, Preble street, Rev. Richard A. Burke street, Rogers street, Transit street, Trimount place, Vinton court, Ward court, Wendeller street, Woodward place—and having these streets or courts properly paved and resurfaced.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Public Works Department,
November 9, 1956.

Harold B. Flemming,
Chief Clerk, Mayor's Office.

Dear Mr. Flemming:

This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of October 29:

"Ordered. That his Honor the Mayor request the Public Works Commissioner to install street lights on the following streets in Dorchester: Col. Michael McDonough Way, Dr. Michael Gavin Way, Gen. Lawrence J. Logan Way, Gen. William H. Devine Way, Henry Sterling square, Kemp street, Mon. Denis F. O'Callaghan Way, Carmody court, Carpenter court, Darius court, Dexter street, East Eighth street, East Ninth street, Ellery street, Gifford place, Glover court, Humboldt place, Jenkins street, Leeds street, Liberty place, Mercer street, Mohawk street, Patterson Way, Pilsudski Way, Preble street, Rev. Richard A. Burke street, Rogers street, Transit street, Trimount place, Vinton court, Ward court, Wendeller street, Woodward place; and be it further ordered, That these streets or courts be properly paved and resurfaced."

Necessary repairs will be made to the above-referenced streets in the immediate future, and consideration will be given to including in the 1957 program those streets that should be completely reconstructed.

A street-lighting survey of said streets will also be made, and steps will be taken to provide for the modernization of the street-lighting facilities, having in mind, however, that we must, of necessity, conduct a street-lighting modernization program in all sections of the city. It is a physical impossibility, therefore, to effect all street-lighting improvements within what might be considered a reasonable length of time, as the Boston Edison Company can do a limited amount of this type of work annually, as said company has a serious problem in providing the number of cable spicers needed to carry out a major street-lighting program. However, we are making reasonable headway in the matter, and we have installed approximately 800 new electric street-lighting units this year in place of gas lights. However, we still have approximately 2,700 gas lights in the various public streets throughout the city.

Respectfully yours,
GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 19, 1956.

Dear Mr. Flemming:

This is in reference to the following order that was passed in the City Council under date of October 29:

Steps will be taken to provide for the conducting of a street-lighting survey in all of the above-referenced streets, and I trust that we will be able to provide for the improvement of existing facilities as soon as possible.

TRANSFER OF LAND, EAST BOSTON, TO REAL PROPERTY DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 15, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication of Commissioner Frank R. Kelley of the Parks and Recreation Department recommending the transfer of the property at 32 Orleans street, East Boston, to the Real Property Department.

I enclose proposed form of order whereby this property may be transferred from the care, custody, control, and management of the Parks and Recreation Department to the care, custody, control, and management of the Commissioner of Real Property.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Parks and Recreation Department,
October 15, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

It is respectfully requested that you prepare an order on the City Council transferring 1,068 square feet of land located at 32 Orleans street, East Boston, from the Parks and Recreation Department to the Real Property Division.

This parcel of land is the balance remaining from a lot sold on September 30, 1941. Because of its small size the area is of no use to this department for park or playground purposes. At a meeting of the Parks and Recreation Commission held on October 9, 1956, it was voted to request its transfer to the Real Property Division.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK R. KELLEY, Commissioner.

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of approximately 1,068 square feet of land located on the northwesterly side of Orleans street, being numbered 32 in the numbering of said Orleans street, in the East Boston district of the City of Boston, held by the city for park or playground purposes; and

Whereas, The Commissioner of Parks and Recreation has determined that the above-mentioned parcel of land is no longer required for Parks and Recreation Department purposes; and

Whereas, The Real Property Board desires to sell said parcel of land; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That the above-mentioned parcel of land be, and the same hereby is, transferred from the care, custody, control, and management of the Parks and Recreation Department to the care, custody, control, and management of the Commissioner of Real Property.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

SURVEY OF MECHANICAL GARAGE SYSTEMS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 19, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

In the order adopted by your Honorable Body on October 29, a request was made that I appoint an engineering expert or experts to make a survey of all mechanical garage systems operating throughout the country.

With respect to this request it has come to my attention that just such a study is now being made by the American Society of Mechanical Engineers and the American Standards Association, and another similar study by the Eno Foundation for traffic control. I am requesting the Director of Administrative Services to make arrangements to receive copies of these survey reports when they are available.

With further reference to the City Council order, I believe it may be advisable to assign one member of the City Planning Board staff to off-street parking studies. It is my purpose to augment the present staff of the City Planning Board this year, if competent planners are available.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

On motion of Councillor Piemonte, the foregoing message was referred to the Executive Committee.

Whereas, The use of said machines for any purpose other than pure amusement is contrary to public policy and detrimental to the morals and well-being of the community; therefore, be it

Whereas, The Boston City Council has for many years been urging and emphasizing the necessity of creating and filling positions in the Planning Department involving a high level of compensation and professional capacity; be it, therefore,

Resolved, That the Boston City Council hereby reiterates its position that Boston planning problems are presently of such magnitude as to warrant the engagement of the best professional planners in the United States on a full-time basis; and be it further

MAYOR HYNES RECOMMENDS STATE SALES TAX

Mayor John B. Hynes, on December 5, made his first public declaration for the adoption of a state-wide general sales tax. The Mayor made his statement as he submitted to the 1957 session of the Massachusetts Legislature 26 separate proposals for legislation aimed toward assisting the city administration in its program for greater efficiency and future development of municipal services.

The Mayor stated as follows:

Because I have found that the general sales tax issue will be brought before the 1957 legislative session in several bills, I am not filing a bill on this subject.

My decision to omit this proposal from my legislative program does not mean that my belief in the necessity for this additional tax revenue to relieve the increasingly serious plight of property owners in the state has diminished in any way. In fact, I am more convinced than ever that in the interest of sound government, the continued solvency of our cities and towns, and the economic welfare of our great Commonwealth, the adoption of a general sales tax is essential and it is inevitable. The longer we temporize with the fiscal problems of our municipalities and resort to palliatives, the more difficult will be the task of solution.

This is an issue in which all city and town governments have common cause. It does not concern the large urban centers alone, although at this time they have arrived at a stage where their needs for property tax relief are more acute. But even the smaller and more prosperous communities that have benefited from the urban exodus are finding themselves caught in the revenue squeeze. They will soon reach the same fiscal dilemma as the larger communities that have not shared the same prosperity.

This year the average tax rate of all municipalities in the state has topped $61. Ten short years ago it was $37.75. While substantial new taxable values have been created in the postwar period, they have been inadequate to prevent this large tax rate increase.

The future holds out little hope of checking the constantly heavier tax drain on real estate. The greater demands upon our municipal governments, which an increasing population, expanding economy, higher living costs, and greater social responsibilities have imposed, are certain to send municipal expenditures even higher. As living costs rise, wages and salaries of municipal employees must be adjusted. Our best efforts to cut costs by prudent and more efficient administration cannot compensate for these greater obligations ahead. And our tax structure in this Commonwealth is arranged so that municipalities have nowhere to go for the necessary additional revenues other than increasing the property tax on home owners and commercial and industrial enterprises.

This cannot be allowed to continue, for it has already gone on too long. A larger new revenue source must be found to finance our city and town governments. There is no practical alternative. If we fail to act now, we are liable to pay far more in a crippling of our governmental services and an economic blight which will have a damaging effect on jobs and pay-rolls.

I am most reluctant to advocate any new tax source, but I have no choice. We must meet our responsibilities of government, and we must give the property owner a large measure of relief from an intolerable tax burden.

I am supporting the general sales tax because I am not convinced that there is any other source which will produce sufficient funds to meet our needs. It has proved to be a satisfactory source of revenue in thirty-four states. It is the largest single source of state-imposed taxes in the country today, producing over three billion dollars annually.

There are many problems connected with the preparation of a good general sales tax law, including those of exemptions, administration and collection, reasonable guarantee of property tax relief, and, most important, all the equitable distribution of the proceeds. These problems demand careful study, but I am confident that they can be worked out satisfactorily.

I intend to work for adoption of a general sales tax and to help in creating an acceptable law. I am hopeful that other municipal officials and taxpayers throughout the state will join in this effort.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean;
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

PROCEDURAL MANUAL FOR CITY DEPARTMENTS EXPLAINED

III

This is the third in a series of six reports of a recent two-day Boston Municipal Administration Conference in which 200 key city employees participated.

Composition and use of the Procedural Manual, a new program now under way in most city departments as an instrument of employee training and administrative appraisal, was discussed at the first Conference on Municipal Administration recently, under the general chairmanship of John A. Breen, Director of Administrative Services.

Charles J. Fox, former Director of Administrative Services and former City Auditor, now retired, acted as moderator. The four panelists were: Lawrence W. Costello, administrative secretary, Administrative Services Department, whose topic was "Work Simplification"; James W. Haley, chief engineer, Survey Division, Department of Public Works, who spoke on "The Organization Chart"; Joseph R. Hynes, assistant executive secretary, Parks and Recreation Department, who discussed "The Value of Manuals to Employees"; and William J. Lally, business agent, Welfare Department, who presented a discussion on "Employee Training."

REMARKS OF CHARLES J. FOX, MODERATOR

According to dictionaries I have consulted, it would appear that my responsibility as moderator at this conference session is to moderate or reduce the intensity of the discussions and to constrain the participants from excess. In view of the lateness of the hour and the fact that this is the fourth and final panel of the day, I am inclined to the view that, as presiding officer, it will not be necessary for me to exercise a heavy hand. Under the circumstances, I believe the most salutary contribution I can make to this session, in my role as moderator, is to expedite its conduct.

At the beginning of any discussion, it is desirable that there should be "a meeting of the minds" on the subject to be considered. I feel justified, therefore, in posing the question "What is a procedural manual?" The lexicographers have defined procedure as "a course or mode of action or conduct" and a manual as "a book of instructions or directions." In the type of administration that we are particularly interested in, therefore, it would appear that we could describe the subject of our discussion as a compilation of instructions and directions relating to the conduct of a municipal activity or function. The course of action set forth in such a publication would include a statement of the purpose and scope of the activity, an outline of the duties of each position required for the carrying out of the purpose, and a description of the forms and records and the procedures used in maintaining them. The use of organizational charts is a most effective medium in setting forth the purpose and scope of activity, as well as the personnel involved. In connection with forms and records, pictures, sample entries, and flow charts are certain to enhance the value of the presentation.

Requires Effort

Admittedly, the preparation of a manual requires much time and effort. Because of this fact many administrators are inclined to be skeptical as to their value. They are apt to claim they are getting along very well without manuals, that they don't have the time to prepare them, that employees will not use them anyway since they are familiar with departmental procedures and methods, and, finally, that any changes or additions to existing procedures can be covered by the issuance of memoranda or bulletins. Is such an attitude sound and intelligent?

Municipal administration today is too technical and complex for even the administrator, and particularly the supervisor and subordinate, who rely upon memory alone. As we are all aware, memory is short at best, and, as one advances in years, the power of retention weakens and very often fades completely. When forgetfulness attacks an individual, it is a human failing to avoid a public display of such weakness, with the result that taking a chance will often result in mistakes and non-compliance with official and correct procedure. Such happenings could be prevented, without any loss of face, by quick reference to a well-organized and well-indexed manual.

Employee turnover is more rapid today than in former years. Training of new employees is more or less a constant and continuing problem. The availability of comprehensive written instructions and directions to guide these new entrants is a tremendous aid to a smooth and rapid assimilation of duties. Memoranda and bulletins are, at best, short-lived. Too often are they unrelated, overlapping, and conflicting. As individual issues, more often than not they become mislaid and lost. In actual practice, manual changes are covered by a letter of transmittal, identifying the area of the existing manual affected, the place in the binder where the new matter is to be inserted, and the resulting index changes to be made. When the transmittal instructions have been carried out, the manual is not only current but all-embracing with regard to existing procedures. In passing, it may be stated that a manual contains all the significant information needed by the top administrator, so that a successor can take over on short notice and secure, without undue delay, a clear understanding of policies, activities, and procedures.

A Valuable Tool

Experts in the fields of business and industrial administration are agreed that efficiency of office work has not increased with anything like the rapidity with which efficiency in factory production has progressed. The reason is obvious - factory operations, after careful

Legislative Program of Mayor Hynes in Dec. 15 Issue

Twenty-six separate pieces of proposed legislation were submitted on December 5 to the Massachusetts Legislature by Mayor John B. Hynes.

These bills covered many phases of municipal administration. Included among them was a measure to enable the City of Boston to borrow money outside the debt limit in furtherance of the proposed new government center in the Scollay-Dock Square area, including the building of a new city hall.

The text of all 26 bills, together with commentary by the Mayor, will be published in the City Record, issue of December 15.

study and measurement, have been arranged on an "assembly" basis, so that each individual action is scheduled at the proper time and place and is complementary to its predecessor. A procedural manual is the result of assembling, in their proper order and relation, instructions and directions for the conduct of a specific activity or function. The existence and availability of such a tool is bound to improve efficiency in municipal operations.

"WORK SIMPLIFICATION"

By Lawrence W. Costello,
Panelist

At the outset, I would like to thank all those who have been so cooperative in completing their procedural manuals and submitting the same to us during the past month. We have not had an opportunity to edit each and every one, but, nevertheless, the manuscripts submitted indicate a sincere and conscientious effort on your part to do a first-class job, and you are to be congratulated. Other departments, which have not finished their manuals as yet, should endeavor to do so before the end of the year, because we will have a long and arduous task after the first of the year to amend and correct all manuscripts where omissions or other unintended errors might appear.

I realize that you are now in the midst of budget preparations for 1957, but if you could make a special effort to complete your manual at an early date it would be most helpful to us. I am quite certain, when your amended copy is returned, it will prove most helpful to you in the future. Incidentally, if the copies already received are an example of what we might expect from other departments, I have no hesitancy in stating that we will have one of the most comprehensive manuals to be found in the country. An example of good manual composition is on display here today — the manual of the Boston Fire Department, one of our larger departments.

A Fund of Information

Now to the subject at hand. I cannot visualize, for the moment at least, any argument being advanced against the values and uses of manuals, as this phase of the subject has been handled aptly by the previous speaker, our moderator. When Mr. Fox initiated this work in 1955 and asked that I compile a manual for the Administrative Services Department, I figured that this would be an easy task. The department was newly organized — I thought I had a fairly good knowledge of what was being accomplished by the various divisions within the department and believed it would be a simple matter for me to place in black and white a description of departmental functions and operations. Being optimistic, I had hopes of having a finished copy within two weeks. However, it took me three months to assemble the information and data contained in the sample manual which was distributed at our meeting of June 27. I assure you that I learned a great deal about my own department, of which I thought I knew about everything prior to the day the words "procedural manual" were first mentioned.

Work simplification is one of the more important features or advantages of a procedural manual. Perhaps the principal value of a manual is to know that you have a reference book to which you may refer for information regarding the operations of your department, and which, in itself, results in substantial savings of your time and the time of other individuals concerned. From experience I have found that there are many employees within a division of a department who are unfamiliar with the work being performed by a fellow employee working next to him. If this condition exists on a divisional level, you can imagine how much the same individual knows about operations on a departmental level. This is one example of where a procedural manual contributes towards work simplification.

Unaware of Conditions

An interesting question was posed at one of our panel meetings recently and I believe it might be possible that other individuals might be asking themselves the same question. The question was — "Why should the Administrative Services Department be interested in procedures being followed within the divisions of another department, and what is the primary purpose of the manual upon which you are now working?" Well, the first part of the question can be answered very easily. Under the ordinance as established in the latter part of 1953, the department is entrusted with the responsibility of making studies and recommendations with respect to the organization, activities, policies, and procedures of all departments within the city government. The second part of the question can be answered by stating that we know of no simpler method to secure the information required — in order to comply with the intent of the ordinance — than by having in our possession organizational charts, activities, policies, and procedures listed in some form or other. So the answer was the procedural manual. We cannot go ahead and improve existing conditions if we are unaware of what the existing conditions are. Common sense tells us that it would be an expensive and unpopular proposition to assign several men to poke into each department and its separate divisions to secure information and data with which the key personnel of a division or department are generally familiar and which information, unfortunately, they do not have in written form at the present time.

Loose-Leaf Method

Our initial work, as you will note, is prepared in loose-leaf form so that changes can be made very easily once it is found that an existing procedure is obsolete and another procedure will improve performance and simplify work. A change in organization might result in a smoother running of operations within a division or department, and, after such a change has been effected, it is a simple matter to remove the previous chart and write-up and replace it with the new. We must remember that a manual does not, or, I should say, should not, "freeze" procedures; rather, it can

City Adopts New Schedule of Fees

The new ordinance revising the schedule of fees to be charged for the various city licenses, permits, and special services was passed by the Boston City Council on November 27 and signed by Mayor Hynes on November 28. The new schedule of fees became effective as of December 1.

The full text of the new schedule of fees, as passed by the City Council and signed by the Mayor, is published in the minutes of the City Council in this issue of the City Record.

and should be the means for continuous and beneficial change. The mere existence of a manual is an incentive for future and continuous work simplification. Our present manuals, when completed, will be the basis and foundation for future improvements in our entire administrative policies.

We cannot expect the Mayor or a department head to devote valuable time to make our daily tasks a little easier—that is our responsibility—and if we can come up with a constructive suggestion, after analyzing and studying present policies and procedures within a department, we are going to minimize our work load, increase efficiency, and improve relations among our fellow employees and the general public.

Just as important as achieving greater work simplification, through preparation of a manual, is maintaining these gains. Without a manual to induce compliance with new procedures over an indefinite period of time, carelessness becomes the order of the day; disinterest in one's work becomes a habit, and the gains of work simplification are substantially reduced. A successful organization is not built on a "let the other fellow do it" attitude. A manual such as we are compiling at the present time should do much to correct some of these tendencies that now exist, and will be essential to the preservation of the gains of work simplification.

"THE ORGANIZATION CHART"

By James W. Haley,
Panelist

Back many centuries ago an old Chinaman decided that civilization had advanced sufficiently to justify the creation of an engineering profession. To prepare the world for our arrival, this old Chinaman uttered that now ancient proverb about "one picture" being worth "a thousand words."

Whatever logic there might be behind his proverb, and I'm sure you'll all agree there is some, is well illustrated by an organization chart. The organization chart is intended to show, in graphic form, the arrangement or grouping of the various units of any establishment such as a business, school, a club, or, in our case, a government. A well-drawn chart should illustrate two basic points: (1) the various functions of the organization and (2) the channels of responsibility. Charts frequently go beyond these two points, showing personnel, equipment, property, location, geographical divisions, etc., but such charts show so much detail that the original purpose of illustrating functions and responsibilities is likely to become confused and obscure.

I mention this before discussing the preparation of a chart because we find that most of the difficulty in preparing a chart stems from attempting too much detail. Organizations are usually developed in one of two ways. The first is by growth or expansion of a small unit. The second is by grouping or amalgamating existing units. A growth organization begins with a "boss" and several employees working under the boss's direct supervision. As the business grows, more employees are hired, and the boss can no longer directly supervise everyone. He appoints assistants and begins assigning employees to units performing similar or comparable tasks. These units become departments. Later, the departments become too large for individual supervision and in turn are subdivided into divisions; and so on—divisions into sections and sections into subsections.

The "Line" Organization

In the case of an organization formed by joining or grouping together smaller units, the process of organization is reversed; that is, the smaller units with related functions are joined together into sections, sections together into divisions, and so on to establish the top level of management.

Formed by either process, such a type of organization is commonly called a line organization because of the direct line up or down from unit to unit, clearly establishing the claim of authority and responsibility. There are several other basic types of organization in addition to the line type. These include the staff type, the line and staff type, and the committee type. The staff type is an organizational structure which emphasizes specialization at the intermediate management levels but at the sacrifice of clear-cut assignment of responsibility. The line and staff type, as the title implies, is a combination of the first two. This type was devised to combine the advantage of the direct channel of responsibility and authority of the line organization with the advantage of the specialist at the intermediate management level of the staff organization. Most large or complex organizations today follow the line and staff plan. Our city government organization chart (copies of which have been distributed) is a good example of this type with the operating departments such as Fire, Hospital, Health, Public Works, as purely line units, whereas the Administrative Services, Law Department, and Planning Board are staff.

The "Committee Type"

A fourth kind of organization is the committee type. This is basically a line and staff form with particular units headed by committees rather than individuals. It is not popular, but has worked out to advantage in some federal government agencies, universities, and public institutions. Its principal advantage over other types is in permitting a high degree of cooperation and coordination at the intermediate supervising level. But its disadvantages are that it creates a division of responsibility, a division weakened by compromises, and its

Edward W. Fallon

State and city leaders and law enforcement officials paid final respects to Boston Police Superintendent Edward W. Fallon who died on December 3.

Mayor Hynes issued this statement:

"I am saddened to learn of the death of Superintendent of Police Edward Fallon, whom I have known and admired for over thirty years. Superintendent Fallon was, in all truth, one of Boston's finest. He was both able and honorable. He was devoted to duty. He was respected by the men of his department, and by the general public. He was an uncompromising foe of the hardened and vicious criminal. We shall miss him here in Boston. My deep sympathy goes out to Mrs. Fallon and all the members of the Fallon family."

Superintendent Fallon was first appointed a patrolman on November 19, 1919. He was promoted to sergeant on December 4, 1924, to captain on October 17, 1931, to acting superintendent on April 9, 1936, and to the post of superintendent on September 17, 1936.

constant committee meetings waste valuable time.

Continuing Effort

Unfortunately, most organizations are not planned. They begin small and simple, with common sense dictating the arranging of tasks and assignment of supervision. As they grow, they progress through stages of reorganization, with each stage emphasizing further the advantages of more careful organizational planning.

Many of the functions of the Boston city government have been carried on for over one hundred years. As an old city, we have more or less developed through a series of reorganizations. No doubt in the former reorganization there was as much improvising as in the most recent one. But in an organization like the city, with such a variety of functions, complicated by innumerable governing statutes, no single streamline organization could ever be achieved. Nevertheless, I wish that some continuing effort could be carried on to simplify the city organization at every level. One of the principal uses of a good organization chart is in employee training. To understand his job, the worker must not only be trained in his particular duties, but must be given a clear understanding of where he fits into the over-all picture. Also, it is most important that employees in operating departments understand the work of staff departments, and those in staff departments should know the function of operating departments. The workings of operating departments performing related functions should be understood by all of the employees of those departments, and education by reference to the organization chart is both efficient and practical.

Good organization charts are of real value also in budget preparation, especially programming; in personnel studies; and in capital improvement planning. But, to my mind, of all its many uses, the greatest value to be derived from a well-drawn and officially approved organization chart is the establishment of clear-cut levels of supervisory responsibility—each level fortified by no more and no less authority than the position requires.

"THE VALUE OF MANUALS"

By Joseph R. Hynes,
Panelist

First let us see how Webster defines the word "manual." "It is a small book, or handbook." I would like to start by saying that is just what we are striving for within the network of each department—a manual that will eliminate the old bugaboo, red tape, which is so prevalent within any large organization, whether private or municipal. The product of this endeavor will not be an attempt to establish procedures or to restrict practices in minute details. To do so at the outset would defeat the purpose for which we are striving. This manual should be a concise, simplified handbook of the proper functions of the department concerned. It should and would eliminate the need of an employee going to another employee or to a supervisor in the quest of information, thereby wasting valuable time for himself and the time of the person or persons whom he might consult.

There will probably be some resentment on the part of some employees for having to consult a manual. Objections of this kind are natural, and therefore care and judgment should be exercised in determining the amount of detail and charts that should be contained in a manual. In fact, a good concise manual will give the correct information more readily, as a rule, and without taking the precious time of others. Also, it will make the employee self-sufficient and more capable in his or her position. In attempting to bring about this innovation, we are looking not only to the present, but to the future, in order that a manual will help not only those now employed, but those who will come along to take our places. Some of us here present know how difficult it was to obtain information—yes, even drag it—from the old guard. This should not be, and, with this manual at the disposal of all, it will not be. It will aid all, not only in their own positions, but it will give them a working knowledge of the entire department. In the event questions are asked, this manual would have a double purpose. If an employee should be interested in a specific civil service examination, he would have at least a general idea of the requirements for the position called for in the examination. It is not beyond the realm of possibility that he may have the opportunity of transferring to another department, and, by utilizing this manual, he would have a good start and would be in a position to take over new duties with greater speed and greater ease. Do you know that in some cases, if an employee were to transfer from one division to another within the network of his own department, he would be unfamiliar with procedures because each division has its own manner of operations? But if a manual had been available and had been perused by the employee before going to the new position, he would have at least the basic knowledge necessary to assume his new duties.

Used in Private Industry

It is a known fact that most private organizations have manuals or an operation procedure. These manuals were not drawn up overnight. These organizations have spent considerable time and money to determine operation technique. Therefore, if it is important for business, it is important for us. Too long have municipalities throughout the country been functioning without standard plans of procedures. If some of us present left the employ of the city and transferred to private business, the indoctrination period would be less difficult for all concerned, and this could be attributed to the using of one of these manuals. Further, it would make each and every one of us feel as though we are part of the changing scene that is going on around us at all times. Being part of our government is something that has been noticeably missing for years. Even after many years of service, some of us do not know the complete function of our departments, which is a very unhealthy position for all of us to be in.

In closing, let me say that the steps being taken are ones that we all feel should have been taken years ago. It is a step forward—and will ultimately result in making our city a leader in municipal management and our employee morale an example for all.

"EMPLOYEE TRAINING"

By William J. Lally,
Panelist

Certainly, we engaged in municipal administration recognize full well that employee training is not new. It has been in effect since there existed experienced supervisors and inexperienced workers, but, somehow or other, successfully qualifying for a position in city or state service seems to impart an aura of omniscience—that he who is hired is fully aware of the scope of his or her position. NOTHING COULD BE FURTHER FROM THE TRUTH.

Like all commercial and industrial organizations, special training for employees, conducted within our organization, is a development having its origin in sheer necessity.

Let us say that civil service qualification recognizes an aptitude which needs nurture and development within our individual organizations, and with the technological and social progress so evident in our municipal administration, and with increased emphasis placed by management on such activities as accident prevention, the creation of public good will and the improvement of employee performance generally, it has been found necessary to carry on—either continuously or intermittently—some sort of employee training.

Again, of necessity, much of the training received by any employee comes directly from the supervisor on the job, and such informal instruction often is an essential routine part of getting out production, but it must be remembered that good supervision is perhaps the most essential element in the development of staff in effective administration.

New Methods a "Must"

To a considerable extent, the value of any supervisor to his employer depends on his ability to impart to his subordinates additional knowledge and skills, which will improve the quality and quantity of output. Efficacy is entirely dependent upon the ability of the individual supervisor to impart knowledge quickly and accurately without interference with his supervisory duties, but when the results obtained from this sort of supervisory on-the-job training are entirely satisfactory, it is a mistake to substitute any other type of instruction.

Recognizing the diversity of our departmental operations, it is extremely difficult, if not impossible, to prepare a detailed city-wide program of either the so-called "in-service" training or "on-the-job" training program, one that would embrace the involved functions of each and every department. Hence, it evolves on each administrative department head, through his supervisory staff, to inaugurate individual specialized training programs which can only be performed by men and women who have received special training and who possess special skills in the methods and processes in effect in their respective departments.

In early days of employee training, training methods adopted were those in effect in schools and colleges. This was perfectly natural, inasmuch as we all have the same background, that of the school-room, but experience has taught that classroom methods were not particularly successful. We in city employ would probably not find this a successful training method—particularly because of the maturity of the students, and probably because of their reluctance to be taught anything, however interested they are in learning new methods—and I am reasonably sure that it would be found both impractical and ineffective to lecture to them on many subjects connected with their work. It therefore becomes necessary for those responsible for the administration of employee training to develop new methods.

"Tremendous Opportunity"

We all have full recognition of the functions of our respective departments, and I dare say that every city employee knows, to a great extent, his or her department's capabilities and its limitations, and now that far-sighted administrators have recognized a sorely needed tool of administration—departmental manuals—we will have one of our most valuable tools for training employees in the policies of our organization and their correct applications to individual situations. In fact, well-prepared manuals tend to make instructions self-executing and greatly reduce the burden of supervision. It is not, however, enough to merely issue the manual and sit back and rest. A tremendous opportunity is lost if an aggressive training program is not adopted.

Employee Training

Training of employees can be achieved in several ways:

FIRST.—Selected employees should participate in the development of the manual. They will offer information concerning existing procedures—their ideas for improvement in procedures and forms.

SECOND.—Issuance of a part of the manual should be used as an opportunity for a training conference with all employees concerned with the activities and procedures described. These conferences serve to introduce the new tool and, quite naturally, result in its more efficient use.

LAST.—Regular conferences should be held after the completed manual is released to solve procedural problems and to determine what improvements can be made in existing practices.

It must be emphasized that in all conferences participation of subordinates should be stressed to the maximum extent possible—for only in this way can two-way communication be established.

Special emphasis should be given to the training of new employees in the use of the manuals covering their particular phase of the work. They should be introduced to the manual as part of an orientation program and be advised of the person or persons who can best answer questions that may arise. The same general processes may be applied to employees newly transferred to duties involving use of manuals.

As I have already stated, our interests and activities are so diversified and so totally unrelated, no one manual could successfully apply as a training device. We must, in each department, train for our specialized purpose. Yet those responsible for personnel administration and financial administration in our city government have a special training responsibility. Theirs is the responsibility for a general set of rules to apply to all city departments, because personnel administration has general application to all city departments. It must follow that it is their responsibility to train in such matters as come within their scope of responsibility, and, in order to accomplish this, continuous functional supervision is required. This same theory has application to financial matters that have broad general application and apply equally as well to all city departments, and, to accomplish this objective, the use of a city-wide procedural manual is a MUST.

Efficiency Aid

Although employee training has progressed markedly in efficiency and beneficial effects since its inception, I have merely touched upon the subject and its value, and it would be useless to deny that much employee training heretofore has perhaps been poor. Too often elaborate training programs have been set up which appeared impressive to both the training men and management but which failed to impress the employees. On paper these educational projects seemed formidable and the progress reports submitted brimmed with optimism, but, somehow or other, the entire effort was productive of little or no improvement in employee performance — perhaps because of impatience with the workable functions of the plan, perhaps because of the employees' realization of the supervisor's lack of confidence in the plan, or perhaps just because the two-way communication between supervisor and employee had not been established.

Whatever the approach may be, we must recognize that "in-service" training, "on-the-job" training, employee training — call it what you will — is a vital and inherent part of every supervisor's and every administrator's job, and it must be remembered that it can never be successful if it is offered as a gesture of benevolence. We can only attain our ultimate goal if we increase the individual's effectiveness, his understanding, and his resulting contribution to the city.

SNOW CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR DISTRICTS 11 AND 13

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

The Mayor, on November 19, approved the award of snow removal contracts for Public Works Department Areas 11 and 13 as follows:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Your approval is respectfully requested to the award of contracts for removing snow during the 1956-1957 winter period to the following contractors in Areas 11 and 13, at the price per cubic yard designated:

John M. Cashman, Area 11, 80 cents per cubic yard; J. F. Stack & Company, Area 13, 95 cents per cubic yard.

The above contractors, in my opinion, represent the best qualified bidders who have sufficient experience, organization, and equipment to do the required work and it is in the best interest of the city that the contracts be awarded as recommended. Likewise, we are following our usual policy of awarding only one district to each contractor.

It is understood that the contract will expire on March 31, 1957. Under the provisions of chapter 182 of the Acts of 1951, contracts may be awarded in a current year for the first three months of the succeeding year as long as said contracts affecting the latter-referenced period are awarded "upon like or more favorable terms and conditions" than the contract in effect in a current year. The above-referenced proposed snow removal contracts comply with the terms of chapter 182 in that they are being awarded for the months of January, February, and March of 1957 under the same terms and conditions in effect during the current year.

The above prices represent bids that were opened in this office November 1, 1956, after publicly advertising for proposals in the City Record issue of October 20, 1956. Attached hereto is list of bids received in the above districts:

Bids were as follows:

Area 11.

The Mayor, on November 30, approved the award of a contract for the demolition of six reinforced concrete filtration tanks, one brick gatehouse, and one brick house located in the Gardner Street dump in West Roxbury, to Dooley Brothers, Inc., the second lowest bidder, in the amount of $4,300.

The bids as submitted were:

Wright's Contracting Company, $1,225; Dooley Brothers, Inc., $4,300; Maher & Fall Wrecking Company, $6,300; John J. Duane Company, $6,800; C. A. Foley, $6,898; James Scimone, $7,190; John M. Cashman, $10,900; Albany Contracting Company, $14,033; D. F. Frangioso &

Company, $15,475; Central Building Wrecking Company, $23,750.

In connection with the award the Public Works Commissioner submitted the following explanation:

"The bid submitted by the low bidder was so much lower than that of the second bidder, that I held a conference with the bidder, James C. Wright, Jr. I informed him that in our opinion the bid was too low and that the work could not be done without his suffering a substantial financial loss, as we estimated that it would cost approximately $7,000 to do the work. He informed me that he did not have much experience in general contracting work, but that he had done demolition work and he figured that he could do the work for the bid submitted. He further informed me that he had contacted a representative of his bonding company and he was informed that a performance bond would be furnished by the bonding company.

"Thereupon, I informed him that I would recommend the award of the contract, although my better judgment dictated that the work could not possibly be done for the price submitted.

"Several days after my first conference, Mr. Wright called at this office and stated that he wished to withdraw the bid as the bonding company would not issue a performance bond to him. Under the circumstances, it is my unqualified opinion that the contract should be awarded to the second bidder, Dooley Brothers, Inc., at the lump sum bid price of $4,300, which you will note is substantially lower than the price submitted by the third bidder.

"In a case of this kind, it would be unethical on our part to reject all bids unless we were of the opinion that the bid of the second low bidder was unreasonable. In this particular case, however, the bid of the Dooley Brothers, Inc., not only is very reasonable, but substantially less than the bid of the third bidder and a great deal less than the average of the bids submitted by all other bidders.

"For these reasons, therefore, I respectfully recommend that the bid in the amount of $1,225 submitted by the low bidder be rejected and that a contract in the amount of $4,300 be awarded to the second low bidder, Dooley Brothers, Inc., for performing the work provided under the provisions of the governing contract document. The latter contractor has the physical and financial resources that the low bidder lacked and I am certain that the work will be done in a satisfactory and workmanlike manner. It unquestionably is in the best interest of the city to award the contract to the Dooley Brothers, Inc."

CLAIMS APPROVED

The Mayor, on recommendation of the Corporation Counsel, has approved the following votes of the Committee on Claims:

Settlement of the claim of Anne Marie Pascarelli, a minor, by her father, R. Francis Pascarelli, 46 Larchmont street, Dorchester, for compensation for personal injuries caused by a hole in the sidewalk in front of 3 School street, Dorchester, December 28, 1955, by payment of the sum of $450.

CONTRACTS AWARDED WITHOUT ADVERTISING

Emergency Work

The Mayor, on November 19, approved the following:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On September 6, 1956, your Honor approved a letter of award for a contract in the sum of $2,500 with Stanton Electrical Company, Inc., for electrical work in the Printing Section to make a room available for storage of addressograph plates.

In the original letter, I inadvertently neglected to set forth the urgency of having this work completed immediately in order that the room may be ready to receive, file, and store completed addressograph plates which will be received in the near future from the Addressograph Company in New Jersey. It is for this reason that in the original letter dated August 29, 1956, I requested permission to award the contract for the electrical work to the Stanton Electrical Company, Inc., without public advertisement.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN V. MORAN,
Purchasing Agent.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT.

Amendment of Contract

The Mayor, on November 29, approved the following:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On October 29, 1956, your Honor approved entering into a contract with Wallace B. Orpin, 1381 Commonwealth avenue, Brighton, Mass., for full engineering services in connection with the preparation of plans and specifications for the construction of additional parking facilities, Boston City Hospital.

The letter dated October 11, 1956, requesting that authorization recited in part that the proposed fee was to be 5 per cent of the full amount of the work.

At this time I would like to amend the aforementioned communication to indicate that the proposed fee is intended to be 5 per cent of the total construction cost, provided, nevertheless, that in no event is the total fee to be paid to exceed the sum of $1,000.

RICHARD J. CONDON,
President.

PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT.

Convenience Stations

DEAR SIR:

I respectfully request your permission to renew the agreement with the American Coin Lock Company, Inc., of Pawtucket, Rhode Island, for the operation of convenience stations on Boston Common for another one-year period beginning November 1, 1956, and ending October 31, 1957, subject to termination of any licensed rights and privileges contained in the agreement that may be required by construction of a garage under Boston Common.

The company furnishes and pays for eight attendants to maintain the convenience stations on the Common, at Park street, West street, and Flagstaff Hill, and furnishes all supplies and equipment for the cleaning and servicing of the stations.

The city pays for this service the sum of $4,500 per year, and the company retains the receipts of the coin locks.

If the Parks and Recreation Department were to operate these stations, the salaries alone for eight attendants would be approximately $22,000 and the department would have the additional expense of furnishing all supplies and cleaning materials.

As this company is one of the largest in the country furnishing this type of service, serving many large cities and railroad and bus terminals throughout the country, we feel that nothing would be gained by advertising for bids and that the best interests of the city will be served by renewing the agreement at the rate of $4,500 for one year. I therefore request your approval for the award of the contract without publicly advertising for bids.

The yearly payment of $4,500 is chargeable to Parks and Recreation Department budget, Item 299.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK R. KELLEY,
Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Labor and Equipment

The Mayor, on November 29, approved the award of a contract, without advertising, based on the following communication:

DEAR SIR:

Because of the unusual conditions which often arise following snowstorms and the prolonged periods during which the equipment and necessary labor provided by contractors must be kept at work, the cost in some instances will be more than $2,000, necessitating, under the provisions of the City Charter, written contracts with the firms which have been engaged.

I consider it to the city's advantage to have the department in a position to call upon contractors to furnish labor and equipment, when and where required, when emergency occasions arise and I respectfully request the authority of your Honor to dispense with advertising and to award contracts to the following-named firms and individuals to furnish labor and equipment when considered necessary for the years 1956-1957 to supplement the regular forces of the Public Works Department engaged in snow removal activities:

M. DeMatteo Construction Company, 200 Hancock street, Quincy; James A. Freaney, Inc., 1 West street, Hyde Park; D. A. Rossano Construction Company, Inc., 401 Border street, East Boston; Rufo Construction Company, Inc., 1 Allen road, Brighton; Ward General Contracting Company, 157 Hampden street, Roxbury; P. V. Barone Corporation, 70 Glencoe street, Brighton; J. D'Amico, Inc., 49 Ellison avenue, Dorchester; J. J. Struzziery Company, Inc., 73 Bellevue Hill road, Roslindale; S. J. Tomasello Corporation, 25 Huntington avenue; Pacella Brothers, Inc., 247 Washington street, Dedham; C. & R. Construction Company, 75 Bradeen street, Roslindale; Atlantic Roads Company, Inc., 358 Medford street, Charlestown; Eastern Roads Company, Inc., 101 Terrace street, Roxbury; Baker & Company, Inc., 3475 Washington street, Jamaica Plain; M. J. Kelly & Company, Inc., 75 Stedman street, Jamaica Plain; Walsh Company, Inc., 55 Perham street, West Roxbury; Coleman Brothers

Corporation, P. O. Box 31, Readville; Manning Construction Company, Inc., 26 Manning road, Dedham; A. Singarella & Son, Inc., 22A Tremlett street, Dorchester; Carriere Construction Company, 21 Glendower road, Roslindale.

From a canvass conducted by the department, it has been ascertained that the firms named can furnish the equipment necessary to do the required snow removal work. Furthermore, advertising for bids would not, in my opinion, be practicable on account of the uncertainty of the amount of work to be done and also because the contract involves the rental of equipment and the hiring of labor only, and the rates paid are in accordance with the prevailing rates established in this area for this type of work.

In the event this work becomes necessary, payment will be made in accordance with the schedule of rates established by this department as will be specifically set forth in the contract.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

SUFFOLK COUNTY.

Court Room Alterations

The Mayor, on November 30, approved the award of a contract, without advertising, based on the following communication:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

The Court House Commission is desirous of awarding a contract, in a sum not to exceed eight thousand eight hundred dollars ($8,800), to make necessary alterations and improvements in the court rooms and waiting room of the Juvenile Court. For lack of other more suitable space this court has been located on the rear of the first floor of the old court house building in rooms which were never designed for that purpose. They are dark and dingy at present and are unimpressive, and lack the proper atmosphere that a court of this distinction should possess.

At the urgent request of Hon. John J. Connelly, Chief Justice of the Juvenile Court, the court house superintendent has endeavored for more than a year, without success, to obtain specifications and estimates to perform this work. Judge Connelly recently obtained the services of Mr. O. Ricker Freeman, architect, of 131 State street, Boston, who in collaboration with W. A. MacLeod Company, builders, of 50 Congress street, Boston, have prepared drawings and specifications for the necessary alterations, etc., to improve the appearance of the court. The plans, as submitted, are entirely acceptable to the commissioner and to the court.

In view of the long delay in undertaking these improvements, and to avoid further delay, the Court House Commission is of the opinion that W. A. MacLeod Company are thoroughly reliable contractors to perform this work, and that the city would gain nothing by publicly advertising for bids. The Court House Commission, therefore, respectfully requests your Honor's permission to enter into a contract with W. A. MacLeod Company to undertake this work, at an estimated cost not to exceed eight thousand eight hundred dollars, without publicly advertising.

Respectfully yours,

ARNO I. DREW,
Chairman.

ACTING PURCHASING AGENT

With the approval of the Mayor, John V. Moran, Purchasing Agent, has designated Eugene K. Welsh, Assistant Purchasing Agent, to be Acting Purchasing Agent of the Purchasing Division, from November 19, 1956, to December 14, 1956, inclusive, in the event of his absence.

General Order No. 2,302.

It is with sadness and regret that the department is informed of the unexpected death this morning of Superintendent Edward W. Fallon.

Appointed a police officer following military service in the first World War, Superintendent Fallon devoted his entire adult life to his profession as a law enforcement officer.

Advancing through the respective ranks of command at phenomenal early age, he served as Superintendent of Police for more than twenty years, the longest tenure of that office in its history.

The commissioner extends the sympathy of the entire department to the bereaved family with whom it shares the severe loss occasioned by his untimely passing.

DREDGING OF BASIN AT SAVIN HILL IN DORCHESTER BAY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 21, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I have been informed that under section 11 of chapter 91 of the General Laws, as amended, the State Department of Public Works is about to dredge certain portions of Dorchester Bay near the Savin Hill Yacht Club at Fox Point. The purpose of the work is to enlarge and deepen the existing basin sufficiently to accommodate normal boating activities in the area. The entire cost of the project, which it is estimated will approximate $75,000, will be borne by the state. It is customary, however, for the state to obtain from the municipality in which it does any such work an assumption by that municipality of liability for all damages to property suffered by any person by any taking of land (or any right, interest, or easement therein) incident to the project. In the present case no taking of land is anticipated, but the state nevertheless insists upon its customary requirement of assumption of liability by the city. Accordingly, I recommend passage by your Honorable Body of the accompanying order which will enable me to execute the necessary instruments and thereby expedite the early commencement of the above-described project.

Respectfully,

J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

Ordered, That the Mayor of the City of Boston be, and he hereby is, authorized to execute and deliver in the name and behalf of the City of Boston an instrument whereby the city, by virtue of section 29 of chapter 91 of the General Laws, as amended, will assume liability for all damages to property to be suffered by any person by any taking of land, or of any right, interest, or easement therein, within the City of Boston, to be made by the Department of Public Works of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts for the purpose of dredging the basin at Savin Hill in Dorchester Bay as now proposed by said department under section 11 of said chapter 91, as amended.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER OF APPROPRIATION TO COUNTY COURTHOUSE (CUSTODIAN).

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, November 26, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I submit herewith an order providing for the transfer of $8,800 from the appropriation for Court Officer's Division, Superior Court, to the appropriation for County Court House (Custodian) and a letter from the Chairman of the Court House Commission explaining the reasons therefor.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

Court House Commission,
November 21, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

The Court House Commission respectfully requests that you authorize the transfer of $8,800 from available sources to Group 200, Contractual Services, to provide an appropriation to cover the approximate cost of alterations and improvements in the Juvenile Court.

An estimate has been submitted by W. A. MacLeod Company, 50 Congress street, Boston, to do the following work as outlined on specifications and drawings prepared by O. R. Freeman, architect:

"Alterations to the courtroom, conference room, and waiting room as shown on the drawings. Included in the estimate are the following allowances: hung acoustic ceiling, $580; electric work, including two ceiling fixtures, $200; baseboard heating in courtroom and waiting room, $600; rubber floor tile and base, $560; three sash units with prism glass, $300; painting and finishing of oak, $1,000; general work such as gypsum block and plaster, carpentry, oak panels and mouldings, demolition, doors, frames, hardware, cutting for trades, trucking, insurance, supervision, builder's fee, etc., $4,760; architect's fee, $800; total, $8,800."

The Juvenile Court, of necessity, is located in the rear of the first floor of the Old Court House Building. At present the rooms are dingy and dark, and most unimpressive as courtrooms. The commission is of the opinion that these improvements are necessary and long overdue and requests your Honor's approval to undertake these alterations.

Respectfully yours,

COURT HOUSE COMMISSION,
by ARNO I. DREW, Chairman.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Court Officer's Division, Superior Court, Personal Services, $8,800, to the appropriation for County Court House (Custodian), Contractual Services, $8,800.

In my opinion, the situation which prompted your order would be better remedied by a change in administrative procedure than by an ordinance; but if your Honorable Body determines upon an ordinance, I think you will find the enclosed draft a practical adaptation of the principle outlined in your order.

INVOCATION BY REV. FRANCIS L. GALLAGHER.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

We are come, O God, the Holy Ghost, we are assembled before Thee, hindered indeed by our many and grievous sins, but especially gathered together in Thy name. Come unto us and be with us; vouchsafe to enter our hearts; teach us what we are to do and whither we ought to tend; show us what we must accomplish in order that, with Thy help, we may be able to please Thee in all things. Be Thou alone the author and finisher of our judgments, who alone with God, the Father, and His Son dost possess a glorious name.

Permit us not to disturb the order of justice. Thou who lovest equity above all things; let not ignorance draw us into deviate paths, nor partiality sway our minds; neither let respect of riches or persons pervert our judgment, but unite us to Thee effectually by the gift of Thine only grace, that we may be one in Thee and may never forsake the truth; inasmuch as we are gathered together in Thy name, so may we in all things hold fast to justice tempered by pity, so that in this life our judgment may in no wise be at variance with Thee and in the life to come we may attain to everlasting rewards for deeds well done. Amen.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON PERAMBULATION OF THE BOUNDARY LINES.

Coun. PIEMONTE, for the Committee on Perambulation of the Boundary Lines Between Boston and the Cities of Revere, Everett, Somerville, and Newton, and the Towns of Brookline, Dedham, Milton, and Winthrop, submitted the following:

In City Council, November 28, 1956.

The special committee appointed to examine the lines and bound marks between the City of Boston and the Cities of Revere, Everett, Somerville, and Newton, and the Towns of Brookline, Dedham, Milton, and Winthrop respectfully report that they have attended to the duty with which they are charged and have examined and verified with the committees appointed by the said cities and towns the several boundaries and bound marks in the existing boundary lines.

The committee found that the boundary markers were substantially in the same condition as reported by the previous perambulation committee. The Boston-Winthrop boundary line, when officially established, was a water boundary, and has not been included in previous perambulation reports. However, the filling of Belle Isle Inlet for the expansion of the Logan Airport has extended across this line. Shirley Gut, between Winthrop and Deer Island, is now filled in in the vicinity of the boundary line. It is the opinion of this committee that the boundary line at both of these locations should be defined and suitably marked, and to accomplish this purpose the committee recommends that a suitable plan for these boundaries be prepared by the Commissioner of Public Works for submission to and determination by the Land Court as required by law.

The Boston-Revere boundary line likewise was originally established along the center of Belle Isle Inlet between Bennington street and the Chelsea River. Most of this inlet has been filled, and its location is unmarked. The line as surveyed at the time of filling Belle Isle Inlet is a series of short courses with many bends. It is the opinion of this committee that the boundary line should be adjusted, eliminating the insignificant bends, and then properly marked by the installation of stone bounds, and to effectuate this result this committee recommends that a suitable plan embodying such changes be prepared by the Commissioner of Public Works for submission to and approval by the Department of Public Works of the Commonwealth, with the later submission by the said department to the General Court for the passage of the necessary legislation.

The Boston-Everett boundary line is reported by the engineers of both communities to be marked by a series of stone bounds—all of which are buried distances from two to six feet below the surface. It is the recommendation of this committee that such bounds be raised and made visible.

The Boston-Somerville boundary line is well marked except where it crosses Main street, Charlestown, in the vicinity of the new Sullivan Square Improvement. It is recommended that road markers be placed at this location.

The Boston-Brookline boundary line, the longest of any of Boston's boundary lines, with approximately 100 bends, is well marked, as is the line between Boston and Newton, Boston and Dedham, and Boston and Milton. At the Boston-Brookline boundary line, in the vicinity of Pond street and Avon street, the Brookline officials pointed out that their town desires a minor readjustment of the boundary line so that the small portion of Larz Anderson Park lying in Boston would become a part of the Town of Brookline, which will require legislation and should be initiated by the Town of Brookline.

Since the perambulation by this committee of the Boston-Newton boundary line, the City Council received and placed on file on November 19, 1956, an attested copy of order of the Middlesex County Commissioners granting permission to the Department of Public Works of the Commonwealth to remove the monument marking the city corner B-N-20 in the boundary line between the City of Boston and the City of Newton, situated on the northerly side of Baker street in Boston and Dedham street in Newton, and replacement of the same by a concrete bound set in a suitable container twelve inches below the surface of the pavement; and, further, for the setting up of the existing bound marking the city corner B-N-20 as a roadstone at the intersection of the said city line and the new northerly line of Baker street as relocated.

We submit herewith descriptions of the boundary lines and marks for record.

GABRIEL F. PIEMONTE,
PATRICK F. McDONOUGH, Councillors.

WALTER J. MALLOY,
City Clerk.

JAMES W. HALEY,
Chief Engineer, Survey Division,
Public Works Department.

(The descriptions of the boundary lines and marks are annexed hereto.)

On motion of Councillor Piemonte, the report of the special committee was referred to the Executive Committee.

CHARACTER REFERENCES

All city employees who enter citizens' homes in the line of duty will be required to have a character check, according to a ruling of the Cincinnati Civil Service Commission. The ruling came on the heels of a finding that a newly hired building inspector had been suspended for 30 days in 1952 while serving as a member of the Police Force. Character tests are now required for police and firemen, building guards, and some employees of the Water Department.

DETROIT CRACKS DOWN

A special patrol of 225 men has been created within the Detroit Police Department to cut the upsurge of street crimes, reported to be almost double the increase of all other crimes, Commissioner Edward Piggins in announcing the new patrol said, "This will herald the return of the man on the beat."

The special patrol will draw its membership from the various precincts on a rotating basis and will work between the hours of 7 P.M. and 3 A.M. Commissioner Piggins also announced that police will make use of a helicopter for checking of the city's water front, discovery of hidden autos, and to give aid in rescue work. Police will share the helicopter with the city's traffic division which will employ the helicopter on a trial basis as a traffic coordinating device.

CITY HALL FOR FREE!

In Anoka, Minnesota, a $635,000 two-story municipal building has been presented to the city by its largest taxpayer, the Federal Cartridge Corporation, and its Olin Foundation. The gift will save the taxpayers an additional ten-million tax levy for 20 years. Built of brick and glass and lying along a river, the new hall will house city business offices, jail, fire and police station, as well as municipal court. It will replace a 70-year-old city hall, declared a fire hazard.

MAYOR'S LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM SEEKS $50 MILLION BOND ISSUE FOR NEW CITY HALL AND FEDERAL BUILDING TO INITIATE GOVERNMENT CENTER

Mayor John B. Hynes, on December 5, submitted his 1957 legislative program to the Massachusetts Legislature. A total of 26 bills were filed at the State House by the Boston Law Department. A majority of the measures were aimed at clarification of various sections of the statute to promote greater efficiency in the administration of city affairs.

Featuring the Mayor's program this year was a bill to enable the city to borrow up to $50 million outside the debt limit so that it may carry out the recommendations of the City Planning Board by constructing a new city hall in the Pemberton-Scollay-Dock Square area as part of a proposed government center, and to construct and sell to the United States Government a federal office building in connection with the same plan. The bill, however, makes no specific reference to the proposed bounds of the government center site.

Another measure proposed by the Mayor would permit the reorganization of the Boston Traffic Commission to relieve that board of cumbersome administrative detail and to enable it to devote more of its time to important traffic problems.

Still another measure advanced by the Mayor provides for the taking over of the Old State House by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and the acquisition of the expenses involved in its maintenance.

Under the provisions of another bill the State Department of Public Works would be permitted to promulgate rules and regulations to require the use of snow tires, wheel chains, or similar equipment on our highways as to reduce the hazardous, wholesale stalling of vehicles during snowstorms. Under another bill the Mayor would give the Boston Traffic Commission power to enforce the alternate-side-of-the-street parking rule to enable the street-sweeping machinery to function more efficiently in this city.

The twenty-six bills filed by the Mayor were as follows:

A BILL ENABLING THE CITY OF BOSTON TO CONSTRUCT A NEW CITY HALL AND TO CONSTRUCT AND SELL TO THE UNITED STATES A FEDERAL OFFICE BUILDING.

SECTION 1. The city of Boston is hereby authorized to acquire a suitable site for a new city hall for said city and also a suitable site for an office building for activities of the federal government in the area, and to construct on such respective sites such city hall and such federal office building, and to contract for the acquisition of such federal office building and its site by the United States under federal Public Buildings Purchase Contract Act of 1954.

SECTION 2. Such federal office building and its site, so long as title thereto is vested in said city, shall be taxable to said city under chapter fifty-nine of the General Laws in the same manner and to the same extent as if such building and site were privately owned.

SECTION 3. For the purposes of this act, said city may borrow from time to time not exceeding, in the aggregate, fifty million dollars, and may issue and sell at public sale bonds or notes of said city therefore, which shall bear on their face the words:—City of Boston, Government Center Loan, Act of 1957. Each issue shall constitute a separate loan, and shall be payable in such annual instalments as will coincide with payments by the United States under its contract for acquisition of said federal office building with its site and will extinguish such loan not later than thirty years from the date of the bonds or notes issued therefor. Debt incurred under this section shall not be included in determining the limit of indebtedness of said city as established by law, but except as herein otherwise provided, shall be subject to the provisions, applicable to said city, of chapter forty-four of the General Laws, exclusive of the limitation contained in the first paragraph of section seven thereof.

Comment

It has been recommended by city planners that new office buildings of the federal, state and local governments be concentrated in a single area. A recent conference of experts in the field of finance produced the suggestion that the City finance, construct and sell a new federal office building pursuant to a contract with the United States under the federal Public Buildings Purchase Contract Act of 1954 and use the amount which the United States will pay in excess of the costs of construction and financing to meet the principal and interest on the bond issue for the new city hall. The result would be a new city hall without cost to the City other than loss of taxes on the sites to be acquired for the new buildings. The above bill is being filed as an incident to the development of this plan.

MAYOR HYNES' 1957 LEGISLATIVE PROGRAM

A BILL REORGANIZING THE BOSTON TRAFFIC COMMISSION.

SECTION 1. Chapter 263 of the acts of 1929 is hereby amended by striking out section 1 and inserting in place thereof the following three sections:—

SECTION 1. There shall be in the City of Boston, hereinafter called the city, a department, known as the Traffic Department, which shall be under the charge of a board, known as the Boston Traffic Commission and hereinafter called the commission, consisting of an officer, known as the Traffic Commissioner, appointed by the mayor for a term expiring on the first Monday of the January following the next biennial municipal election at which a mayor is elected, who shall be chairman of the commission, and four other officers, known as Associate Traffic Commissioners. The police commissioner, the commissioner of public works, the commissioner of parks and recreation and the commissioner of real property of the city shall be ex officio, the associate traffic commissioners.

The traffic commissioner shall receive such annual salary as shall from time to time be fixed by the city council with the approval of the mayor. The associate traffic commissioners shall receive no compensation for their services as such associate traffic commissioners.

SECTION 1A. The traffic commissioner shall exclusively have the powers, and perform the duties, of a department head with respect to the making of contracts (other than contracts for the acquisition, installation or maintenance of parking meters) and the appointment, suspension, discharge, compensation and indemnification of engineers, experts, assistants and other employees for the traffic department; but in the exercise of such powers and the performance of such duties he shall be subject to all statutes and ordinances applicable generally to departments of the city.

SECTION 1B. The traffic commissioner shall have power to make, erect and maintain, or cause to be made, erected and maintained, traffic signs, signals, markings and other devices for the control of street traffic in the city and for informing and warning the public as to rules and regulations adopted or promulgated under this act, subject, however, to section two of chapter eighty-five, and to sections eight and nine of chapter eighty-nine, of the General Laws.

SECTION 2. The first sentence of section 2 of chapter 263 of the acts of 1929, as appearing in section 1 of chapter 78 of the acts of 1950, is hereby amended by striking out, in line 14, the word "commission" and inserting in place thereof the words:—traffic commissioner.

SECTION 3. Said section 2 is hereby further amended by striking out the third sentence, as appearing in said section 1, and inserting in place thereof the following sentence:—The commission may adopt, amend and repeal rules and regulations, not repugnant to law, prescribing a penalty, not exceeding fifty dollars, for any violation of a rule or regulation adopted under this section or section two A or promulgated under section two B which is not disposed of under section twenty A of chapter ninety of the General Laws; provided that no penalty shall be imposed upon any disabled veteran whose vehicle bears the distinctive number plates authorized by section two of chapter ninety of the General Laws, or upon any handicapped person whose vehicle displays in the rear window the distinctive sticker authorized by said section two, for parking such vehicle on any way for a longer period of time than permitted by a rule or regulation adopted under this section or section two A or promulgated under section two B.

SECTION 4. Said section 2, as amended, is hereby further amended by striking out the sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth sentences.

SECTION 5. Said chapter 263, as amended, is hereby further amended by inserting after section 2A, inserted by chapter 319 of the acts of 1935, the following sections:—

SECTION 2B. Whenever a situation not admitting of delay arises and the Boston traffic commission is not in session, the traffic commissioner shall have the authority of the commission under section two; provided, that any rule or regulation promulgated by the traffic commissioner in exercising the power vested in him by this section shall contain a preamble setting forth why the situation does not admit of delay, shall take effect upon its promulgation, shall be operative only until the cessation of the emergency or the expiration of one month from the date of its promulgation, whichever is earlier, and may be amended or repealed at any time by the commission; and provided further, that while a rule or regulation so promulgated by the traffic commissioner is in effect, the commission may adopt under section two a rule or regulation of like or similar tenor.

SECTION 2C. Within thirty days after the filing with the Boston traffic commission by twenty-five registered voters of the city of a petition for a public hearing relative to any rule or regulation adopted or proposed to be adopted by the commission, the commission shall hold such a hearing on such rule or regulation; and final action on such rule or regulation shall be determined only by vote of a majority of the entire membership of the commission.

No rule or regulation adopted by the Boston traffic commission shall take effect until published for two successive weeks in the City Record.

Neither this section nor section two of chapter eighty-five of the General Laws shall apply to any rule or regulation adopted by the Boston traffic commission under section two which, by its terms, is to be operative for less than sixty-one days or to any rule or regulation promulgated by the traffic commissioner under section two B.

SECTION 2D. Nothing in this act shall be construed to authorize the traffic commissioner to promulgate, or the commission to adopt, any rule or regulation excluding the street railway cars or trackless trolley vehicles of the metropolitan transit authority from any street, way, highway, road or parkway, or any part of any thereof, in which it has a location, or to modify or limit any power or authority of the metropolitan district commission, the state department of public works or the state department of public utilities, or to modify or limit any power or authority of the police commissioner to regulate street uses under any license or permit granted by him.

SECTION 6. This act shall take effect on May first in the current year.

Comment

The purpose of the above bill is to reorganize the Boston Traffic Commission using the Boston Parks and Recreation Commission as a model. One objective of the reorganization is to relieve the Traffic Commission of administrative detail and thereby enable it to devote more of its time to traffic problems. To accomplish this, the Chairman is vested with all the powers and duties of a department head with respect to the making of contracts (other than those for the acquisition, installation or maintenance of parking meters) and the appointment, suspension, discharge, compensation and indemnification of employees for the Traffic Department. The reorganization is also designed to expedite matters not admitting of delay by authorizing the Commission's Chairman to promulgate temporary traffic rules in such situations. The bill incidentally modernizes the Traffic Commission Act by correlating it with divers statutes and ordinances passed since its enactment. A statute is necessary because a reorganization of the Traffic Commission is outside the scope of the law which enabled the reorganization of other city departments two years ago.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR THE ACQUISITION BY THE COMMONWEALTH OF THE OLD STATE HOUSE AND THE REIMBURSEMENT OF THE CITY OF BOSTON FOR CERTAIN EXPENSES IN CONNECTION THEREWITH.

SECTION 1. Notwithstanding any contrary provision of general or special law, the City of Boston, acting by its mayor, may without consideration convey to the commonwealth all right, title and interest of said city in and to the old provincial state house in said city; provided, that such conveyance is authorized by vote of the city council of said city, subject to the provisions of its charter, but not otherwise.

SECTION 2. The state superintendent of buildings shall accept such conveyance in the name and behalf of the commonwealth; and thereafter, until otherwise provided by law, said house shall be preserved and maintained under his supervision as an ancient landmark possessing historical and antiquarian interest.

SECTION 3. To reimburse said city for expenses incurred by it in the preservation and maintenance of said house in the year nineteen hundred and fifty-six and in the current year, there shall be paid out of the state treasury to said city on November twentieth in the current year such sums as may be appropriated therefor.

Comment

The Old State House on Washington Street at the head of State Street, while used as a City Hall from September 17, 1830, to March 18, 1841, dates back to about 1658 and is essentially a reminder of the early history of Massachusetts, for it was the seat of the state government until January 11, 1798, and of the provincial government before that. It is "the old provincial state house in Boston" according to Section 20 of Chapter 8 of the General Laws. In the circumstances, its preservation as an ancient landmark possessing historical and antiquarian interest should be the responsibility of the Commonwealth as a whole and not of a single municipality thereof. At present, however, such preservation falls upon the City of Boston, which has had full title to it since 1803. Under the above bill, the situation would be corrected by a transfer of title to the Commonwealth, which would also reimburse the City for recent costs of maintenance.

A BILL ENABLING THE STATE DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS TO PROMULGATE RULES PRESCRIBING THAT MOTOR VEHICLES OPERATED UPON PUBLIC WAYS AND STATE HIGHWAYS UNDER CERTAIN CONDITIONS BE SUITABLY EQUIPPED FOR SUCH OPERATION.

SECTION 1. Chapter 85 of the General Laws is hereby amended by inserting after section 2A, inserted by section 2 of chapter 346 of the acts of 1941, the following section:—Section 2B. The department is hereby authorized to promulgate rules prescribing the devices with which motor vehicles shall be equipped for the purpose of providing adequate traction when operated on public ways and state highways at such times, and in such cities and towns, as the state commissioner of public works shall from time to time determine that snow or ice conditions so require.

Comment

Experience during the snowstorms of last March brought forcibly to attention the necessity of requiring motorists to use snow-tires or other devices on their vehicles during snowstorms and thereby prevent stalled vehicles from blocking the passage of snow-plows, fire engines and other emergency vehicles.

A BILL TO PROVIDE FOR PARKING ON ALTERNATE SIDES OF PUBLIC WAYS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON ON ALTERNATE NIGHTS.

SECTION 1. Section 2 of chapter 263 of the acts of 1929, as amended, is hereby further amended by inserting after the first paragraph the following paragraph:—

Any rule or regulation, adopted under this section, prohibiting for any period of time between midnight of one day and eight o'clock in the forenoon of the next day the parking or standing of vehicles on the whole or any part or parts of one or more streets, ways, highways, roads or parkways may provide that it shall apply to the alternate sides thereof on alternate days. No warning sign need be maintained in connection with any rule or regulation so providing; nor shall any such rule or regulation be subject to section two of chapter eighty-five of the General Laws.

Comment

The trend in all major cities throughout the country is to provide for parking of vehicles on alternate sides of the streets on alternate days and thereby make it possible to run sweeping-machines through them to keep them clean. Passage of the above bill will make explicit provision for such parking regulation in Boston and thus remove the doubts entertained by some as to the Boston Traffic Commission's powers in the matter.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR AN INVESTIGATION AND STUDY BY THE LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH COUNCIL OF THE ADVISABILITY OF CHANGING THE FISCAL YEAR OF MUNICIPALITIES FROM THE CALENDAR YEAR TO THE FISCAL YEAR OF THE COMMONWEALTH.

Comment

The calendar year is the fiscal year of municipalities; whereas the period from July first in one year to June thirtieth in the next is the fiscal year of the state and federal governments. It has long been thought that municipalities should have the same fiscal year as the state and federal governments; but the transitional period has presented problems which to date have proven to be insuperable obstacles. The purpose of the above resolve is to see whether the new Legislative Research Council, after investigation and study, can propose a transition sufficiently practical to enable its adoption.

POLICE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

General Order No. 2,304.

The following chapter of the Acts and Resolves of 1955, previously published in General Order No. 2,140, dated December 13, 1955, is published again for the information and guidance of the department:

CHAPTER 176.

An Act Relative to the Securing of Information Concerning Persons Residing at Inns, Lodging Houses and Public Lodging Houses.

Chapter 51 of the General Laws is hereby amended by striking out section 10A, as amended by section 1 of Chapter 320 of the Acts of 1943, and inserting in place thereof the following section:

SECTION 10A. Every innholder licensed under any provision of chapter one hundred and forty and every keeper of a lodging house or public lodging house licensed thereunder shall deliver to the person performing the duties required by section four, on a suitable blank to be furnished him by said person a statement, signed under the penalties of perjury, showing the name of every person twenty years of age or older on January first of said year whose place of residence on said January first was at such inn, lodging house or public lodging house.

Suitable blank forms in blocks of fifty have been printed and may be obtained by the various stations by requisition upon the Property Clerk at Police Headquarters.

Officers delivering these blank forms to licensed inns, lodging houses, and public lodging houses, should inquire as to the approximate number of persons who will be listed therefrom. As there are fifteen lines to a page, in many cases one sheet will be all that is required. In any event, in this manner stations will obtain a general idea of the number of blanks needed under this new system and we will be able to have a suitable number printed for future use.

In cases where more than one page is required, licensees will be informed that they must sign each page.

After the information on these forms has been transcribed onto listing cards at the stations, the forms will be transmitted to Room 608, Commissioner's Office, Police Headquarters, where they will be kept on file for a period of two years.

N. B.—As a result of last year's experience, which was the first under this new law, officers will be particularly instructed on the following procedure:

Officers delivering these blank forms shall instruct the person to whom they are delivered to retain the completed forms until such time as an officer returns to obtain them.

The printed forms are intended to be used only for the listing of residents of licensed inns, lodging houses, and public lodging houses. They will not be used for listing of residents of other types of multiple dwellings.

NOVEMBER BUILDING OPERATIONS NEARLY 300% OVER TOTAL FOR THE SAME MONTH LAST YEAR

The total investment represented by new construction and building alterations within the City of Boston was about three times the total value of the same month last year, according to tabulations released this week by the Building Department.

Two nontaxable projects, for which permits were issued last month, were responsible for $4.5 million of the $6.05 million total building valuation figure for November. These projects were: a new home for the aged at 1200 Centre street, West Roxbury, and a new city school in Hyde Park. The November building operations total last year was $1,909,990.

The eleven-month total of building operations in Boston during 1956 exceeds the figure for the same period last year by nearly $10 million. The number of permits issued during the eleven-month period, however, is 6 per cent under the same period in 1955.

GOOD INVENTORY CONTROL A KEY TO MUNICIPAL EFFICIENCY

IV

This is the fourth in a series of six reports of a recent two-day Boston Municipal Administration Conference in which 200 key city employees participated.

Methods and procedures governing the inventory control of supplies and equipment was the subject of the fifth panel discussion in the recent Conference on Municipal Administration conducted under the general chairmanship of John A. Breen, Director of Administrative Services, at the Lecture Hall, Boston Public Library.

John L. Ash, zone warehouse manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division, General Motors Corporation, served as moderator.

The panelists were: Arthur J. O'Keefe, executive secretary, Parks and Recreation Department; Dermott H. Fetherston, principal storekeeper, Hospital Department; Gerald T. Mahoney, head administrative clerk, Long Island Hospital; and Cornelius E. O'Leary, senior personnel officer, Public Works Department.

REMARKS OF MODERATOR, JOHN L. ASH

I consider it a privilege to have been invited to act as moderator on this panel discussion on Inventory Control.

Since I have ten minutes to speak, I should like to describe the perpetual inventory system in the warehouse of GMC Truck and Coach Division, which has proved highly satisfactory. Keeping in mind the fact that industrial and governmental inventory controls would necessarily be the same, I feel this system modified for the needs of a municipal government would be highly satisfactory.

There are several methods of inventory control used by industry which are effective. However, I am familiar with the perpetual inventory system, which I shall briefly outline.

The application of adequate inventory control is a necessity for efficient operation of all departments involved in the procurement and disbursement of materials and supplies.

The perpetual inventory system utilizes a stock record card for each item in the inventory and a suitable document for ordering replenishment supply, plus prenumbered forms for use in withdrawing material from stock.

Proper inventory records should be maintained and controlled by a separate agency. The over-all responsibility of the control system should be delegated to a responsible employee, namely, a Material Control Supervisor or Inventory Director.

An essential part of inventory control is the proper training of the employees in the correct manner and operation of the system. The over-all responsibilities and duties of subordinates in this system should be clearly defined by the director. The stock handlers should not have access to the stock records. This is to better control and prevent errors and misrepresentation of stock records.

Minimum and maximum stock quantities for each item should be established, based upon the usage, actual or estimated, of the item. This function is an aid in controlling obsolescence and results in a minimum of surplus material.

December Drive on Traffic Accidents

Because December is the most dangerous month of the year in traffic, a nationwide "attack on traffic accidents" is under way, sponsored by the National Safety Council.

The death toll this year indicates that 1956 fatalities and accidents will be the highest in history.

Last year one third of the fatalities of pedestrians occurred while they were crossing the street between intersections.

Traffic Commissioner William A. Reilly, therefore, urges all citizens to "Back the Attack" on traffic accidents this month, pointing out that special care should be exercised by both motorists and pedestrians, particularly during the next few weeks. Approximately three fourths of traffic accidents happen during the hours of darkness, and more fatal accidents occur between 5 P.M. and 9 P.M. than during any other time of the day.

The quantity to be ordered for replenishment when the on-hand quantity has reached a minimum should be based on unit purchase price, to avoid the repeated receipt and storing of low-cost, fast-moving items.

A physical inventory should be taken annually and the actual on-hand balance as of a specified cut-off date be compared to the stock card balance and any discrepancies accounted for. The stock record card serves as permanent record of all material ordered, received, and disbursed, which is supported by the applicable documents. The time of posting this information would depend upon the operation of the various departments, or the forwarding of documents from several departments to a central stock record card section, where all the clerical duties would be performed. Material which might be subject to thievery should be inventoried physically more than once a year to ensure control. This also includes material stored in an area handy to shipping platforms.

A periodic review of stock record cards should be made to determine if a surplus condition exists. This could be caused by various reasons, namely, overordering, a decrease in usage, obsolescence of product, etc.

The cause of a surplus condition should first be determined and corrected and secondly an effort should be made to return all or part of the surplus quantity to the supplier for credit. If the supplier will not accept return, the surplus quantity should be disposed of by (1) selling for the high dollar; (2) donating to charitable institutions; (3) scrapping; or (4) other means, and subsequent loss charged to an account provided for such loss. This would aid in preventing an excessive inventory dollar value representing obsolete slow-moving and overstocked material.

Damaged or defective material found in inventory which cannot be used should be removed from stock, disbursed from the stock record card, and charged to an applicable account.

Incoming material should be carefully checked for quantity, and the receiving document to be used as a posting medium be signed by the receiving clerk verifying the quantity actually received. Discrepancies should be accounted for by claim for shortage against the delivering agent, if in order, or advice of shortage to the supplier. Final billing from the supplier should be matched to a copy of the document issued for receipt of the material and verified for accuracy.

The inventory of fixed assets and equipment could be taken annually and the necessity or advisability of replacing or disposing of equipment be determined at that time. Accountability could be accomplished by permanently attaching a numbered metal tag or other means of identification to each item. Depreciation in value should be adjusted at time of inventory. Inventory of vehicles of all types could be accomplished by recording the vehicle serial number and department to which assigned.

A master warehouse for storing materials and supplies used by several city departments would be preferable to numerous issuing locations. This warehouse staffed by trained and efficient personnel and adequate experienced supervision would process all incoming and outgoing material. This would eliminate the possibility of the same material being purchased and stocked in several locations.

Obviously the storage warehouse area must be supervised by persons thoroughly experienced in storage of material, and with a working knowledge of the inventory control system in use. The central stock record card section would be located in the master warehouse which would provide an over-all control of ordering, receiving, storing, disbursing, and recording the movement of all materials stocked therein.

The perpetual inventory control system, if maintained properly and supervised efficiently, should provide control in purchasing and issuing all materials and supplies used in the various departments of the city government.

In closing I would like to invite the members of the panel, and any others who would care to come, to visit the GMC Truck and Coach Warehouse where the system I have outlined is used in controlling an inventory of approximately 21,000 items.

"STOREKEEPING AND INVENTORY CONTROL"

By Arthur J. O'Keefe,
Panelist

I will endeavor to discuss briefly two points regarding Storekeeping and Inventory Control. You possibly realize that there is not too much that can be said in the limitation of five minutes allowed for each speaker.

Central Warehousing and Trained Personnel

Today in this city, some departments have good inventory systems, others fair, others poor, and some none at all. Because of the three latter categories, many departments that periodically order supplies and materials would be better served through the operation of a central storehouse. I agree that because of certain circumstances, there may be some departments that could not go into a central storehouse on a complete basis. I refer to the Hospital Department, in the case of the inventory on drug supplies, the Library Department, on books, etc., but in general, many articles used commonly by many departments could be stored in the same building.

In the past, the city has spent considerable money setting up individual inventory systems in several departments. The services of experts have been retained and in some cases the suggestions have been followed with good or fair results. In others the reports submitted have not been followed.

It would appear to me that the city should give serious consideration to the establishment of a central storehouse where all supplies and materials not of a perishable nature might be stored. The exception would be food for hospital patients or for the animals in the zoo, fuel for city buildings, and similar supplies. Supplies and materials delivered to a central warehouse could be stored under safer and more businesslike conditions than when delivered at several locations in all sections of the city. Supplies and materials delivered from a central warehouse on special requisitions could be charged off against the budget of the particular department. The central purchase of supplies and materials could be made in larger quantities and at fewer times during the year at a considerable saving to the city government.

For instance, it would be possible to estimate on many items the amount to be used for the entire year such as tools, soap, toilet articles, toweling, steam and plumbing fittings, motor parts, and ever so many items used annually by city departments. You no doubt are aware of the fact that many departments use the same articles. The Supply

Department at present does send out for estimates at various times during the year but it would appear that many of these items could be purchased at one time under one estimate and under a more favorable market.

The purchase of these items in carload lots shipped into a central warehouse would undoubtedly save the city thousands of dollars and would eliminate the practice of writing so many requisitions for small orders covering supplies and materials. The detail involved in processing the requisitions, receiving notices, payment of bills, etc., would be done at a considerable saving in time of the clerical help leaving extra time for other departmental work and possibly would eliminate overtime now required in many departments, which, according to a recent statement by his Honor the Mayor, is beginning to amount to a substantial sum in our budget.

I realize that considerable expense is involved in constructing a central warehouse, the maintenance of it, carrying charges, etc., but it would appear that a central warehouse could be operated with less personnel than now being used for all the various similar storage facilities throughout the city. I realize full well that this is a point for discussion.

A well-conducted central warehouse should have trained personnel to operate the warehouse, persons who would know how to conduct and operate a first-class inventory system, and who, by their training, would understand the layout of adequate storage facilities and the proper protection for supplies.

Our experience, I am sure, shows in many respects the deficiencies now existing, because poor house-keeping has resulted in having the same supplies purchased by several departments and stored in as many places throughout the city. Persons properly trained would inspect and test the supplies and materials wherever possible, or where doubt existed, before completing the process of receiving them. Trained personnel would understand how superfluous records could be eliminated and much duplication of work and effort stopped.

Instead of many employees working in various sections of the city, by concentration of personnel in one central location, the requirements for personnel should be greatly reduced. With a central warehouse with trained personnel, the officials of the city would be in a position to establish and enforce practical standards of orderliness in the storage of supplies and materials. A central warehouse administered by an experienced staff would result in a much more effective control of supplies and materials and make it possible for the city to give practical supervision and control over items which cost the city large sums of money in the annual budget.

This plan, properly controlled, would result annually in substantial savings not only to the city but indirectly to those who support our city government—the taxpayers.

"ASPECTS OF RECEIVING AND STORING"

By D. H. Featherstone,
Panelist

Any recommended system which provides for the control, procurement, receipt, storage and use of consumable materials and supplies should with respect to receiving and storing be predicated on at least the following fundamental procedures:

1. Maximum centralization of receiving and storing under adequate supervision and sufficient and qualified personnel for the operation of the same.
2. The use of proper equipment and the arrangement of physical stores so as to facilitate and expedite the respective materials and to provide maximum control.
3. The taking of periodic physical inventories and routine inspection of storage.
4. The use of adequate receiving records, purchase, and stores requisitions and other related forms which will provide the utmost protection and accounting for supplies and equipment.

Maximum centralization of receiving and storing under adequate supervision with sufficient and qualified personnel is desirable in the interest of control. The processing of all supplies and equipment through one location pin points responsibility and subsequently tends to dissipate loss. The Receiving Department should be a component of the warehouse so that materials may be removed rapidly to storage with a minimum of exposure. Sufficient personnel should be maintained so that receiving, checking, and inspecting will not be rushed or sketchy and storage will not be haphazard with a consequent potential for loss. Qualified personnel will be conversant with the formalities which are necessary to protect against loss either in the receiving process or in storing.

The use of skid platforms whenever practical is preferable for receiving and storing since such use facilitates, eliminates duplication of effort and also provides certain protection. The employment of hydraulic lift trucks is consistent with the use of skid platforms. Rollers, dollies, lever trucks, various types of flat and drum trucks and in some instances chain falls are necessary items in connection with receiving and storing.

Physical stores should be arranged consistent with control and the reduction of lost motion. Items should be stored according to categories. Materials which are constantly being issued should be close to the location for distribution and the slower-moving supplies in the more remote storage spaces. Entrances to various floors or rooms should be by one avenue and this under supervision.

The taking of periodic physical inventories is desirable to reveal possible loss or theft. Routine inspection of storage tends to eliminate loss through dead issues and other factors, including mechanical breakdown, existence of vermin, careless routine on the part of employees, etc. It provides for the scrutinizing of slow-moving items and materials which are tending to become obsolete and should ultimately result in the reduction of such inventories and encourage better use of the materials.

The use of adequate receiving records and other forms related to receiving and storing is of paramount interest. The receiving record should serve as a medium for control as well as a record of goods received. In addition to quantities and descriptions of materials received it should contain all information pertinent to ascertaining the dealer's obligation in fulfilling the terms of his contract, any exceptions taken at time of delivery and remarks which will assist in determining whether or not final payment should be made or modified. Guides in connection with accounts payable and stock account posting should also be contained therein.

Issue requisitions should be tailored to implement control of materials. Preparation of such requisitions to be drawn against supplies may be allowed numerous key personnel but the authority to approve such should be confined to a few. The requisition should be drawn up so as to protect against raising or addition after approval has been given.

The implementing of the above enumerated fundamentals should offer a foundation for practical inventory control in connection with receiving and storing.

"SUPPLY INVENTORY CONTROL"

By Gerald T. Mahoney,
Panelist

The application of improved inventory control methods is of the utmost importance to all businesses whether they are organizations operated for profit or nonprofit organizations such as the City of Boston. The decisive factor in determining whether a business makes profits (saves money) or

James F. Daley New Superintendent of Police

Police Com. Thomas F. Sullivan, on December 11, appointed Deputy Superintendent James F. Daley to fill the vacancy caused last week by the death of the late Superintendent of Police Edward W. Fallon.

The Commissioner named Capt. Michael T. Clougherty, Station 6, South Boston, to succeed Superintendent Daley as Deputy Superintendent and Capt. Francis C. Beringer of the Detective Bureau to replace Captain Clougherty at South Boston.

The new Superintendent of Police joined the force October 1, 1919. He served with the United States Navy in World War I and passed the Massachusetts Bar while a member of the police force. He was promoted to sergeant in 1925; to lieutenant in 1930; to captain in 1933; and to deputy superintendent in 1941.

In 1933 he organized the post of supervisor of police cases. From 1927 to 1933 he worked as special assistant in the office of the late District Attorney William J. Foley and during the past six years he was the chief investigator in the Brink's robbery.

loses may well be the efficiency of the inventory control system.

It is difficult to classify the various inventory control systems of these times, as there are many variants of each method and a wide range of methods. Within a single business it may be appropriate to use several fundamentally different stock control systems, because of the different nature of the various items carried. Inventory control provides a continuous means of verifying and accounting for materials and supplies purchased and issued. To obtain adequate control, it is necessary that the responsibility for storing and issuing supplies from a central storage unit be under the supervision of a purchasing agent or, as in the case of the City of Boston where there are numerous departments, the storekeepers or those individuals responsible for the supplies and materials in their departments.

Perhaps one of the more appropriate systems applicable to city departments in governing supplies and materials is the perpetual and physical inventory system. This system, already in use in some departments, could undoubtedly be used in many more. A perpetual inventory provides for a continuous record of supply receipts, issues and stock on hand. An inventory card is kept for each supply item under inventory control as support to a general control account. The balance of the control account reflects the aggregate of receipts and issues posted to the individual inventory cards.

More than one control account is sometimes maintained for each major category of supplies, for example, office supplies, dietary supplies, plumbing supplies, medical and surgical supplies, etc. Provision for maximum and minimum quantities of each item is shown on each inventory card. This provision assists in preventing overstocking and indicates when supplies are to be reordered.

Pricing the Inventory

The three general methods of pricing withdrawals of supplies from the inventory are:

1. First in—First out.
2. Last in—First out.
3. Average unit price.

Adjusting the Inventory.

At least once a year the storeroom supplies should be counted and compared with that balance shown on the inventory cards. If discrepancies occur, the actual balances listed on the inventory cards should be adjusted to agree with the physical inventory, only after the head of the department has been satisfied with the reason for the discrepancy. The value of the adjusted physical count is determined, entered in the inventory cards, and compared with the value shown in the inventory control account. Differences between these two balances would be reflected by a proper bookkeeping entry. A physical count of certain selected storeroom supplies could be made each month as a routine method of adjusting inventory accounts in order to reduce the amount of work involved in a complete annual physical inventory. This procedure spreads the work load more evenly during the period and enables one to adjust discrepancies in a more orderly manner.

Stores Requisitions

Supplies should never be issued from the storeroom without an approved stores requisition. This requisition should be priced and coded in the business office after the requisitioned supplies have been delivered to the proper departments. In some instances, preprinted stores requisitions should be used, especially where the supply unit and the supplies most frequently requested by the departments are the same. It should also be possible to use separate forms for the various categories of supplies kept in the storeroom, such as automobile supplies, household supplies, plumbing supplies, etc. The advantages of a preprinted requisition are:

1. Forms are more completely legible.
2. Filling requisitions in the storeroom is facilitated.
3. Clerical work is reduced.

In general, the stores requisition should include columns for entering quantity requested, supply unit, quantity delivered, name of supply item, unit cost and total cost.

At the end of each month or on predetermined issue dates, the stores requisitions should be summarized and posted.

Having touched lightly on one phase of inventory control, and knowing what a great asset inventory control has proven in private business, there is very little doubt that, if properly employed, the City of Boston would save thousands of dollars.

"INVENTORY AND EQUIPMENT CONTROL"

By Cornelius E. O'Leary,
Panelist

The purpose of inventory control in the storerooms maintained by the various departments of the City of Boston should be to standardize stock records, stores requisitions and physical inventory procedure and to prevent unauthorized use of materials and theft of materials and supplies, as well as to provide efficient methods of handling so that unnecessary delays might be eliminated.

The maintenance of stock records, methods of distribution, methods of taking physical inventories, and reconciliation of the physical inventory with the book inventory in all probability differs in some degree in each city department which maintains storerooms. A standard system should be established so that the same records and general procedure would be followed in all departments.

A central storehouse for standard items might be arranged but, because of the number of specialized items used in various departments, local storerooms are necessary, in my opinion. However, regardless of the number of storerooms which are maintained, materials and supplies which are used by many departments should be standardized and suitable specifications should be drawn so that bids for large quantities could be solicited and lower prices thus secured.

Minimum and maximum ordering points on every item should be computed to insure the most efficient operation of the storeroom and all obsolete items should be written off and disposed of.

Attention should be given to the arrangement and method of storing materials in the storerooms to facilitate handling with a minimum of time and effort, and to expedite distribution. Although the City of Boston is not a profit-making organization I believe that, in the interest of the taxpayer and for the most efficient use of the appropriations which are allowed for stock and materials, much thought should be given toward modernizing our methods of inventory control. However complete we may make our inventory records, there can be no substitute for the periodic verification of the inventories by physical count. This verification should be made at least once each year and those sections of the inventory over which it is impossible to exercise close control, such as items which must be stored in the open, should be counted more frequently.

It would, however, be pointless to make any change unless a group of auditors, from some central authority, were empowered to check all stock records and inventories periodically.

Another phase of inventory control not associated with store-rooms is equipment and other assets of the City of Boston.

At one time all items of equipment were tagged and listed in a central place, additions were reported to that authority and items which were traded or junked were also reported so that the list would be up to date. This system seems to have been abandoned with the result that there is no longer in existence, in one place, a complete listing of the assets of the city.

All items of equipment, which are not ordinarily carried in store-rooms, such as office equipment, machines, cabinets, files and furniture; engineering equipment; equipment peculiar to hospitals and other institutions; equipment used in pumping stations, on bridges, and other installations; equipment and machinery used in work shops, machine shops, blacksmith shops, etc., should be listed and tagged, together with the date of acquisition, price, and serial number, and maintained by a central authority. A periodic inventory of these items should also be made. Depreciation should be computed on all items of equipment and this should be recorded periodically so that a true value might be established.

To utilize these records to the fullest advantage maintenance costs should be taken into consideration, particularly on vehicles, based on mileage, fuel and oil consumption and repair costs, so that efficiency would not be impaired and replacements could be made at the proper time.

To sum up, I believe that a system of inventory control should be established by the Administrative Services Department to provide for the standardization of stock and inventory records, methods of distribution, methods of ordering, setting up of specifications on standardized materials, computations of minimum and maximum requirements, and an effective system of taking and verifying physical inventories. This would require increased personnel but the saving in loss of materials and increased efficiency should make the effort worth while.

CITY OF BOSTON.

Proceedings of City Council.

Monday, December 3, 1956.

Regular meeting of the City Council held in the Council Chamber, City Hall, at 2 p.m., President McCORMACK in the chair, and all the members present.

The Reverend Francis S. Miaskiewicz, D.C.L., of St. Casimir's Roman Catholic Church, Maynard, was escorted to the rostrum.

INVOCATION BY REV. FRANCIS S. MIASKIEWICZ.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

Almighty and Eternal God, by Thy grace we have lived to see this day when we are again gathered together to take part in the serious and important deliberations and decisions which are the proper function of the Boston City Council. We are men of varying ages, different backgrounds, and avocations. But this we have in common, that our lives are all inspired by a holy concern for the common good of our electorate.

We recognize the august importance of our office. We realize, as St. Thomas Aquinas teaches, that all authority stems from You, our loving and provident God. And, therefore, we are fully aware that, whatever be the authority vested in and wielded by us during these deliberations, it is a direct participation in Your own divine authority and power.

Therefore, it is true that we are accountable for our actions to our electorate. It is true that we are ever accountable before the tribunal of our own consciences. But, first of all and above all, we are accountable to You, Almighty God, because we are the earthly stewards of Thy divine authority. Give us, then, the light ever to see the true course, the course of fairness and of justice, the course of mercy and of charity. Give us also the courage to follow in practice the dictates of truth. Guard us from error; but, if err we must, let our shortcomings never occur through malice but only from forgivable human weakness and oversight.

Dear God, be with us always, help us in our tasks because we want to be Your faithful and constant servants. This we ask through Christ our Lord. Amen.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

At the request of Councillor McDonough, Father Miaskiewicz offered the following prayer for the repose of the soul of Edward W. Fallon, Superintendent of the Police Department.

Our Father, who art in heaven, hallowed be Thy name; Thy kingdom come; Thy will be done on earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread; and forgive us our trespasses as we forgive those who trespass against us; and lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil. Amen.

Hail Mary, full of grace, the Lord is with thee; blessed art thou amongst women, and blessed is the fruit of thy womb, Jesus. Holy Mary, Mother of God, pray for us sinners, now and at the hour of our death. Amen.

Eternal rest grant unto him, O Lord. May perpetual light shine upon him. May his soul and the souls of all the faithful departed through the mercy of God rest in peace. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

"SLOW" SIGNS AND PAINT CROSSWALKS IN FRONT OF POST OFFICE, BRIGHTON.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 3, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication from the Traffic Commissioner concerning your order of November 13, 1956, relative to painting a crosswalk and "Slow" signs as well as take care of any other necessary action to insure the safety of pedestrians crossing Washington street, in front of the post office, in Brighton.

TRAFFIC LIGHT AT ST. EDWARD ROAD AND SARATOGA STREET.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 3, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication from the Traffic Commissioner concerning your order of October 29, 1956, relative to installing a pedestrian traffic light at the corner of St. Edward road and Saratoga street.

Respectfully,

J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

Boston Traffic Commission,

November 29, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

In response to a Council order dated October 29, 1956, introduced by Councillors McCormack, Kerrigan, and Foley, requesting the installation of a pedestrian traffic light at the corner of St. Edward road and Saratoga street, a survey of the area in question has been made.

Our record of personal injury accidents at this location is considerably lower than at numerous other intersections throughout the city.

St. Edward road serves as an entrance to the large M.T.A. parking lot at Orient Heights Station and the principal activity is during the morning and evening peak hours when automobiles enter or leave the parking lot. During the remainder of the day there is very little activity at this location.

Under such circumstances, it is possible, frequently, to have a police officer assigned during the morning and evening hours to handle the problem.

There are many intersections where traffic lights are needed during all of the day and evening hours and until such time as we can achieve the installation of signal lights at such locations it would not be in the public interest to divert appropriations to areas where problems are limited to two or three hours a day. This is the status which applies to churches, schools, and, in this instance, a parking lot. It may be readily seen that in such areas heavy traffic is limited to a very short portion of the day.

At the present time we do not have any funds for traffic signals at any location. In connection with our 1957 activities we hope that funds will be made available for some signal light installations but, as stated above, there are several areas where there exists an extreme need for signalization and in order to provide lights at such locations we will have to forego the installation at St. Edward road and Saratoga street for the present.

Sincerely yours,

WM. ARTHUR REILLY, Commissioner.

TRANSFER OF LAND ON SALEM STREET TO COMMISSIONER OF REAL PROPERTY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 3, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication from Fire Commissioner Francis X. Cotter in which he recommends the transfer of land at 133 Salem street, Boston Proper, to the Commissioner of Real Property.

I submit herewith an order transferring this land from the care, custody, control and management of the Fire Department to the care, custody, control and management of the Commissioner of Real Property and recommend the passage of the order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Fire Department, November 16, 1956.
Hon. John B. Hynes and City Council.

Gentlemen:
The Fire Department has in its control the land at 133 Salem street, Boston Proper, formerly occupied by Engine Company 8. The transfer of Engine Company 8 to a new fire station rendered the property no longer necessary for public purposes, and I, therefore, recommend that it be transferred to the Commissioner of Real Property for public sale.

Respectfully,
FRANCIS X. COTTER,
Fire Commissioner.

Whereas, The City of Boston is the owner in fee of two (2) parcels of land containing approximately two thousand five hundred sixty-eight (2,568) square feet located on the northeasterly side of Salem street, being numbered 133 in the numbering of said Salem street, Boston Proper, held by the city for Fire Department purposes; and

Whereas, The Fire Commissioner has determined that the above-mentioned parcels of land are no longer required for Fire Department purposes; and

Whereas, The Real Property Board desires to sell said parcels of land; now, therefore, it is hereby Ordered, That the above-mentioned parcels of land be, and the same hereby are, transferred from the care, custody, control and management of the Fire Department to the care, custody, control and management of the Commissioner of Real Property.

Referred to the Committee on Public Lands.

TRANSFER OF APPROPRIATION TO ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 3, 1956.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen:
I submit herewith an order providing for the transfer of $70,000 from Available Sources to the appropriation for the Administrative Services Department and a letter from the Director of Administrative Services explaining the reasons therefor.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Administrative Services Department,
December 3, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

You are respectfully asked to request the City Council to transfer from Available Sources to the Printing Section, Purchasing Division, Administrative Services Department, the sum of $70,000 which is urgently needed to carry on the printing services for the remainder of the calendar year.

The transfer of the printing activities of the Library Department to the Printing Section, the reorganization necessary to provide for the production of the Police and Voting lists by the addressograph method, the incidental expenses for providing supplies and materials which could not be anticipated at the time of the preparation of the 1956 Printing Section budget have combined to create the necessity for providing these additional funds.

The basic reasons for the deficit are as follows:
In order to insure delivery on scheduled dates of the regular and the supplementary voting lists for the Presidential Election Year of 1956, it was necessary to employ additional temporary employees and to incur overtime charges by the use of permanent employees in expediting these lists. In addition to this, the union employees in the plant, in compliance with existing agreements with the Graphic Arts Institute of New England, were granted salary increases which could not be anticipated at the time of the preparation of the 1956 budget.

Substantial moving expenses were incurred in the transfer of machinery and equipment from the Library Department to the Printing Section.

During the current year it became necessary to make alterations to a room in the Printing Plant building for the purpose of making it suitable to adequately house the addressograph unit. In addition to this, extraordinary repairs have been required on some of the old equipment and machinery, much of which is over thirty years of age.

In addition to this, a substantial increase in the volume of production at the Printing Section has necessitated a like increase in the amount of supplies and materials required to be purchased for the completion of this increased work load.

It is therefore requested that the following allocation be made:

For Personal Services.....	$40,000
For Contractual Services.....	15,000
For Supplies and Materials.....	15,000
	$70,000

Respectfully yours,
JOHN A. BREEN, Director.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Real Property Department, 2, Contractual Services, $20,000, Library Department, 1, Personal Services, $10,000, Election Department, 1, Personal Services, $5,000, Hospital Department, 7, Structures and Improvements, $5,000, to the appropriation for Administrative Services Department, 1, Personal Services, $40,000.

From the appropriation for Hospital Department, 7, Structures and Improvements, $15,000, to the appropriation for 2, Contractual Services, $15,000.

From the appropriation for Hospital Department, 7, Structures and Improvements, $15,000, to the appropriation for 3, Supplies and Materials, $15,000.

Coun. McDONOUGH, for all other members of the City Council, offered the following:

Whereas, Superintendent Edward W. Fallon gave to the people of Boston thirty-seven years of outstanding public service as a member of the Police Department; and

Whereas, Superintendent Fallon's exemplary service and heroic record of accomplishments started with the position of patrolman and continued through every promotional rank, including sergeant, lieutenant, captain and, finally, to the important and difficult position of superintendent, the duties of which office he carried out with distinction and in an exceptionally faithful and efficient manner for the past twenty years; and

Whereas, Almighty God has seen fit in his wisdom to call Superintendent Fallon to his heavenly reward; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, sincerely regrets the untimely death of Superintendent Fallon and desires to express its sincere sympathy and condolence to Mrs. Fallon and family and prays that Divine Providence will grant them the strength and courage to carry on in the face of their tremendous loss.

The resolution was adopted by a unanimous rising vote.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON ORDINANCES.

Coun. AHEARN, for the Committee on Ordinances, submitted the following:

1. Report on petition of members of the George Wright Golf Course (referred July 2) re fees for playing golf—recommending that no further action is necessary.

2. Report on communication from the Corporation Counsel and ordinance (referred November 30, 1953) concerning the regulation of the operation of sound trucks—recommending that no further action is necessary.

The reports were severally accepted.

CONGRATULATIONS TO BOSTON FIRE DEPARTMENT.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered the following:

Whereas, On Sunday, December 2, 1956, there was a four-alarm fire at 150 St. Botolph street in the Back Bay section of Boston; and

Whereas, This fire took the lives of two persons, made many homeless, and caused a substantial financial loss to the owner; and

Whereas, But for the outstanding work performed by the officers and men of the Boston Fire Department who answered the alarms for this fire, many more lives would have been lost, and a congested neighborhood could have been engulfed in flames; and

Whereas, The amazing courage and excellent work displayed by the officers and men of the Boston Fire Department on this terrible occasion were consistent with the highest traditions of this department; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council, in meeting assembled, extends its highest congratulations and deepest appreciation to all officers and men of the Boston Fire Department who participated in the many daring rescues and the extinguishment of the fire; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Fire Commissioner and to each company that participated in this operation.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

LEGISLATION TO LICENSE VENDING MACHINES.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered the following:

Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Corporation Counsel to prepare legislation for presentation to the Great and General Court for the 1957 session to enable the City of Boston to license all vending machines not now covered by ordinance.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

ORDINANCE INCREASING FEES FOR AUTOMATIC AMUSEMENT DEVICES.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN offered the following:
City of Boston.

In the Year Nineteen Hundred and Fifty-six.

An Ordinance Increasing the Fees for Automatic Amusement Device Licenses.

Be it ordained by the City Council of Boston, as follows:

SECTION 1. Chapter 40A of the Revised Ordinances of 1947 as inserted by section 2 of chapter 7 of the Ordinances of 1956 is hereby amended by striking out clause (20) as so appearing and inserting in place thereof the following:

(20) Automatic Amusement Device License. The annual fee for a license granted by the licensing board under section 177A of chapter 140 of the General Laws for any automatic amusement device licensed thereunder shall be $100. The fee for any such license granted after January thirty-first in any year shall be $8 for each calendar month in which the license may be exercised. The fee for every amendment of any such license by changing the premises specified shall be $5.

Referred to the Committee on Ordinances.

APPOINTMENT OF ADVISORY COMMITTEE ON URBAN RENEWAL.

Coun. COLLINS offered the following:

Whereas, The urban renewal program is of vital importance to the future of the City of Boston; and

Whereas, Increased citizen participation in the program and additional education of the public at large is a prerequisite to a more effective program; and

Whereas, In many states, Oregon for example, the state enabling statute makes the creation of a citizens' advisory committee mandatory and many other communities have created such committees on their own initiative, notably the Allegheny Conference on Community Development; and

Whereas, No such Advisory Committee is in existence in Boston; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Boston Housing Authority is hereby requested to consult with Mayor John B. Hynes and request the Mayor to name a provisional chairman as a first step in selecting an Advisory Committee on Urban Renewal, and that there be appointed by the Mayor, in consultation with the Boston Housing Authority, an Advisory Committee on Urban Renewal giving representation to all of the principal business, industrial, labor, professional, real estate, building, civic and social interests of the city. The services of the committee will be purely advisory. Some of the functions of the committee might be to advise concerning the selection of project areas, as well as in relocating families which are displaced.

The committee should also be of considerable assistance in determining the best reuses of the cleared land with consideration both for the requirements of city planning and of obtaining maximum return.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

LEGISLATION FOR INCREASED PAYMENT FOR SUMNER TUNNEL.

Coun. FOLEY and McCORMACK offered the following:

Whereas, It now appears that because of a variety of circumstances, transfer of the Sumner

Tunnel from the City of Boston to the Massachusetts Port Authority will not take place, if at all, until a year after the time contemplated when the original legislation was proposed; and

Whereas, In the interim, the Sumner Tunnel will write off a very substantial amount of the bonded debt still owed by the facility; and

Whereas, The debt being less than contemplated at the time of the passage of the legislation, the Massachusetts Port Authority investment in the Sumner Tunnel will be correspondingly lowered; and

Whereas, The present contemplated outlay of the Massachusetts Port Authority for the purpose of acquiring the tunnel appears to be modest in view of the fact that the tunnel is to be capitalized at double to triple the outlay to acquire it; therefore be it

Resolved, That the Boston City Council feels that justice and equity demand that the sum to be paid the City of Boston should be increased by legislation by an amount equal to the amount of the debt on the tunnel written off, between the date of transfer implied in the legislation originally, and the ultimate transfer date.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

RECESS.

On motion of Councillor White, the Council voted to take a recess at 3.52 p.m., subject to the call of the Chair. The members reassembled in the Council Chamber, and were called to order by President McCORMACK at 5.57 p.m.

REZONING DISTRICT BOUNDED BY PERKINS STREET, JAMAICAWAY, AND PARKTON ROAD, JAMAICA PLAIN.

Coun. McLAUGHLIN and COLLINS offered the following:

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be directed to give a ruling to the Boston City Council as to whether or not the construction of a motel is within the purview of the regulations pertaining to an R-40 zone; and be it further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor request the Board of Zoning Adjustment to consider the advisability of rezoning the district in Jamaica Plain, bounded by Perkins street, the Jamaica-way, and Parkton road, with the specific intent of preventing the construction, in that residential area, of a motel.

Coun. PIEMONTE in the chair.

President McCORMACK in the chair.

The foregoing order was passed under suspension of the rules.

PLAY AREA OR PLAYGROUND AT CORNER OF HOBART STREET AND RANELEGH ROAD, BRIGHTON.

Coun. AHEARN offered the following:

Whereas, The neighborhood in the vicinity of Hobart street and Ranelegh road, Brighton, is in great need of a play area and/or playground; and

Whereas, There is a fine open area readily adaptable and available located at Hobart street and Ranelegh road, the former site of a school building; and

Whereas, Said site is under the jurisdiction of the School Department and is not now being utilized to its fullest and best advantage for the benefit of the city and the neighborhood's people; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That his Honor the Mayor is hereby requested to direct the Park Commissioner to consult immediately with the proper authorities in the School Department with a view to the acquisition by the Park Department of the city-owned land at the corner of Hobart street and Ranelegh road, Brighton, for the purpose of preparing and devoting said site to play area and/or playground purposes on a year-round basis.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

REIMBURSEMENT FOR INTEREST COSTS ON SUMNER TUNNEL.

Coun. AHEARN offered the following:
Whereas, An important and persuasive factor in the vote of the Boston City Council transferring the Sumner Tunnel to the Port Authority was the receipt by the City of Boston in the year 1956 of the cash consideration to be given which cash it was contemplated was to be used to lower the tax rate of City of Boston in 1956; and

Whereas, The receipt of the cash consideration for the Sumner Tunnel by the City of Boston has not and will not be received in 1956 and this fact has necessitated the borrowing of substantial sums of money at the high interest rates of today's money market; now, therefore, be it

Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel of the City of Boston prepare at once a petition for legislation to be filed by the President of the City Council and which would reimburse the City of Boston for the interest costs incurred by the city in borrowing special funds to take care of the failure of the City of Boston to receive the cash consideration for the sale of Sumner Tunnel in 1956; and be it further Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor consult with the Port Authority on this matter, and that his Honor the Mayor remind the Port Authority that its representative, Mr. Ephraim Brest, has already told the City Council in a public hearing that he personally favors such legislation and that he feels that the Port Authority has a moral obligation to repay the City of Boston for costs of interest incurred in borrowing special funds because of the failure of the City of Boston to receive the cash consideration for the transfer by the city of the Sumner Tunnel.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

APPROVAL BY CITY COUNCIL OF AP- POINTMENTS TO ZONING COMMIS- SION.

Coun. AHEARN offered the following:
Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel prepare for filing forthwith by the Chairman of the Committee on Ordinances a petition for legislation amending chapter 665 of the Acts of 1956 to provide that appointments by the Mayor of the members of the Zoning Commission shall be subject to confirmation by the Boston City Council.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

BORROWING FOR URBAN RENEWAL.

Coun. FOLEY offered the following:
Ordered, That his Honor the Mayor be requested to seek legislation raising the general statutory limit on borrowing for urban renewal purposes or to seek special legislation raising the limit for Boston.

Passed under suspension of the rules.

LEGISLATION TO INCREASE PURCHASE PRICE FOR SUMNER TUNNEL.

Coun. COLLINS and McDONOUGH offered the following:

Whereas, It now appears that the transfer of the Sumner Tunnel from the City of Boston to the Massachusetts Port Authority will not occur until at least one year after the time contemplated when the original legislation was proposed; and

Whereas, The total cost to the Port Authority was originally intended to approximate $15,000,000; and

Whereas, The original cost of construction was $19,000,000 to the city and the replacement cost would approximate $35,000,000; therefore be it

Resolved, That legislation be drafted by the Law Department to amend the original act to authorize payment to the City of Boston of $20,000,000 to include retirement of funded debt payment of tax moneys expended to make up operating deficits, and the balance to be paid to the general fund of the City of Boston.

The resolution was adopted under suspension of the rules.

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE REPORT.

Coun. WHITE, for the Executive Committee, submitted the following:

1. Report on resolution (referred today) to increase sum to be paid the City of Boston for Sumner Tunnel—recommending that the resolution be adopted.

The report was accepted, and the resolution was adopted.

2. Report on report of Special Committee on Perambulation of Boundaries (referred November 28)—recommending that the report be recommended to the Special Committee on Perambulation to be rewritten.

The report was accepted, and the said reference ordered.

3. Report on message of the Mayor and order (referred November 26) concerning dredging by State Department of Public Works in Savin Hill Basin—recommending that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the order was passed.

4. Report on message of the Mayor and order (referred today) for transfer of appropriation of $70,000 to Administrative Services Department—recommending that the order ought to pass.

The report was accepted, and the order was passed, yeas 8, nays 0:

Yeas—Councillors Collins, Foley, Kerrigan, McCormack, McDonough, McLaughlin, Piemonte, White—8.

Nays—0.

Voting Present—Councillor Ahearn.

Adjourned at 6.15 P.M., on motion of Councillor Piemonte, to meet on Monday, December 10, 1956, at 2 P.M.

Note: All debate of City Council eliminated from proceedings in accordance with Chapter 447, Acts of 1947.

A BILL REGULATING THE MANUFACTURE AND SALE OF ICE MILK MIX.

Comment

Boston's Health Commissioner has brought to attention that the present food laws do not cover ice milk mix although in practice they have been construed to do so. The purpose of the above bill is to eliminate the technicality and protect the public health by regulating ice milk mix in the same way that ice cream mix is regulated today.

A BILL AUTHORIZING A PERSON CLAIMING UNDER AN EMPLOYEE OF THE COMMONWEALTH OR A POLITICAL SUBDIVISION THEREOF WHO DIES BEFORE RETIREMENT FROM SERVICE THEREFOR TO WAIVE ANY PORTION OF ANY ANNUITY OR PENSION PAYABLE TO HIM.

Comment

Existing law permits any person retired from the service of the Commonwealth and its political subdivisions to waive any portion of his pension or retirement allowance if for any reason he wishes to do so. Existing law extends the same privilege to any person claiming under any such retired employee whether as beneficiary, dependent or otherwise. Existing law fails to extend the privilege to persons claiming under employees who die before retirement. The above bill would remedy this imperfection.

A BILL RELATIVE TO THE PAYMENT FOR CARE OF CANCER PATIENTS IN THE PONDVILLE HOSPITAL OR THE CANCER DIVISION OF THE WESTFIELD STATE SANATORIUM.

Comment

Enactment of the above bill will eliminate the circuity of action permissible under existing law which requires municipalities to pay the Commonwealth for the care of cancer patients in certain State hospitals and then collect from the patients. Under the bill, the Commonwealth would charge the municipalities only in the case of needy persons by collecting direct from those able to pay.

A BILL RELATIVE TO THE PUBLICATION PRESCRIBED FOR NOTICES OF HEARINGS ANTECEDENT TO THE ORDERING OF CERTAIN PUBLIC IMPROVEMENTS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

Comment

Ordinarily a legal notice is not published more than once in a single week. Enactment of the above bill would save Boston about $5,000 annual expense by conforming Boston's highway improvement law to this norm through changing from twice a week for two successive weeks to once a week for two successive weeks the publication prescribed for notices of hearing antecedent to orders for highway improvements in Boston.

A BILL RELATIVE TO CERTAIN COPIES OF RECORDS OF BIRTHS, MARRIAGES AND DEATHS.

Comment

Under existing law, the copies of records of births, marriages and deaths which municipalities are required by law to send to the State Secretary are required to be written copies. The foregoing bill would, if enacted, permit them to be copies reproduced in actual size by photographic or microphotographic process, which would insure complete accuracy and, in Boston at least, make the operation more economical and efficient.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR THE IMPOSITION OF A FINE FOR THE VIOLATION OF A CONDITION OF AN OPEN-AIR PARKING SPACE LICENSE.

Comment

The present statute provides that whoever, not being licensed, engages in the business of conducting or maintaining an open-air parking space or, being licensed, engages in such business in a place other than that designated in his license or after notice that his license has been suspended or revoked shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100. When complaint is received, however, it generally concerns the violation of a condition of a license; but such violation does not come within the penalty provision. The above bill is offered to remedy this imperfection in existing law by providing in effect that whoever, being licensed, violates any condition of his license, shall be punished by a fine of not more than $100.

A BILL RELATIVE TO THE AMOUNT THE CITY OF BOSTON MAY BORROW OUTSIDE ITS DEBT LIMIT TO DEFRAY IN PART THE DEVELOPMENT OR ACQUISITION COSTS OF PROJECTS OF THE BOSTON HOUSING AUTHORITY.

Comment

Under existing law Boston's outstanding debt incurred to defray such part of the development, acquisition or operating costs of Boston Housing Authority projects as is not met by grants from the Federal Government may approximate only $7,500,000. If redevelopment projects in addition to the New York Streets and the West End projects are to be sponsored, additional funds will be needed. Passage of the above bill would make the debt limit on redevelopment projects the same as the debt limit on veterans' housing projects and thereby make it possible for the redevelopment program to go forward.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT BY THE MASSACHUSETTS PORT AUTHORITY OF AN ADDITIONAL SUM TO COMPENSATE THE CITY OF BOSTON FOR DELAY IN THE ACQUISITION BY SAID AUTHORITY OF THE SUMNER TUNNEL.

Comment

The statement filed by the Governor with the State Secretary declaring the Massachusetts Port Authority Act an emergency law makes it plain that it was intended and expected that the payments to be made by that Authority to the City were to be made in 1956. The act consequently made no provisions in case such payment were not so made. Passage of the above bill would correct this defect by providing for an additional payment in such case equivalent on an annual basis to approximately the amount by which tunnel tolls now exceed operating costs.

A BILL REQUIRING REVENUE DEFICITS IN MUNICIPALITIES TO BE RAISED BY TAXATION IN THE SUCCEEDING YEAR AND PROVIDING FOR THE FUNDING OF CERTAIN SUCH DEFICITS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON OUTSIDE THE DEBT LIMIT.

Comment

Municipalities in Massachusetts are operated on a balanced budget basis. That is to say, the theory is that the tax levy when added to other receipts will exactly equal expenditures. The tax levy includes an overlay (or reserve) for anticipated tax abatements. If this overlay is inadequate, the law requires the deficit to be raised in the next succeeding tax levy. Another factor affecting the annual tax levy which cannot be determined with exactness in advance is the amount to be received during the year other than through the tax levy. Existing law fails to require the amount by which miscellaneous receipts are overestimated to be included in the next succeeding tax levy. This results in the expenditure of funds never actually received or, to use the parlance of town accountants, in a revenue deficit. It is expected that on December 31, 1956, the revenue deficit built up over the years by Boston will exceed $15,000,000. The above bill would strengthen the City's financial position by allowing the funding of the existing deficit and by preventing the accumulation of such deficits in the future.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR THE PAYMENT BY THE COMMONWEALTH OF THE COMPENSATION AWARDED BY CERTAIN COURTS TO MASTERS, AUDITORS AND CERTAIN OTHERS.

Comment

The administration of justice is the responsibility of the Commonwealth. In recognition of this responsibility, the Commonwealth pays the salaries of the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Superior and Probate Courts; but when they appoint an auditor or master to sit on a case, the law is that the county in which the auditor or master is appointed must pay him. With the increased reference of motor vehicle tort cases to auditors, this law is expected to cost Boston over $200,000 annually. Passage of the foregoing bill would place this responsibility where it belongs, namely, upon the Commonwealth.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR THE REIMBURSEMENT OF THE CITY OF BOSTON BY THE COMMONWEALTH FOR THE TAKING FROM SAID CITY BY THE METROPOLITAN DISTRICT COMMISSION OF A PARCEL OF LAND SUBSEQUENTLY SOLD BY SAID COMMISSION.

Comment

On March 1, 1948, by a Land Court decree foreclosing all rights to redeem from a tax title, the City of Boston acquired for nonpayment of taxes aggregating $4,778.97 the parcel of land situate at the northeasterly corner of South Street and the Arborway and containing about 16,000 square feet. On September 17, 1951, the Metropolitan District Commission took the entire parcel in the name and behalf of the Commonwealth for the Forest Hills Overpass without any payment of damages to the City. By deed dated September 9, 1954, the Commonwealth acting through the Metropolitan District Commission under Chapter 620 of the Acts of 1953, in consideration of $1,400 paid to the Commonwealth by the Jamaica Plain Post No. 76, Incorporated, American Legion, conveyed to the latter about 11,300 square feet of the land. The purpose of the proposed resolve is to have the Commonwealth turn over to the City the $1,400 received by it.

A BILL EXTENDING THE TIME DURING WHICH ASSESSORS SHALL HAVE AUTHORITY TO ACT ON APPLICATIONS FOR ABATEMENT.

Comment

Existing law deprives local assessing departments of the power to act upon applications for tax abatement after December 31st. Since such applications are generally not filed until October 1st, it becomes a physical impossibility at least for Boston's Assessing Department to act before the December 31st deadline upon the thousands of applications for abatement filed with it. The result is that taxpayers are forced to incur the expense of going to the Appellate Tax Board without having an opportunity to have their case acted upon by local assessing officials. The above bill would extend to nine months the period for action by local assessing officials.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR THE MODIFICATION OF OFF-STREET PARKING FACILITY LEASES OF THE CITY OF BOSTON IN CERTAIN CASES.

Comment

As the law now stands, off-street parking facility leases of the City of Boston cannot be modified and may be cancelled only for the breach of a covenant or condition thereof. This is a most salutary provision except when it works to the detriment of the City as when the off-street parking program cannot be furthered by the addition of one or more stories to existing structures under amendments to present leases. Such additions not only obviate new land takings but also bring in additional revenue without further capital expenditure by the City. The above bill seeks an amendment of the law to allow the necessary modification of leases in such cases.

A BILL CLARIFYING THE PROVISIONS OF THE MASSACHUSETTS PORT AUTHORITY ACT RESPECTING REIMBURSEMENT FOR RETIREMENT ALLOWANCES IN CERTAIN CASES.

Comment

In its original draft, the Massachusetts Port Authority Act conformed strictly to the Metropolitan Transit Authority Act in its provisions respecting inter-governmental reimbursement for retirement allowances payable to personnel of the Authority. By revision in the course of enactment, additional language was added covering the same subject matter but in a different way with resultant inconsistency. Enactment of the above bill would clarify the situation by deleting the words added by the revision and inserting words designed to achieve the probable objective of the revision.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR THE REIMBURSEMENT OF CITIES AND TOWNS BY THE COMMONWEALTH FOR LOSS OF TAXES THROUGH ABATEMENTS GRANTED TO VETERANS AND CERTAIN OTHERS.

Comment

It is well settled law that as between the State and its municipalities the duty of providing for military requirements of the Federal and State governments devolves upon the State. It is the State which maintains the military forces of the Commonwealth and pays veterans their bonus. It is equally well settled law that the Legislature may, as in the case of armories and veterans' exemptions from local taxation, impose upon municipalities burdens incident to the discharge of the State's aforesaid duty. The principal source of revenue available to municipalities is the property tax, which in recent years has risen so high that it is close to becoming oppressive. The situation is such, therefore, that the State government should itself discharge its own duties without imposing a part of them upon the City. The above bill would bring this about in the case of veterans' exemptions from local taxation, which cost Boston over $500,000 annually.

A BILL PROVIDING FOR INCREASING THE SALARIES OF THE SUPERINTENDENT AND ASSISTANT SUPERINTENDENTS OF THE SUFFOLK COUNTY COURT HOUSE.

Comment

By Chapter 455 of the Acts of 1950, the annual salaries of the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendents of the Suffolk County Court House, which theretofore had been determined by the County Compensation Plan, were fixed by the Legislature at $5,500 and $4,500, respectively, with the result that they have been unable to participate in any general salary adjustment since then. The above bill, which is being filed at the request of the Court House Commission, will remedy the situation by repealing the 1950 act and an abortive amendment thereof in 1952, thereby bringing the salaries in question within the scope of the County Compensation Plan again.

A BILL AUTHORIZING THE CITY OF BOSTON TO BORROW MONEY FOR THE PREPARATION OF A COLLECTION OF MAPS SHOWING THE DIVERS ESTATES IN SAID CITY.

Comment

At the present time, up-to-date atlases of the city are urgently needed in the circles in which they are used. The latest atlas for Boston Proper is 1938, for Brighton 1925, for Charlestown 1922, for Dorchester 1933, for East Boston 1922, for Hyde Park 1912, for Roxbury 1931, for South Boston 1910, and for West Roxbury 1924. Substantial changes have occurred in the various districts since these respective dates. Just as these atlases have served for years, so now atlases would serve for years. The expense of their preparation should accordingly not be included in a single tax levy. The object of the above bill is to spread the cost over ten years.

A BILL REQUIRING BONDS TO SECURE THE REMOVAL OF HAZARDOUS CONDITIONS UPON THE CESSATION OF THE USE OF A STRUCTURE FOR THE KEEPING, STORAGE, MANUFACTURE OR SALE OF CERTAIN EXPLOSIVES AND INFLAMMABLE MATERIALS.

Comment

About five years ago the statutes were amended to require bonds to insure the levelling of sites after the demolition of buildings and thereby eliminate the hazards which exist when the sites are not filled. The above bill, if enacted, will require similar bonds to protect against dangerous conditions arising from the abandonment of filling stations and the like.

A BILL RELATIVE TO THE AMOUNTS OF SEWER ASSESSMENTS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

Comment

Present law provides for assessing upon estates especially benefited by a sewer or drain a proportional part of the cost thereof, not exceeding in amount the sum of $6.00 per linear foot; but no such assessment shall exceed the amount of the special benefit received. The specific limitation to $6.00 per linear foot does not give the provision the necessary flexibility particularly in a period of rising costs. If the above bill were to pass, the situation would be remedied by the use of a percentage rather than a specific figure.

A BILL RELATIVE TO THE ABANDONMENT OF EASE- MENTS FOR SEWERAGE WORKS IN THE CITY OF BOSTON.

SECTION 1. The public improvement commission of the city of Boston by proceeding the same as in discontinuing a public way in said city may, with the approval of the mayor of said city, abandon any easement or right held by said city for sewerage works purposes which in the opinion of said commission is no longer required for such purposes.

Comment

The board charged with laying out public ways and sewers in the city of Boston has long had power to discontinue public ways but not to abandon sewer easements. Passage of the above bill would remedy this imperfection in existing law.

OFFICIAL CHRONICLE OF BOSTON MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS.

Boston Goes All Out For Christmas

The Municipal Christmas Tree of 1956 on Boston Common

The city government has again set the pace for the community observance of the Birth of Christ. Boston Common has been transformed into Christmas acres. People by the hundreds of thousands are making their annual pilgrimage to the famed creche of Bethlehem there. From the tiny white chapel of Christmas Carols, scores of choral groups, in turn, are daily filling the downtown air with Christmas music. Eager children swarm about the real, live herd of reindeer.

In the outlying sections of the city, municipal Christmas trees enhance the brilliantly-lighted shopping centers, all spreading the spirit of the season.

"A Blessed Christmas and a Joyous New Year" is the keynote of the annual Christmas message of Mayor John B. Hynes. The Mayor and his family will make their annual Christmas visit to Long Island Hospital.

City Hall itself, bedecked with holly and lights, has the additional adornment of a Christmas creche.

Every city and county department, every school, hospital, penal institution, welfare and health agency has made its own elaborate preparations for the celebration of Christmas, 1956.

"O Boston, fair City enthroned like a radiant queen,
From thy hills looking down on the ship-teeming plain of the ocean;
May thy future be bright, thy skies beam with light all serene,
Ensured by thy sons' and thy daughters' unselfish devotion!"

From Boston Centennial Poem by
NATHAN HASKELL DOLE.

STANDARDIZED FORMS CITED AS AID TO BETTER GOVERNMENT

V

This is the fifth in a series of six reports of a two-day Boston Municipal Administration Conference in which 200 key city employees participated.

Standardization of the multitude of forms used in the conduct of city government was the subject of a panel discussion in the recent Municipal Administration Conference series held at Boston Public Library under the general chairmanship of John A. Breen, Director of Administrative Services.

Moderator for the panel was Charles M. Evans, senior associate of the management engineering firm of Charles M. Evans & Associates of Boston. Mr. Evans has been identified with the field of management in the specialized area of state and municipal government for several years.

The panelists and their subjects were as follows:

Joseph P. Kennedy, paper stockman, Department of Administrative Services, was chairman. His topic was "The Selection and Use of Paper in Designing Forms." John F. Kane, investigator, Department of Administrative Services, discussed "Combination of Forms." John T. Leonard, senior budget analyst, Department of Administrative Services, talked on "What Has Been Accomplished to Date on Department Form Standardization." Louis D. Poto, principal clerk, Hospital Department, discussed "The Hospital Record."

There was a question and answer period following the reading of the panel papers.

REMARKS BY MODERATOR, CHARLES M. EVANS

My colleagues on this panel will take up the subject of forms and form design, which is rather closely related to that of good procedural manual design and format.

Forms are media for recording departmental clerical operations, for requesting intra- and inter-departmental actions, for issuing licenses and permits to the public, for compiling and collating statistical and cost data by municipal function or by organization unit, and for performance reporting on the part of both employees and municipal agencies. It appears reasonable, therefore, that the program of procedural manual preparation will inevitably include the incorporation of at least the more important city or departmental forms either by inclusion or by reference.

Like the growth of city departments and agencies, as explained yesterday by Mr. Haley, without regard to the logical and most effective combination or decentralization of functions until unwieldiness requires a formal organization structure, forms are designed, incorporated in departmental work programs, processed, reviewed (or ignored), and filed without a "master plan," so to speak, that would consider the objectives sought in form design, the possible availability elsewhere of the information that a form may request, the feasibility of using one form in all departments for the same end result and the standardization of format and size for the most economical and effective employment of clerical man hours.

This "Topsy-like" growth and expansion characterizes form adoption in both industry and government until duplication, frustration, or records storage forces a reappraisal of the situation and a streamlining of the lines of communication by the adoption of some program of standardization.

The Armed Forces quickly came to the realization that, in order to get the necessary paper work done in the course of the tremendous expansion in man power during World War II and the assignment of personnel to tasks unfamiliar to their civilian employment, a drastic simplification was required of the forms in circulation under the various lines of communication.

The New England Mutual Life Insurance Company, located just across Copley square, exercises very close control over form design, use, and standardization, because of the importance of this control in relation to clerical and executive man-hour expenditure.

The City of New York and the State of Connecticut have set up control agencies to standardize form design and usage. Connecticut, for example, has standardized letterheads used by all state departments by the adoption of five standard sizes and formats.

I think all of you are familiar with the program that has been under way in Boston. It was begun about two years ago, and my organization was privileged in being selected to assist the staff of the Administrative Services Department by providing technical assistance in the indexing of forms in existence in the various city departments and agencies, determining the use for which each form was designed and the extent to which it successfully performed its mission, and considering each specimen examined from the viewpoints of layout, size, paper stock and required number of copies, color both of ink and paper stock, and, in particular, the importance attached to the information or the function for which the form was established by departmental supervisory forces.

We will try to evaluate the results of this survey this afternoon and consider methods by which cooperatively we can make "form consciousness" a part of operating procedure in the conviction that attention to this aspect can free clerical man hours for other work.

We have a panel which is well acquainted with the use of forms in Boston. We are going to present a case from various viewpoints. One is from the viewpoint of the City Printing Plant, where are produced most of the forms which you people order and use. Another viewpoint is that of one who stocks and orders a great variety of forms for the City Hospital, and a third is that of the budget analysts who are concerned with each department's expenditures for forms and the whole question of work simplification through improved procedures.

"PAPER FOR FORMS"

By Joseph P. Kennedy,
Panelist

In any discussion on standardization of forms paper is certainly an important part of the picture. The purpose of this part of our subject is to provide basic information on paper used in the production of office forms. The selection of correct paper sizes and weights can considerably reduce the cost of a form.

The matter of paper size is of paramount importance. It is surprising how many forms are designed without regard to the size and shape of paper stock. The size and shape of the form are determined by two things—first, the amount of working area necessary for the clerical job to be done, and, second, the size and shape of the basic paper stock from which the form is cut. In some cases one finds these two things at cross-purposes, and a compromise must be made—a certain size of file or business machine may dictate a form size that will not cut without waste from basic paper stock. In the majority of cases, however, the form can be printed on a size paper that cuts without waste from basic paper stock.

Paper for forms printing comes in different sizes dependent on the kind of paper being used. Bond, ledgers, and onion skins or manifolds are the most commonly used papers, and these come in three basic sizes—17 x 22, 17 x 28, and 19 x 24. Forms should be planned to produce on sizes cutting from these full size sheets. The Administrative Services Department has established a list of printed form sizes which will become standardized throughout the city departments.

Not only should forms be planned on sizes that cut without waste of paper stock, but the form should be designed to take advantage of the smallest standard size that will accommodate the information without crowding it to the point of clerical inefficiency. Many forms are printed or reproduced on 8½ x 11-inch paper simply because that is the only size on hand in blank paper, and the author or designer of the form just doesn't consider a smaller size. The waste is apparent.

Not only paper costs but printing costs as well are saved when the form can be designed on a smaller size of paper. Take, for instance, a form that might be printed on a piece of paper measuring 5½ x 8½ inches, which is half of the popular 8½ x 11-inch size. If there were some wasted space on the form, it might be redesigned to fit in size 4¼ x 7, and thus save 35 per cent of the paper. This is only a simple example, but it serves to show the possibilities inherent in the examination of the form in relation to the sizes of paper stock.

There is another important factor in the production of forms which applies particularly to the size in view of the stock situation. This is the matter of imposition, or the number of forms which the printer will want to print in each press impression. If the quantity wanted is small, the printer will probably print cards only one at a time, with one set of type or printing plates. This is known as "one-up" imposition. However, if a somewhat larger quantity is wanted, the printer may find it more economical to use a second set of type, and print two cards at a time. This will cut the number of press impressions in half, and save the customer money in the cost of the form. For larger quantities the printer may run three, four, six, or eight, or even more cards at each press impression. However, in order to do this, the printer must be able to cut his press sheet for the multiple of the card, and that is another reason for the standardization of sizes.

In the selection of the proper paper for an office or plant form, there are a great many factors which may affect the determination of the exact paper for each particular use. These factors include permanence, durability, finish, opacity, thickness, color, grain, formation, folding, weight, and writing and erasing qualities. Naturally, it is not necessary for the form designer to go through this entire list of paper qualifications every time he orders a form. However, he should have a basic understanding of these factors or qualities, in order that he may select the proper kind of paper for the specific uses in which they may play a part.

Most papers sold for form printing are sold by weight at so much per pound. There are several terms in common usage relating to the weight of paper. These are "basic weights," "basis," and "substance." Generally, they all refer to the same thing, that is, the number of pounds that a given paper will weigh in one ream of 500 sheets, in the basic size of that paper. For instance, bonds and ledgers are always referred to in the basic weight for the size 17 x 22 inches. A 20-pound bond, therefore, means that 500 sheets of that bond 17 x 22 inches in size will weigh 20 pounds. That same paper 19 x 24 inches in size will still be known as a "substance twenty" or "basis twenty" although one ream of the paper in the size 19 x 24 inches will actually weigh 24½ pounds. The latter is known as the ream weight as opposed to the basic weight.

Other kinds of paper are based upon a different size for their basic weight. For instance, blotting paper weights are based on a size 19 x 24 inches, bristol boards are usually based on a size 25½ x 30½ inches, and book papers are usually based on a size 25 x 38 inches.

In making his selection of paper, the form designer should be governed by the factors which apply to the clerical operations involved in the use of the form. He should select a paper that will properly do the job for which it is intended. The clerical expense of using the form is always much greater than the cost of the paper which goes into the form, and, if the paper is not right, the loss in clerical time may be tremendous compared to the saving in paper cost. You can always buy cheaper paper, but that is not by any means economy unless the cheaper paper is completely satisfactory for the job to be done.

"COMBINATION OF FORMS"

By John F. Kane,
Panelist

Several weeks ago the Director of Administrative Services received a letter from a department of the city complaining that prices of forms used by that department were very high and asking his assistance in effecting some reduction. While it is not the purpose of this speaker to discuss high costs of printing, as such, it is of interest to mention them only to show what

Turn Down Total of 133 Claims Against City

A total of 133 claims against the city over the period of several months have been disapproved by the Law Department, according to figures released this week by Corporation Counsel William L. Baxter.

Most of the claims, to a total of 77, had been filed against the Public Works Department as the result of claimed injury or loss sustained from faulty sidewalks, streets, or other municipal facilities.

Claims against other departments which were turned down were: Assessing Department, 2; Department of Civil Defense, 1; Election Department, 1; Fire Department, 19; Health Department, 1; Hospital Department, 6; Housing Authority, 1; Licensing Board, 1; Parks and Recreation Department, 6; Police Department, 16, and School Committee, 2.

that particular letter accomplished. As the forms mentioned in the letter were also used in a number of other departments, an examination of the form, with a view to designing a general form for all departments to use, was started, and, after visits and discussion with the departments involved were completed, not only one new general form was added to the list, but two more, also.

The forms referred to were the subject of the latest Administrative Services bulletin on this subject (Gen. 29, Gen. 30, and Gen. 30A) sent to certain administrative personnel in all departments, and what was not included in that bulletin were the following figures, which are presented here today to show a concrete example of savings to the city through the application of the principle of combination of forms. The following are actual comparisons of the cost of the old forms printed in the old way and the new costs.

Old Form Costs — Gen. Form 29 — Receiving Record.

Description: Printed and bound in books of 50 sets. The size of the form was $8\frac{3}{8} \times 9\frac{1}{2}$ inches (not a standard size). Produced and numbered in triplicate, with the first sheet on green paper, the second sheet on white tissue, and the third sheet on yellow paper. The green and yellow copies were perforated for removal from the book. Each book also included two sheets of carbon paper. The cost of the old form was \$2.50 per pad of 50 sets or \$50 per 1,000 sets. The estimated supply for a two-year period was 50,000 sets. The total cost of this quantity of forms was \$2,500.

*New Form Costs — Gen. Form 29 —
Receiving Record*

The description of the new form follows: printed and numbered in triplicate in a standard size, namely, $5\frac{1}{2} \times 8\frac{1}{2}$ inches. The first sheet is on white paper, the second sheet is on yellow paper, and the third sheet is on pink paper. This form is designed to be written on Uarco manifold register machines. The cost of an estimated two-year supply of this form, including special carbon rolls and the Uarco manifold register machines, is \$544.07.

An analysis of these costs will show the figures I have quoted result in a reduction of 78 per cent for the cost of this general form, or the actual saving of $1,955.93.

This, then, was what was saved by the establishment of a new general form for use throughout the city in the recording of the receipt of all goods and materials.

I could present a similar comparison of the old and new forms used for requisitioning of supplies, which is the other general form referred to in the opening remarks of my talk. However, as the details of this form are similar, I feel that the changes made can be best highlighted for your information by the following:

It was established that the cost to the city of the old forms was $1,560, and that a yearly supply was approximately 40,000 sets. Two sizes of requisition forms were designed to replace the old form, and each of the new forms is standard size. The new forms are printed and numbered in triplicate on white paper and provide the same number of copies as the old form. The cost is $373.20.

The percentage of saving for the new form is 76 per cent, or $1,186.80.

Conclusion

Mr. Leonard included in his talk today five factors which were used to start our forms program on its way to its successful conclusion. The combination of forms I have described for you utilized all of these factors to save the City of Boston about $3,100.

"ACCOMPLISHMENTS TO DATE"

By John T. Leonard,
Panelist

Mr. Charles J. Fox, the former Director of Administrative Services, initiated the original standardization of forms study and survey on November 23, 1954, and it was completed under our present director, Mr. John A. Breen. The operation began when Mr. Fox sent a letter to all department heads, informing them of the study, asking their fullest cooperation, outlining the program, and stating that he expected the following results would be accomplished when it was complete:

(a) A marked reduction in unnecessary paper work by eliminating duplications within and among the various city departments.

(b) The discarding of all forms which have been in use for many years for which there appears to be no useful purpose.

(c) The reduction of clerical duties to a minimum, thereby creating greater efficiency.

(d) The realization of substantial savings in printing costs.

In order to expedite the study, Mr. Fox requested in his letter that the head clerks in each department assemble and compile each and every form used, with notations on each form containing the following information:

1. The purpose for which the form is used.

2. The number of copies utilized.

3. Approximate number of times used during day, week, month, and year.

4. Where and how distributed.

5. Suggestions as to how forms might be improved upon or what forms might be eliminated.

When this was compiled—and it was suggested that it be available on or about December 1, 1954—it would be picked up by Mr. Robert Vaughn, an associate of Mr. Evans, our moderator today.

At this point the budget analysts came into the picture. We had to make a study of the department forms to which we were assigned. During this study we had reference to various texts, one of which was Design and Control of Business Forms by Frank Knox. In this book we received the following definition of a form:

"A form is any piece of paper containing information; it may be printed or reproduced by any means; it has blank spaces left for the entry of additional data or information to be used in the clerical operations of the department"; and, continuing with Mr. Knox's definition of a form:

"Basically, forms are pieces of paper with all the constant data printed on the face of the form and with blank spaces for the entry or recording of variable data."

"If efficiency and economy in clerical operations are the criteria, we must take the broadest possible view of what constitutes a form. Even a piece of blank paper may become a form if it is used in clerical operations."

With this information, and additional information gleaned from Mr. Evans, we visited the head clerks of eighteen city departments and agencies, and as a result our program covered approximately 4,000 forms which were in current use in 1955. Over 200, or somewhat more than 5 per cent of the total number, were recommended for elimination by combining one or more similar forms, or by having been determined obsolete as the result of a review of the function for which each form was designed. All in all, practically every form had some suggested change as to size, color, weight of paper, or change of format regarding the necessary information requested thereon. As a matter of fact, the program resulted in 3,777 separate recommendations. This in itself, I feel, proves that the project was an essential one and an overhaul of the forms long overdue.

As a sideline in connection with this work, we received all the forms from the Printing Section which were kept as proofs of standing jobs; that is, jobs which were requested year after year by departments, and therefore set up permanently in type or in plate form. We contacted our various departments again and found that, of a total of more than 400 of these standing jobs, approximately 100 of them were obsolete. Imagine, 25 per cent! In addition to the space necessary to store these obsolete forms, which could be well used by the Printing Section for other purposes, they were also able to melt down the type for reuse on other jobs. Many of the discarded forms had not been used for years. Of course, none of these forms were eliminated, or even changed, without the consent and full approval of the departmental officials concerned. Under this program we also set up the "general forms" of the city. These are forms which are common to many or all departments and which are used to record such actions as the hiring and assignment of personnel, vacation authorization, leave, contracts, bids, retirements, and financial transactions such as invoices, deposits, and drafts. Today every general form has a definite number assigned to it, preceded by the letters Gen., and they are ordered from the Printing Section by that number, thereby saving time, creating greater efficiency, and avoiding confusion.

We also found on a number of forms that the lines were never set up for standard typewriter spacing without continually adjusting the platen to make the entries conform with them. This necessitated the redrafting of this type of form and, in the future, all forms of this type made up by the Printing Section will have proper standard typewriter spacing on them.

As a result of this survey, I feel we now have a much more up-to-date system with reference to standardized forms, and, after the outlined recommendations have been placed in operation, substantial savings will be realized in printing and paper costs; and the system of handling, ordering, and preparing forms will be a great deal more efficient than it ever has been in the past.

"THE HOSPITAL RECORD"

By Louis Poto,
Panelist

What did the standardization of forms do to the hospital record other than the saving of money and the curtailment of waste? Before the program, less than one-half of the forms were on standard size papers. Now 95 per cent of the hospital record is standardized in size. It is compact and neat—easier for doctors to check through when looking for a certain section such as treatment, present illness, past history, consultations, X-rays, laboratory findings, clinical procedures, bedside notes, nurses' notes, progress notes, and doctors' orders, which are ever so important to get the patient well again. A number of colored sheets are used to compound this record. The colored sheets are important and beneficial to the patient.

Let me at this time explain a few important and beneficial factors. The doctors' order sheet to the nurse is pink, which explains the time for medication and treatment. The laboratory sheet is yellow, and many times laboratory findings determine the correct diagnosis of the patient; thus the proper treatment and medication can be given. Consultations between the medical doctor, surgeon, roentgenologist, neurosurgeon, neurologist, or the orthopedic surgeon are requested. This is called a consultation sheet and is light blue in color. Invariably X-rays are requested from time to time to confirm the diagnosis. This sheet is medium blue. The allotted time given me is short, so that I will cover the color situation by saying that all the other sheets previously mentioned are white with black print. All sheets have a hospital department number for the purpose of identification.

Now the beneficial factors that are helpful to the patient. In order to be reimbursed from insurance companies, Blue Cross, or Blue Shield, their forms are to be filled out as to name, address, date of admission, date of discharge, and diagnosis. These are all copied from the patient's permanent record. Records are also summoned to court to help to determine the extent of compensation and to settle employment problems such as whether or not the patient is fully recovered to do his job, or should be given light work for a designated period. There are many more beneficial factors which I will not be able to enumerate at this time. Enough for the hospital record.

I will now attempt to explain the other part of my topic, "From Admission to Discharge," only touching the important steps. The patient arrives at the Admitting Department by ambulance (hospital or police), private auto, or walks in. The first contact is made with the nurse on duty, and the nurse takes the patient to the Examining Room. Here is where the first form is made out—called the admission sheet. The admission sheet is made out as to name, address, age, nearest relative, religion, etc. In the Examining Room the doctor examines the patient to determine the type of illness, so that she or he may be placed in the proper ward or service. Here the second form is started, called the front sheet, containing the admission diagnosis, ward, and service. From the admitting floor the patient is taken by wheel chair or litter to the designated ward, where the nurse on duty accepts the patient and puts him or her to bed. At this point the nurse begins the clinical sheet, containing blood pressure, temperature, pulse, and respiration, and the bedside note, noting

Contract Awarded For New Fire Academy

Mayor John B. Hynes, on December 17, approved the award of a contract for the construction of a Fire Training Academy to be located on Moon Island, Quincy.

Award was made to the Parkman Construction Company, Inc., the lowest bidder, in the amount of $152,826.

The other bidders were:

W. J. Hulbig Construction Company, Inc., $160,600; Albert C. Graglia, $161,300; James S. Kelliher, $168,131; Vincent R. Caputo, $169,700, and F. C. Dolan & Sons, Inc., $173,982.

the time of nourishment, stimulant, and medicine given, with remarks. A third sheet is also made out called the Kardex sheet, noting the date ordered of medications, treatments, and nursing summary. The nurse contacts the doctors and they examine the patient thoroughly. After the examination the doctors make out a physical examination sheet. This sheet notes all parts of the anatomy. A past history sheet is also made out by the doctors, and also a present history sheet. A fourth sheet is initiated called the progress sheet. All findings, treatment, and medications are noted many times during the patient's stay at the hospital. If the patient is a surgical case requiring an operation, preoperative procedure is started the night before. The patient is taken to the operating floor the next morning. After the operation the operative record is made out by the operating surgeon, stating the surgeon's name, his assistant, the name of the operation, etc. The anesthesia record is also made out by the anesthetist, noting the kind, time, remarks, etc. A Recovery Room sheet is made out by the recovery nurse. The patient is taken back to the original ward. Postoperative care is continued by the doctors and nurses. Some days later the patient makes an uneventful recovery and is discharged. All forms are then consolidated and placed in a numbered folder and filed for future use. So you can really see how important these forms are.

Standardization of forms is good for the hospital, the City of Boston, and the taxpayer. After all, it is the taxpayer who foots the bills.

INVOCATION BY REV. JOHN J. LINNEHAN.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

We pray Thee, O God of might, wisdom and justice, through Whom authority is rightly administered, laws are enacted and judgments decreed, assist with Thy holy spirit of counsel and fortitude the members of this Boston City Council, that their administration may be conducted in righteousness, and be eminently useful to Thy people, by encouraging due respect for religion; by a faithful execution of the laws in justice and mercy; and by restraining vice and immorality. Let not ignorance draw them into devious paths nor partiality sway their minds; neither let respect of riches or persons pervert their judgment but unite them to Thee effectually by the gift of Thine only grace that they may be one in Thee and never forsake the truth. Let the light of Thy divine wisdom direct the deliberations of this Council and shine forth in all the proceedings and laws framed for our rule and government so that we may tend to the preservation of peace and the promotion of happiness, the increase of industry, sobriety and useful knowledge; and may perpetuate to us the blessings of equal liberty.

We recommend likewise to Thy unbounded mercy all our brethren and fellow citizens throughout the city, that they may be blessed in the knowledge and be sanctified in the observance of Thy most Holy Law, that they may be preserved in union and in that peace which the world cannot give; and after enjoying the blessings of this life be admitted to those which are eternal. Amen.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Ghost. Amen.

The meeting was opened with the salute to the Flag.

TRAFFIC LIGHTS AT POPE'S HILL STREET, SOUTH MUNROE TERRACE, AND NEPONSET AVENUE.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 7, 1956.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of November 13, 1956, in regard to installing pedestrian-actuated traffic lights at the intersection of Pope's Hill street, South Munroe terrace, and Neponset avenue.

Respectfully,

J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

Boston Traffic Commission,

December 5, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

With reference to Councillor McDonough's order of November 13, 1956, requesting the installation of a pedestrian-actuated traffic signal at Neponset avenue, Pope's Hill street, and South Munroe terrace, I report as follows:

This intersection is at the crest of a grade in Neponset avenue and is traversed by a considerable volume of fast-moving traffic in Neponset avenue. The section immediately west of the intersection in the South Munroe Terrace and North Munroe Terrace area is heavily populated by people who must cross Neponset avenue to reach inbound buses. Also, there is a small shopping area immediately adjacent to the intersection.

We believe that this would be an excellent location for the signal requested and are placing it on our list of locations to be considered when funds are provided for this purpose.

Respectfully yours,

WM. ARTHUR REILLY, Commissioner.

Placed on file.

SYNCHRONIZATION OF CERTAIN TRAFFIC LIGHTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

Office of the Mayor, December 7, 1956.

To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication from the Traffic Commissioner relative to your order of November 19, 1956, in regard to synchronizing the traffic lights on major traffic routes in and out of Boston.

Respectfully,

J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

Boston Traffic Commission,

December 5, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

With reference to Council order dated November 19, 1956, introduced by Councillor Piemonte, requesting the synchronization of the traffic lights on major traffic routes in and out of Boston, I wish to report as follows:

All of the traffic signals under the jurisdiction of the city are inspected and checked at regular intervals, at least weekly, by employees of this department. Each periodic inspection includes the checking of the timing and synchronization of the signals.

All adjacent traffic signals on major arteries which are close enough to be interconnected are incorporated into a system with definite offsets or time relation between intersections so as to allow the maximum flow of traffic within the capabilities of our existing equipment.

The timing of all our signals has been closely scrutinized and approved by the Massachusetts Department of Public Works at the time of issuance of signal permits.

Our engineers feel that no further improvement in the timing of our signals is possible until such time as sufficient funds are made available to replace most of our existing obsolete controllers, many of which are over 26 years old.

Respectfully yours,

WM. ARTHUR REILLY, Commissioner.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

HEAVY TRUCK REGULATIONS AND TRAFFIC SIGNALS ON COLUMBIA ROAD, DORCHESTER.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 7, 1956.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

I transmit herewith communication from the Traffic Commissioner concerning your order of October 29, 1956, relative to installation of "Slow" and "Stop" signs on the Columbia Road section of Dorchester, also on the Boston Street section, and that a time be set for heavy trucking along the said route.

Respectfully,

J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

Boston Traffic Commission.

November 30, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Mr. Mayor:

With reference to Council order of October 29, 1956, by Councillors McCormack, Kerrigan, and Foley, requesting "Slow" and "Stop" signs on the Columbia Road section of Dorchester, also on the Boston Street section, and that a time be set for heavy trucking along the said route, I wish to report as follows:

As a result of our survey, orders have been issued to erect a number of "Slow" signs in the two streets. The survey showed the need for "Stop" signs at Columbia road in the following streets: Richfield street, the southeast roadway at Columbia road near Hamilton street, and Hamilton street. The establishment of "Stop" streets requires that traffic counts be made and that the recommendation be approved by the Massachusetts Public Works Department, in accordance with the provisions of section 2 of chapter 85 of the General Laws. This work is being done.

It may be assumed that the request "That a time be set for heavy trucking along the said route" was inspired by the fact that this commission adopted a regulation to exclude trucks having a capacity of over five tons from Gallivan Boulevard, between the hours of 10 P.M. and 6 A.M. This rule was adopted as a measure to abate the nuisance which obtained in Gallivan Boulevard as a result of the constant stream of heavy trucks which were traveling all night through the street carrying gravel from Canton to the site of the Southeast Expressway and silt in the reverse direction on the return trip. No comparable condition exists in the Boston Street-Columbia Road route.

There are really only two available routes for north and southbound truck traffic having its origin and destination south or southeast of Dorchester, namely, Dorchester Avenue and the Boston Street-Columbia Road routes. Normal truck travel must be permitted to use routes of this type at all hours of the day or night, at least until such time as the Southeast Expressway is in operation when this facility should intercept and carry practically all of the truck traffic in this general area.

For these reasons it would not appear to be practicable to attempt to limit the hours when trucks could use the Boston Street-Columbia Road route.

Respectfully yours,

WM. ARTHUR KELLY, Commissioner.

APPROPRIATION FOR PARKS AND RECREATION DEPARTMENT.

The following was received:

City of Boston,

December 4, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

The Parks and Recreation Department has acquired for playground purposes an area of land in the West Roxbury district, located at Gardner and Baker streets. Under the provisions of section 63 of chapter 44 of the General Laws, the sum of $25,000 was appropriated from the account "Sales of City Property" for the acquisition of this land. Approval was given at two meetings of the City Council held on January 11, 1954, and January 25, 1954, and it was approved by your Honor on January 26, 1954.

The Law Department has finally completed the taking of several parcels of land at this area and the total cost of the takings amounts to $29,033.28. We therefore must obtain an additional appropriation of $4,033.28 in order that the city may obtain full title on this property.

I therefore respectfully request that you approve the taking of $4,033.28 from the appropriation "Sales of City Property" and transferring it to the appropriation 1-11-41-814, Playground, Gardner and Baker Streets, West Roxbury.

Respectfully yours,
FRANK R. KELLEY, Commissioner.

Ordered, That under the provisions of section 63 of chapter 44 of the General Laws, the sum of four thousand thirty-three dollars and twenty-eight cents ($4,033.28) be and hereby is, appropriated from Sales of City Property to be expended by the Parks and Recreation Department for the establishment of a playground at Gardner and Baker streets in the West Roxbury district, as follows:

I submit herewith an order providing for the transfer of $6,000 from the appropriation of Administrative Services Department, Contractual Services, to the Administrative Services Department, Personal Services, and a letter from the director explaining the reasons therefor.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

You are respectfully asked to request the City Council to transfer from the appropriation for Administrative Services Department, Contractual Services, to the Administrative Services Department, Personal Services, the sum of $6,000.

Upon the creation of the position of Supervisor of Budgets no additional appropriation was requested. A senior clerk-typist returned from a leave of absence for whom no appropriation was requested; and additional overtime was necessary due to the reduction of the longevity steps for city employees.

Respectfully yours,
J. A. BREEN, Director.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

City of Boston,
Fire Department, December 6, 1956.
Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

Your Honor's approval is respectfully requested for the transfer of $35,300 from Available Resources, to Item 2, Contractual Services, in the 1956 Fire Department budget for the following reasons:

Under Item 2, service orders amounting to approximately $16,000 have been issued for necessary automobile repairs and repairs to buildings, various types of nozzles, etc. We also require the sum of approximately $8,700 to pay for telephone service in the Fire Department for October, November, and December, and $9,000 to pay for electricity used during November and December. Twenty-four hundred dollars will be required to pay for steam supplied by the Boston Edison to heat Engine Houses 4 and 25 for the last three months of 1956. It is estimated that $600 will be expended for steam to operate high pressure pumps, and another $600 is needed to pay for illuminating gas for October, November, and December of 1956. The $35,300 is requested from available resources inasmuch as it is not obtainable from the Fire Department budget.

Respectfully yours,

FRANCIS X. COTTER,
Fire Commissioner.

AMENDMENT TO COUNTY CLASSIFICATION AND COMPENSATION PLAN.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Administrative Services Department,
December 5, 1956.
To the City Council.

Gentlemen:

In conformity with G. L. chapter 35, section 51, a report is hereby submitted in connection with order submitted to the City Council on November 13, 1956, concerning an amendment to the Classification and Compensation Plan for the Officers and Employees of Suffolk County by the creation of the position of Foreman Mechanic, Grade 19.

The present working force of mechanics at the Suffolk County Court House numbers 21, and consists of 8 painters, 4 electricians, 3 carpenters, 3 elevator mechanics, 2 plumbers, and 1 steamfitter. All bear the title of mechanic.

These employees are under the direct supervision of the superintendent and assistant superintendent, either of whom lays out all work assignments for this group.

In my opinion, to amend the County Plan by the addition of a new title of Foreman Mechanic would provide for the creation of a position which is not necessary for the efficient maintenance of the Suffolk County Court House.

Accordingly, I recommend that your Honorable Body not adopt the order referred to me on November 15, 1956.

Respectfully,
DUNCAN T. FOLEY,
Supervisor of Personnel.

The report of the Supervisor of Personnel and the order were referred to the Executive Committee.

Authority was given to award contracts for Items 1, 3, and 4 to the lowest bidders meeting specifications.

Approximate total amounts of contracts were as follows:

Coombs & McBeath, Inc., Item 1, $4,021, less trade-in allowance on one unit, $350—$3,671 less deduction for alternate plow, Model No. 101, $60—$3,611, net.

ADMINISTRATIVE SERVICES DEPARTMENT.
Purchasing Division.

Automobile

The Mayor, on December 5, approved the award of a contract, without advertising, based on the following communication:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of a requisition from the Public Welfare Department for the immediate delivery of one 1957 Ford Country Sedan as per specifications.

Informal written quotations were solicited from several Ford dealers. Three bids were received, the lowest being that of Bowers Motor Sales, Inc. This company has a vehicle available for immediate delivery.

Inasmuch as time is of the essence and Bowers Motor Sales, Inc., has assured prompt delivery of the vehicle requested, authority is requested to dispense with publicly advertising for prices and award a contract, without public advertisement, to this company. It is my opinion that, in this way, the best interests of the city will be served.

Approximate total amount of contract will be $2,600, net.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN V. MORAN,
Purchasing Agent.

Medical Forms

The Mayor, on December 13, approved the award of a contract, without advertising, based on the following communication:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

This office is in receipt of two requisitions from the Public Welfare Department for Medical Care Forms. Informal requests for prices were solicited from several companies who have previously supplied the city with business forms. Eight bids were received, the lowest being that of the Egly Register Company.

Inasmuch as bids have been solicited and received from all of the vendors who usually submit bids on publicly advertised proposals and since the lowest price is acceptable, it is requested that permission be granted me to dispense with publicly advertising for prices and award a contract, without public advertisement, to the lowest bidder, the Egly Register Company, for 200,000 Medical Care Forms at $11.24 per M. Total amount of contract will be $2,248, net, 30 days.

Respectfully yours,

JOHN V. MORAN,
Purchasing Agent.

Upon examination of the building it has been found that the sidewall has collapsed; that the floor has collapsed, and that the entire structure is unsafe and dangerous to such an extent that it must be removed at once.

We have secured a price of $3,400 from the Bay State Wrecking Company who are working close by on one of the city demolition projects. This company is prepared to move into the building at once. Because of the serious condition and the interruption of service to the

SALE OF "NEW YORK STREETS"* HAILS NEW ERA OF LARGE-SCALE URBAN RENEWAL IN BOSTON

Mayor John B. Hynes, on December 27, described the sale, on that day, of the newly-cleared "New York Streets" area in the South End as the "real beginning" of our urban renewal program. "If the project goes well," the Mayor said, "it will encourage us to redevelop and renew other sections of the city." Mayor Hynes called this medium of renewal the "real hope of old cities to meet changing conditions and face the future with more confidence."

Cleared of old, substandard tenement houses, the 16-acre "New York Streets" clearing was sold by the Boston Housing Authority for $400,000 to Martin Cerel and Bertram A. Druker, prominent realtors. The area is bounded by Washington, Dover and Albany streets, and New Haven Railroad Yards. This was the first of several urban renewal projects planned for Boston with the aid of federal slum clearance funds. The sale contract for the site will be sent to the Housing and Home Financing Authority in Washington for final approval, according to Kane Simonian, director of urban renewal for the Boston Housing Authority.

The Boston Public Improvement Commission, with the approval of the Mayor, has already given official sanction to street, sewer, and water main plans for the cleared site. Approval of a $476,631 contract to Sala & Pecci Construction Company of Brookline is awaiting approval from Washington, according to Mr. Simonian.

The redevelopment firm will erect on the site a pattern of office and commercial buildings with a total value of $18 million. Tentative plans call for construction of at least two eight-story office buildings, some 18 smaller buildings for light industry and commercial use, a retail shopping district, and landscaped parking lots. The whole area has been blueprinted so that the buildings will be surrounded by a maximum of ground space and provided with ample natural light.

After government approval is obtained most of the land can be delivered to the redevelopment firm, according to Mr. Simonian, since it is almost completely cleared. Construction of buildings can be started simultaneously with the installation of site improvements.

The Cerel-Druker bid was submitted last June after the proposal was widely advertised by the Boston Housing Authority, offering 67 cents a square foot for approximately 600,000 feet of land. The price was based on the Authority's reuse appraisal figure. Action on the bid was deferred when, shortly thereafter,

William Zeckendorf, a New York developer, presented a plan for a $200 million development for the entire South Station area, South Cove, Fort Point Channel, and South Bay areas, including the "New York Streets" district. Decision to accept the Cerel-Druker bid came last week after insistence upon speedy action by the Boston City Council and when Mr. Zeckendorf announced that the "New York Streets" area, which he had offered to buy for $104,000 was not necessarily contingent to the fulfillment of his over-all plan. But he insisted that the reuse plans for the area must be compatible as an integrated part of the whole plan. The Mayor's Advisory Committee evaluated the Zeckendorf proposal and reported this week that the sale of the "New York Streets" project would not impair or adversely affect the Zeckendorf plan. In this connection Thomas G. Dignan, president of the Edison Company and chairman of the Mayor's Advisory Committee, sent the following letter to Mayor Hynes:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Confirming our discussion regarding the New York Streets area, the only condition specified by Webb & Knapp is that contained in their letter to me dated November 30, 1956, which reads as follows:

"1. The reuse plans for the New York Streets area must fit in to the over-all plan and be compatible as an integrated part of the whole. It was with this conviction in mind that we agreed to lease the area immediately but we feel that, if it is clearly stated that the proper authorities will guarantee the compatibility of this area to the whole concept as described above, and if the future owners of the New York Streets area, whoever they may be, will adopt the reuse pattern as developed within the Master Plan of Webb & Knapp for the entire area, with appropriate guarantees that they will build under this reuse pattern, this would be the extent of this prerequisite."

I have polled twenty-two members of the committee and they are of the opinion that the New York Streets area may be disposed of to any acceptable purchaser; that the price is a matter to be determined by the proper governmental agencies, and that it is not a matter that should be considered by the committee.

Sincerely yours,

THOMAS DIGNAN.

* The South End's "New York Streets" were so designated because they were named for New York State cities, viz., Troy, Seneca, Oswego, etc.

CITY DEPARTMENT INSPECTIONS SUBJECT OF FIN. COM. REPORT

December 19, 1956.

To the Honorable the Mayor.

For many years Boston has followed the policy of having maintenance, construction, and renovation work in the various departments of the City performed largely by private contractors rather than by city employees. This policy derives from several considerations.

If such work were to be done by city forces, it would be necessary to maintain an exceptionally large staff of specialists in such phases of construction as plumbing, heating, electricity, plastering, and all the other building trades. The situation would be intensified by the fact that demands for repairs and maintenance appear simultaneously in Boston's many public buildings and properties.

Moreover, besides maintaining a large permanent staff, including supervisory as well as operating personnel, if the City were to undertake a policy of performing its own maintenance work, it would also mean an extensive and expensive stock supply with personnel to administer it. Elimination of contract work and substitution of performance by a greatly augmented force of city employees is, therefore, not practical.

Nevertheless this system of maintenance by private contractors causes one special difficulty. It requires a comprehensive system of inspection and supervision.

The Finance Commission has long been aware of the vital importance of inspection in safeguarding the best interests of the City. It has issued many reports on the subject. Although its staff is small and is concerned with the entire municipal picture as its proper scope of interest, the few the Commission has available for this duty spend as much time as possible in checking the millions of dollars of work performed by private contractors each year. Obviously, this is limited to a spot-checking operation.

In this report the Commission offers a picture of what has been observed and an appraisal of the inspection system in various departments, with recommendations for improvement.

SCHOOL BUILDINGS DEPARTMENT Awarding Policy

The awarding policy of this department provides that advertising for bids is necessary on jobs involving over $1,000; on jobs in which the estimate of cost runs between $500 and $1,000 and there is no emergency involved, proposals are, with few exceptions, solicited without advertising and award made to the lowest bidder; on jobs where the estimate of cost is not over $500, proposals are not solicited, payment being made on the basis of the bills submitted by the contractor for labor and materials furnished.

Volume of Work

Most of the maintenance work on the more than 200 buildings controlled by this department is represented by relatively small jobs. This is illustrated in the following distribution of the approximately 7,000 orders and contracts issued during 1955:

AMOUNT PER ORDER	No. of Orders	Per Cent of Total No. of Orders
Up to $100.....	4,342	61.8
From $101 to $500....	2,340	33.4
From $501 to $1,000..	268	3.8
Over $1,000 (contracts)	67	1.0
	7,017	100.0

More than 95 per cent of the orders, therefore, represented jobs costing less than $500 and so not subject to the bid process. In fact, most of the 7,000 orders represented job amounts below $100.

Inspection Organization

The department is organized to handle this work through a technical staff specializing in the various building trades; this staff prepares specifications and inspects work related to their specialties. In addition, there is a staff of eight district inspectors who inspect general contract work in the schools; each inspector has between 25 and 30 schools in his jurisdiction. A considerable part of their time is also taken up in preparation of orders, approval of bills, and in transit between field and office.

Observations by Fin. Com.

Spot-checking of various types of work performed by private contractors for this department showed that although most of the work was performed in a satisfactory manner, there were many cases of unsatisfactory results. These may be grouped broadly as follows:

Faulty work and omissions in furniture repair and refinishing.

Faulty work and omissions in painting.

Failure to perform preliminary work in masonry repointing.

Incomplete work in carpentry repairs.

Decision to change specifications after order was written. Although the change may represent good judgment, failure to make an accurate record of the change results in misrepresenting the provisions of the order and hampers inspection and auditing.

Failure to follow details of specifications.

Employment of boys by contractor to perform contract work.

Unsatisfactory results stemming from failure of contractor to provide workmen with copy of order.

Specifying standard treatment for a situation where preliminary examination would have shown that special treatment was necessary.

Suggested Considerations

Since such a multiplicity of relatively small jobs, as is indicated in the above table, makes comprehensive inspection with present sized force difficult (particularly those jobs performed in a relatively short time), it is important to obtain all available assistance. Supplying custodians of schools with a register and directing them to keep a record of the number of men, the hours worked, and in general to keep an eye on the maintenance work done in their respective buildings, would be of assistance in validating the bills submitted by contractors. Moreover, such assistance appears to fit properly into the scope of a custodian, who has the custody and care of the building in his charge.

The absence of reliable detail records constitutes an opportunity for contractors to inflate charges for labor. A copy of the work order for the job involved, forwarded to the custodian, should be helpful in this record-keeping purpose.

Although, because of the multiplicity of the jobs, it undoubtedly would not be practical nor economical to set up staffs of permanent skilled technicians in the various building trades as a part of the organization of the School Buildings Department for the purpose of reducing contract work, there are two activities in which an exception to this rule may well be considered. These are the areas of furniture refinishing and repair, and the repair and installation of locks. In 1955 this department spent $96,916 on furniture refinishing and repair, and $15,311 on lock work. This would indicate the justification for expanding the staff for these two activities.

Two considerations argue for a possible increase in the number of furniture repairmen: (1) there is, generally, no emergency involved and the work lends itself to programming; (2) spot-inspection of furniture work by private contractors has produced many cases of unsatisfactory performance.

The School Department has made certain improvements in recent years in the administration of a building maintenance program. Standard specifications for maintenance work, furniture and supplies, have been adopted. The decrease in the annual number of service orders would indicate a better grouping of orders for similar work. The fact that the Finance Commission has maintained a constant pressure in this respect played an important part in effecting these improvements.

PARKS & RECREATION DEPT. Volume of Work

Unlike most municipal departments, this department has a sizable maintenance staff, thereby reducing the necessity for maintenance work by private contractors. However, there is still a substantial amount of maintenance, renovation, and construction work performed by the contractors.

In 1955, 28 contracts amounting to $501,729, including $189,000 for the Dover Street Bath Building, and $34,696 for tree work were awarded; in addition, there were 5 so-called hurricane contracts for $107,047. Also, there were 339 service orders representing $88,415 (and including $1,949 for tree work), or an average order of approximately $260; in addition, 29 flood contracts in the amount of $15,712. The department's 125 structures range from a small shelter on a playground to a multi-storied building.

Available for Inspection

Twelve of the engineers available in this department spend their time in the field; two are in the office. In addition, there are three inspectors; thus there is a staff of 15 available for inspection and supervisory work. They concentrate largely on the major contracts (over $1,000); such work represents about 75 per cent of the expenditure in this department for private contract work. These men operate as resident supervisors. The relatively small jobs are inspected by the chief engineer, who also carries on the top level engineering function.

Observations

Spot-checking of the work in this department indicates that unsatisfactory work found was generally among the smaller jobs. Cases of unsatisfactory work include the following:

Omissions and failure to follow specifications in painting work.

Failure to follow specifications on park bench work.

Omissions on window repair work. Lack of explicitness in order.

Failure to group several small jobs into one large order or contract.

Suggestions

Here also the previous observations on the potential usefulness of custodians in relation to private contract work applies. Custodians of department buildings and those located in field houses on playgrounds are the resident representatives of the department in the latter's various properties throughout the city. Providing the custodians with a register on which to enter the man-hours observed on the job, and with a copy of the order to acquaint him with the job should prove useful in validating the bills submitted by the contractor and assist the department in insuring completeness of the work. This applies particularly to the smaller jobs.

Modern Car Helpless Without Chains or Snow Tires

"A sudden fall of freezing rain or snow can rob the most powerful, newest automobile of all its power within a comparatively short time," Public Works Commissioner George G. Hyland stated this week.

"No car is more powerful than its grip on the road," Commissioner Hyland told a group of safety engineers meeting at City Hall to consider plans for the prevention of the paralyzing effects of storms such as forced the abandonment of hundreds of automobiles last March, disrupting snow-clearance work.

"When the wheels begin to spin on a surface of freezing snow or rain, the finest engine can't move a car uphill, and when an automobile skids toward danger, power brakes suddenly become powerless," Hyland stated.

"Every motorist in Greater Boston should realize that with the type of winters we have around here, he may awaken any morning to find that built-in power of the automobile in his garage has been stolen overnight by a sudden weather turn which has brought freezing rain or snow.

"The motorist who is not prepared for swift weather changes in the winter months is gambling with his own life and safety, to say nothing of his comfort," Commissioner Hyland continued.

"Good vision and good traction are absolutely essential. Good windshield wiper blades and good defrosters and headlights assist in obtaining good vision," he said.

"Good traction means freedom from skids and the always-present possibility of becoming stuck in snow or ice in a storm. The wise motorist who makes sure that he is prepared for a sudden adverse change in weather will have a full set of reinforced chains ready for instant use.

"The motorist who finds himself on the road without good visual aids and without chains or snow tires for traction in the midst of a sudden storm would be well advised to pull into the nearest off-street parking facility and leave his car there until the storm has ended," Hyland declared.

jurisdiction of this division is handled through an annual issue of approximately 600 service orders representing approximately $140,000. The average order is therefore approximately $230.00.

Organization for Inspection

There are four men available for inspection, covering the following categories of work respectively: heating and ventilating; electric work; plastering; roofing; steam-fitting; carpentry; masonry; painting; and miscellaneous work.

Observations

Spot-checking of various jobs done under the jurisdiction of this division showed cases of:

Failure to follow specifications in the matter of materials.

Failure to follow specifications on painting and wall patching.

Failure to follow specifications on carpentry work.

Specifications not clear on method of installation and material.

Suggestions

The situation is one of a large volume of relatively small jobs. Here also the observations on the potential assistance of building custodians applies, as was made with reference to the School Buildings Department and the Parks and Recreation Department.

HOSPITAL DEPARTMENT

Volume of Work

A Finance Commission report on the physical plant of the Hospital Department, issued June 12, 1956, contained the following statements:

"It should also be pointed out that the maintenance group at the hospital is not personneled with sufficient numbers, nor to some extent with experienced men to function properly, with the result that most of the work of repair has to be done by contractors." Some idea of the volume of this work and the multiplicity of orders is indicated in the fact that in the first four months of 1956 a total of 182 orders were issued. Of these, 79 were for emergency repair of broken and leaking pipes, 103 for other miscellaneous repair work. Of the 79 orders, 42 were in amounts under $500, 37 in amounts between $500 and $1,000. Of the 103 orders, 87 were in amounts below $500, and 16 ranged from $500 to $1,000.

Organization

In general, the plant superintendent and his assistant are the only hospital employees who inspect and supervise the work of the private contractor on the smaller service orders.

Evaluation of Inspection

The Finance Commission on June 12, 1956, stated: "No proper check can be made of the charges for work made by these contractors because there are no daily records being kept of the number of men or material used."

This observation still holds. A mimeograph form has been prepared to provide for a daily inspection of contract work while it is in progress with provision for entering daily the number of men, the hours of labor performed, and material used on the job. However, entering of data of this character on these forms daily is not being done, but, rather, entries are only made when the work is completed. An employee explains that he records the data eventually from loose notes he has taken during the progress of the work. Since much of his time is taken up with other duties, his inspection cannot be adequate.

Furthermore, the plant superintendent admits that it is physically impossible to furnish a reliable inspection service with the personnel that is at his command, and that he needs at least two inspectors and a stenographer-typist for this purpose.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPT.

This department is well staffed with engineering and inspectional personnel. The result is that all

Mayor Talks To Boston's Assessors

In a special talk, December 27, to all the City of Boston officials responsible for the assessing of real and personal property, Mayor John B. Hynes outlined many of the current financial problems of the city.

The Mayor said he did not presume to tell the assessors their business, nor to remind them of their serious obligation to see that the city gets all that is coming to it in the way of tax revenue and, at the same time, to exercise fairness and impartiality in dealing with individual pieces of property, but he emphasized, however, that the city is committed to a long-range policy of equalizing the real estate tax assessment load throughout the city so that the burden may be borne as equitably as possible by all the real estate taxpayers.

The meeting was closed to the press and public.

privately performed activities are well covered. Work orders and contracts fall within a wide range and include road construction, water and sewer construction and maintenance, catch-basin cleaning and rubbish collection.

Unlike the situation in other departments where the jobs are of characteristically short duration in performance, in the Public Works Department the typical job is either continuous in operation, such as rubbish collection and catch-basin cleaning, or it requires a substantial time to complete.

Roadway and sidewalk construction and reconstruction, an activity which represents such a substantial part of the public works program and which has been the subject of frequent criticism in the past, is now adequately covered for inspectional purposes.

LIBRARY DEPARTMENT

Volume of Work

A review of six months' experience in the alteration and repair of this department's Central Library and branches shows that there were five contracts awarded for which an architect or engineer did the supervision and inspection. These represented total payments of $313,051, of which $278,000 represented construction of the new South Boston Branch Library.

Contracts in which the Library Department performed its own inspection included: 1 for $2,600, 1 for $800, and 46 for amounts less than $500. The last group (46) represented a total of $4,528, or an average of less than $100. Other maintenance work was performed by the staff of the Superintendent of Buildings of the department, which includes 4 carpenters, 4 painters, 2 electricians, and 2 helpers, and a steamfitter.

Organization

In the case of the above jobs, other than those which received engineering or architect supervision, the inspection is performed by the Superintendent of Buildings. In general, this means an inspection of the completed job before payment.

Suggested Considerations

As in the case of the other departments considered, there is an opportunity for tighter control of the manhour aspect of these service orders by utilizing the services of the custodian and other department representatives resident in the buildings under repair. Requiring that contractors contact the custodian or librarian when entering the building or leaving it will serve to supply data with which to verify contractors' bills.

CONCLUSION

The foregoing recital of conditions surrounding the program of maintenance work warrants the following conclusions:

1. On the organizational side, one obstacle to comprehensive inspection of private contract work on various properties is the difficulty of covering the multiplicity of relatively small jobs. Such an abundance of small jobs seems to characterize all departments.

Organization to extend the arm of control over all jobs, particularly those in which payment is based on man-hours and materials, is possible by bringing custodial personnel in municipal buildings into the picture as a formal procedure.

Contractors should be required, perhaps as a condition of payment, to notify a department of the intended starting time of a job. Departments should provide custodial personnel with a register and a copy of the work order and provide for noting the identity and length of stay of all workmen coming into the building and what they are doing.

This procedure would be simply carrying out the function of custodianship of the building. It should be understood that though some custodians presently display initiative in observing all work done in their buildings, it does not appear to be a requirement and many pay little attention to it. The data, which could easily be obtained, would be of great assistance in handling bills submitted by the contractor, if it were submitted on report forms daily forwarded to the auditing offices of the departments involved. It is now regular procedure in the Fire Department on work done in the various fire stations to keep such data. In the Public Works Department work, the engineer-in-charge is always notified by the contractor as to when the latter plans to start a job. These instances prove that it can be done.

2. The instances of defection noted in spot-checking of jobs may be said to fall, broadly, into two categories: (a) failure to comply with specifications, and (b) disregard of sound administrative practice.

(a) Failure to Comply with Specifications

Under this head would fall such cases as omissions and faulty work in painting, masonry, furniture and carpentry work. Such defections can be prevented, of course, only by inspection. Certain preventive steps can easily be introduced; for instance, where a contract calls for two coats of paint, the department should be notified after the first coat is done and before starting the second. The Commission staff has observed that after a contractor has left the job, there is frequently a dispute as to exactly what he has done.

(b) Disregard of Sound Administrative Practice

Under this head would fall the following observed instances:

1. Substitution for an element in the specifications was made by the contractor, without proper authority, and if anything was done about it, it was simply to make a deduction from the price instead of compelling compliance with the order.

2. Permitting a substitution (for instance, painting for kalsomining) instead of changing the order, even though no change in money amount was involved.

3. Failure of the contractor to provide workmen with a copy of the service order; this means that the workmen lack the definite details in writing of the work to be done and the resultant work has sometimes differed from that called for in the specifications.

4. Lack of explicitness in the order, which, if anything, results in dispute.

5. Failure to group several small orders into one large order or contract.

6. Decision to change specifications after order was written. Although the change may represent good judgment, failure to make an accurate record of the change results in misrepresenting the provisions of the order and hampers inspection and auditing.

In order to obtain as much of the necessary service as possible without substantial increase in the inspection cost, present employee staffs should be utilized more than has been customary.

In the interest of having reliable record information for the benefit of the executive directors of the departments and the employees who check the bills rendered by the contractors, it is important that daily records be made and that these records be sent to the executive directors daily.

It is obvious that a great volume of work is done by private contractors and will continue to be done.

It is clear that the size of the inspectional staff limits the coverage possible on this work.

It is, therefore, important that all steps possible with the present staff should be taken to protect the interests of the city.

General Order No. 2,314.

The pamphlet entitled "Instructions to Police Officers, Concerning Listing Residents in Boston," last revised in 1952, has been revised this year.

There are several changes to be noted but the principal change pertains to the provisions of chapter 176 of the Acts and Resolves of 1955, An Act relative to the securing of information concerning persons residing at inns, lodging houses, and public lodging houses. Also, there is an insertion on the listing of dogs as provided by chapter 357 of the Acts of 1954.

In view of this latest revision, all previous issues of the pamphlet will be discarded.

A supply of the new pamphlets is being forwarded to all divisions. In the event additional copies are required, they may be obtained by telephoning "Listing—Ext. 203."

It is not intended that each officer shall retain in his possession the pamphlet issued to him. Officers engaged in listing are to be furnished a copy for such period of time as they need to familiarize themselves with this duty, and will then return them to the officer in charge of listing for similar use in future years.

The Superintendent of Police will promulgate this order.

VIII. APPRECIATION.

The Fire Commissioner is pleased to publish the following letter which was received from Mr. George Brundige, 150 St. Botolph street, Boston, Mass.:

"Boston Fire Commissioner.

MR. FRANCIS X. COTTER.

DEAR MR. COTTER:

I would like to take this opportunity of calling your attention to the wonderful and sincere efforts and bravery of our Boston firemen.

It certainly showed how well trained and earnest they were in our recent fire here at 150 St. Botolph street at which time against many great odds (such as no fire escapes, etc.) they took some 15 to 20 or so persons, including elderly as well as children, down the life-saving ladders.

Being one of the victims myself, I at that time had personal contact and conversation with quite a few of the men and they were the finest and most sympathetic body of men I ever came upon.

This very same situation also applies to the Boston police officers who were in and out of the building many times helping in the distress.

I am sure there would be a greater loss of life were it not for their aggressive and sincere efforts at this time.

As for myself I feel as though if it were not for the above mentioned I would not be around to drop these few lines for your attention.

Trusting you will understand this communication in its true light.

Yours truly,

GEORGE BRUNDIGE,
150 St. Botolph Street,
Apartment 32,
Boston."

Enlighten their minds and instruct their hearts that they may know the design of Your divine will. Lead them not into temptation but deliver them from any thought that is not honest, any word that is not true any law that is not just. APPROPRIATION FROM PARKMAN FUND INCOME.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 17, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I am in receipt of the attached communication from the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, requesting the appropriation of $16,139.20 from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, for the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887.

The 1956 budget estimates for the personal service requirements of the Parks and Recreation Department included an estimate of the total yearly income from the George F. Parkman Fund. The budget allowances made provision for the appropriation of this income as it accrued for the purpose of defraying the cost of work actually performed on the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887.

I submit herewith an order appropriating the sum of $16,139.20 the accrued income now available from the Parkman Fund, and respectfully recommend its immediate passage by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,
J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Parks and Recreation Department,
December 14, 1956.

Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

You are respectfully requested to ask the City Council to transfer from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund the sum of $16,139.20, the balance of the income for the year 1956 which is now available, to be expended under the direction of the Parks and Recreation Department, as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance
and Improvement of.....$16,139.20

When making up the budget estimates for the year 1957, a sum equal to the total yearly income of the George F. Parkman Fund was deducted from Item 100, Permanent Employees, with the understanding that this deduction was to be replaced by the total yearly income of said Parkman Fund for 1957, to be transferred as it accrued from time to time during the year to the regular maintenance appropriation of the Parks and Recreation Department.

Respectfully yours,

FRANK R. KELLEY, Commissioner.

Ordered, That the sum of sixteen thousand one hundred thirty-nine dollars and twenty cents ($16,139.20) be, and hereby is, appropriated from the income of the George F. Parkman Fund, to be expended under the direction of the Commissioner of Parks and Recreation, for the Maintenance and Improvement of the Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, as follows:

Common and Parks in Existence on January 12, 1887, Maintenance
and Improvement of.....$16,139.20

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER OF APPROPRIATIONS TO PENSIONS AND ANNUITIES, CITY.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 14, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I submit herewith an order providing for the transfer of $115,000 from available sources to the appropriation for Pensions and Annuities, City. This request is necessary, due to a larger number of noncontributory pension retirements than was anticipated at the time of the submission of the 1956 budget.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully,

J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Welfare Department, 4, Current Charges and Obligations, $60,000, Court Officers Division, Superior Court, 1, Personal Services, $15,000, Criminal Session, Superior Court, 2, Contractual Services $15,000, Pensions and Annuities, County, $10,000, Election Department, 1, Personal Services, $10,000, Library Department, 1, Personal Services, $5,000, to the appropriation for Pensions and Annuities, City, $115,000.

Referred to the Executive Committee.

TRANSFER OF APPROPRIATIONS TO EXECUTIONS OF COURT, DAMAGE CLAIMS AND REIMBURSEMENTS.

The following was received:

City of Boston,
Office of the Mayor, December 17, 1956.
To the City Council.
Gentlemen:

I submit herewith an order providing for the transfer of $125,000 from available sources to the appropriation for Executions of Court, Damage Claims and Reimbursements, and a letter from the City Auditor explaining the reason therefor.

I respectfully recommend adoption of the accompanying order by your Honorable Body. Respectfully,

J. B. HYNES, Mayor.

City of Boston,
Auditing Department, December 17, 1956.
Hon. John B. Hynes,
Mayor of Boston.

Dear Sir:

The appropriation order for the fiscal year 1956 included an appropriation in the amount of $350,000 for Executions of Court, Damage Claims and Reimbursements. This was a reduction of $100,000 from the amount which had been requested originally. It now appears that it will be necessary to provide an additional $125,000 to meet the requirements for the year. I have been advised by the Corporation Counsel that the number of suits filed against the City of Boston has increased, and because of increased medical costs where personal injuries are concerned, and increased damage costs where damage to vehicles is concerned, it has resulted generally in increased judgments and settlements. I recommend that an order be submitted for the approval of the City Council requesting the transfer of funds from other available sources.

Very truly yours,
JOSEPH P. LALLY,
City Auditor.

Ordered, That in accordance with the provisions of section 3B of chapter 486 of the Acts of 1909, as amended by chapter 604 of the Acts of 1941, the City Auditor be, and hereby is, authorized to transfer:

From the appropriation for Assessing Department, 2, Contractual Services, $37,000, Hospital Department, 7, Structures and Improvements, $63,000, Reserve Fund, $25,000, to the appropriation for Executions of Court, Damage Claims and Reimbursements, $125,000.

EXTRACT FROM NOTES OF THE EXECUTIVE SESSION
AUG. 30, 1956, ON THE
SALARY SCHEDULE,
1956-57

It was agreed that the following extracts from the notes of the Executive Session on Aug. 30, 1956, on the Salary Schedule for 1956-57, be printed in the record of the meeting of this date:

Chairman: Do you want to consider the order of your procedure now informally so we won't tire out an audience of 200 souls?

Secretary: May I say something before you begin? Will you please try and not rush me too much?

Mr. McInerney: I suggest when we go downstairs that we take the first step in the single salary schedule. Let's take the first three orders and then the temporary teachers and then the so-called bonus—in that order.

Mr. Carr: That seems to be the logical way.

Chairman: I would not have thought that was what we would do.

Mr. McMorrow: We are going downstairs to a public conference. Is that so?

Chairman: I think it is obscure whether it is a public conference or a public meeting.

Mr. McMorrow: Conference.
[Adjournment to third floor meeting room.]

[9 p. m.]

Chairman: The conference will now come to order.

The Chairman might announce that for about two weeks this Committee has been striving to arrive at certain offers of payment to be extended to good persons who, we hope, will then be encouraged to come and teach in our schools.

I believe the business at hand is to now read orders which would put into effect those offers which we have to some extent agreed to make with the hope of having a teaching staff next year.

I believe there are some questions that will be discussed or decided further at this meeting, and in any case we will try to put into effect as fast as possible the conclusions we have arrived at on the offers of payment we would like to make.

Now there are some motions?

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I would like to move the adoption of three orders.

The first one would be a motion to adopt Order No. 1 as printed in the schedule of salaries for teachers, members of the supervising staff and others for the year from September 1, 1956, to August 31, 1957.

The second is Order No. 2, in the printed schedule; and the third is Order No. 3.

In effect, as I see it, Mr. Chairman—

Chairman: Mr. McInerney, I would like to interrupt on a point of order. I would like to ask Mr. Hurley, who moved that we recess and come down to this room, whether he would like his motion to have the force of making these proceedings right now, or since we opened them, an official part of our business? In other words, we must declare that we are acting officially at some time so Miss Reynolds can record our actions.

Now, is it the desire to have this a public meeting? I just want to get your opinion.

Mr. Hurley: No, I think we agreed it would be a public conference, Mr. Chairman, until we settle these problems and then go into the public meeting, in order to save the expense of publication.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I would like to follow the procedure suggested by Mr. Hurley and do as we usually do.

Let's have the public conference, and then once the issues have been settled, let's proceed into public meeting and vote accordingly. I think this part of the conference should be public conference, rather than public meeting.

Chairman: I don't see any objection to that. It might be a little more time-consuming but it may make a more relaxed atmosphere before the final decisions. You could go right on and make your motions and if they are voted now they would, to be sure, be subject to a subsequent confirming vote.

Mr. McInerney: All right, sir. I think I got as far as the second order, did I not, Miss Reynolds?

Secretary: No, you mentioned the third.

Mr. McInerney: As I see it, Mr. Chairman and members of the Committee, the first three orders in the salary schedule will embrace the so-called fifth step in the single salary schedule, notably $144 to teachers who are not at their maximum on all levels, in addition to $180 for elementary and junior high, and $120 for the senior high schools.

In Order No. 4 I presume some other member of the Committee will make a motion on the matter of temporary teachers.

Mr. McMorrow: Point of parliamentary inquiry. I don't mean to interrupt but I thought you said that the vote had been taken on Order No. 2. Was that your understanding—that the vote had been taken on Orders No. 1 and No. 2?

Mr. McInerney: No, I did not say that.

Secretary: I think you took one upstairs. I think we took just one.

Mr. McMorrow: Order No. 1?

Mr. McInerney: We voted on Order No. 1.

Mr. McMorrow: We shall then not vote again on Order No. 1 at this particular time—at this meeting?

Chairman: Not at this conference but we would take a final confirming vote later in the evening.

Mr. McInerney: So therefore with the adoption of Orders 1, 2 and 3, we would see the fifth step implemented in the single salary schedule, Mr. Chairman, and I presume that some other member would later make a motion on temporary employees—to raise the temporary teachers from $14 to perhaps $15 a day. Then we will take up the question of certain revisions within the framework of the single salary schedule, perhaps notably a motion by another member for a bonus, so-called, in the critical areas, notably the high school level and perhaps the elementary first grade level.

Therefore, Mr. Chairman, I move you, sir, that we take a roll call on Order No. 2 and Order 3, in that order.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I shall be as brief as possible and state the position that I have been taking all week.

Order No. 1, Mr. Chairman, reads that effective as of September 1, 1956, the salaries of teachers, members of the supervising staff, and others are hereby established for the school year, September 1, 1956, to August 31, 1957, inclusive, in accordance with the following schedule and subject to the following adjustments or limitations.

I shall take the same position on Order No. 2 as I took on Order No. 1,—that until we decide the question of the high school bonus, so-called, and until the members of this Committee are given a chance to know whether there is going to be a bonus of $200 for high school teachers, and until we have a chance to determine what all the ramifications affecting a bonus would be, then it is perfect folly, Mr. Chairman, to suggest that this Committee should establish the salaries of teachers, members of the supervising staff and others, before so doing.

And, therefore, when the vote is taken on the roll call I shall continue to vote "Abstaining under protest."

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, were these special orders which were printed up today to be included as part of this schedule? Is that correct, Doctor?

Secretary: They are not, unless the School Committee agrees to it.

Superintendent: You mean the ones that have been typewritten?

Mr. Hurley: Yes.

Mr. Carr: Where are they?

Secretary: You have copies.

Superintendent: Mr. Lee asked that we have prepared at least certain fundamental orders.

Mr. Hurley: Well, when you publish those orders they will be included in this salary booklet—is that correct?

Superintendent: That is true, Mr. Hurley.

Mr. Hurley: Therefore, if Mr. McInerney's motion passes, we are in effect adopting adjustments which we have not yet discussed. I don't see how we can do that, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: The Chair again points out that this roll call is an expression of opinion rather than anything more.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I would like to draw to Mr. McMorrow's attention the fact that we have approximately $287,000 in the budget for salary increases, which was appropriated on May 23. $175,000 has been tentatively earmarked for the fifth step, so-called, in the single salary schedule.

There are $22,000 in the area for salary adjustment board increases as recommended by the Salary Adjustment Board on which we have taken a vote petition by petition.

There are $80,000 temporarily earmarked for temporary teachers and $10,000 earmarked for high school mathematics and science teachers; and that sum, Mr. Chairman, I would like to draw to Mr. McMorrows attention, was put into the budget on Petition No. 29, was it not, Miss Sullivan?

Mr. Herlihy: Petition 39.

Superintendent: Petition 39, I believe.

Mr. McInerney: That was put in when we considered these petitions last spring. The Board of Superintendents voted four-to-two, and they use this language on the petition of high school teachers. This was the vote of Dr. Gillis, Mr. Daley, Mr. Ohrenberger, and Mr. Bond, with Miss Sullivan and Mr. Herlihy being the minority:

"Special additional consideration in a financial way should be given to attract new teachers adequately trained to teach in the high schools."

That is the exact language, because Mr. Bond wrote it onto my petition at my request.

So, Mr. Chairman, I would like to draw to Mr. McMorrows attention that we have $10,000 also tentatively earmarked in the budget for that purpose.

I presume, and I will venture to predict, that the members of the Committee tonight will adopt the so-called fifth step in the single salary schedule, and that they will vote an increase to the temporary teachers. They might also, perhaps, if I am not prognosticating too far, do something in the critical area of the high school math and science teachers as recommended by the professional educators; and they might also, if I might prognosticate one step further, do something in the area of the elementary teachers which Miss Sullivan has stated always has been a critical problem.

We do have that money. It is just a question of earmarking it and allocating it for the next quarter of a year coming up.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, if my colleague would indicate to me what is this thing that is going to be done in the high school area, then I would be perfectly willing to cast my vote on Orders 2 and 3, but I don't know yet what is going to be done on the high school bonus.

I don't think there is another member of this Committee who definitely knows, and it should be stated very clearly that on the matter of the four-to-two vote in the Board of Superintendents, I think that the Superintendent will say something in just a moment, but as I understand it, their position was in no way, shape or manner to be construed as a suggestion that the high school people should receive a bonus of $200.

Indeed, Mr. Chairman, the Superintendent has declared flatly that he is against such a bonus; and I think that at this time, Mr. Chairman, the Superintendent, I imagine, would welcome a chance to say a few words on this four-to-two vote of the Board of Superintendents.

Superintendent: Well, Mr. Chairman, I talked with Mr. Bond and I also talked with some of the other Assistant Superintendents, since I am not one of the six set up by the School Committee as the Salary Board, and what Mr. McInerney says that Mr. Bond wrote in his own handwriting is certainly true—that there were four Assistant Superintendents who believed that special additional consideration should be given financially to attract especially qualified teachers to the high school level.

Mr. Hurley: In certain critical areas—is that correct?

Superintendent: That is correct.

And when I asked Mr. Bond on the telephone this week if he could tell me just what he meant or what he thought the consensus of the Assistant Superintendents who felt this way meant, this is what he said, in so far as I can remember in a telephone conversation.

He said that he had often been asked by teachers who were potential applicants for the high school examination if credit might not be given for their entire teaching experience outside of Boston on our salary schedule.

In other words, the teachers—who perhaps were teaching in Belmont and had taught there ten years—using this as an example, and not as a specific case—had said to him, "Well, I would be interested in taking examinations to come into Boston, if I could be put on the tenth step of the salary schedule."

So Mr. Bond said that with that thought in mind, it was his feeling that four of the Assistant Superintendents felt that some special financial consideration should be given.

However, I think that the six Assistant Superintendents were unanimous in continuing the single salary schedule without deviations.

Chairman: As the Chair hopes this meeting can keep moving, I would like to say to Mr. McInerney that he has moved the adoption of Orders 2 and 3, and that in speaking about them he says that he anticipated later there would be a motion to adopt Order 4 dealing with temporary teachers, and later a proposal for high school teachers.

Now, I think we had better have our debate on temporary teachers and high school teachers at the natural point when they would come up.

Mr. McMorro, to be sure, has wished that those points and those debates would come up first; but, since the motion is on the floor for an expression of opinion, the Chair would think it was wise for Miss Reynolds to keep on calling the roll, and dispose of this motion of Mr. McInerney's, which deals with Orders 2 and 3.

Mr. McMorro: Mr. Chairman, is this motion split or is it for Orders 2 and 3 together?

Secretary: I have it split.

Mr. McInerney: Split.

Mr. McMorro: Split?

Mr. Hurley: Are we having a discussion on the motion? Is that it, Mr. Chairman?

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Chairman: I have lost track of the procedure. Did Miss Reynolds start calling the roll?

Secretary: No.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, it is rather hard for me to figure out from what Mr. McInerney says just how he is going to vote tonight. I presume he is voting for the $200—this so-called $200 bonus for the high school teachers.

I think Mr. McInerney by his motion wants to be both the saviour and the destroyer of single salary all at the same time. I think we are approaching the grave of single salary. We have come to the wake. Mr. Carr and Mr. McInerney are the pallbearers, and Mr. Lee is the undertaker!

Mr. McMorro: Mr. Chairman, I am not ready to consign the body of the deceased yet, but I would like to say that if you would like to get roll call on Order No. 2, let's proceed, and then just a very few remarks on Order No. 3, if I may.

Secretary: Mr. Carr?

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, just another observation. This Committee is composed, I believe, in the main of honorable men, leaving myself out from the discussion for the moment. They are men serving their fellow citizens without financial recompense in any way. It is purely a labor of love.

This Committee has been beset with many problems. I think it is unanimous, at least in the public's opinion, that the Committee has tried diligently to solve the problems that have been presented to it.

The Committee acknowledges as do the citizens of Boston, that all of our teachers on all levels are grand people by and large, and that they are doing an admirable job under the trying circumstances.

We must also acknowledge the fact that the tax rate in the City has gone up $8.90 this year, and that the Mayor in City Hall is a decent gentleman who is always trying to do a decent job under trying circumstances.

This is not a new section of the country. We don't have a flight of capital from all the other sections of the country to Boston as they do in Miami and in Los Angeles. Boston is an old city with old problems, and of course all of those problems enter into the makeup of the decisions of the School Committee whether we like it or not.

Would that Boston was a new city as are some of the others in the West and the Southwest, with money pouring in from all the bastions of wealth in the United States, but it isn't, so we have to face things as they are and act courageously at all times without fear or favor.

It appears also, Mr. Chairman, that we do have critical problems in certain areas of our schools; and, of course, being novices and merely being pilots of the ship of state, merely being the policy committee, we leave the administration of the schools up to Dr. Haley and his Board of Superintendents, they being the administrators, and of course, we look to them constantly for counsel and advice in the solution of their problems.

I think I can say without fear or favor that this Committee has leaned heavily on the advice of the Board of Superintendents, all of whom, I think, have the respect and the admiration of the entire Committee.

Any vote that we take tonight or that we have taken this year or will take for the balance of this year or next year, whether we ever seek to come back to this Committee or not, is in the genuine public interest; and I think that any member of this Committee who votes his conscience and his mind and his heart should not be criticized because I think all five are trying to do the right thing by everybody.

(Applause.)

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, could I ask that when the roll-call on the order is taken first the order be read? I shall not ask that on Order 3, but I would like to have it on Order 2.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I was amused, as many others were, at being termed a pallbearer for the single salary schedule.

I have voted for this schedule in the past. I voted for it on two or three occasions. I thought it was an orderly way, more orderly than any other way that had been introduced in this Boston school system, for giving out increases which we all admit should be given to teachers.

I don't believe the teachers are overpaid. As a matter of fact, I believe they are underpaid, but it comes to a question: Are we going to sit by hoping that the problem that has presented itself in our high schools is going to solve itself?

You know, Mr. Chairman, and the members of your Committee know, that it isn't; and when I speak about the problem, I speak then about the shortage of high school teachers.

We have the figures supplied to us and we have verbal evidence that our high schools—some of them—are running the full year with twelve temporary teachers, and others with eleven.

I understand this year they are already seeking twenty substitute teachers in one high school, and they question whether they are going to be able to get them.

This situation is not a unique situation. You have here the same situation as in New York, and they have gone to the extent of putting out a publication about the crisis in the New York school system.

And I for one on this Committee—as I believe we all are—am interested, and we all realize that the only one who is getting short-changed by these temporary teachers in our high schools is the pupil in the high school.

When I mention the high school pupils being short-changed, I refer to the good that a permanent teacher, and an established teacher, and experienced teacher would be able to do in contrast with our temporary teachers.

My only concern on this salary question is to see that the kids or the children of our school system get what is coming to them.

And if the others—The Teachers' Alliance and the rest of them—want to record themselves against a move that is put into effect to attract candidates to our high schools where the shortage exists, you might in one way say that they are opposed to the welfare of the high school children.

That is all I can say, Mr. Chairman.

(Applause.)

Chairman: May I say before Mr. McMorrow speaks, that I hope we can save the discussion on temporary teachers and even the main discussion on high school teachers to a later point, since now we are really considering an expression of opinion concerning Orders 2 and 3. Mr. McMorrow?

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I would quite agree with you had it not been for the fact that my colleague to my left has made some points which must be answered now, and I intend to do so.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman?

Mr. McMorrow: I have the floor, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Carr: My colleague referred to me, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. McMorrow: I have the floor, Mr. Chairman. May I continue?

Chairman: Mr. McMorrow.

Mr. McMorrow: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Chairman, I note that some suggestion was made that there are now eighty-five temporary teachers in the Boston high schools. I think it is worth pointing out, Mr. Chairman, that since there are 733 permanently appointed teachers now teaching in the high schools, this means, I would think, that 0.104 of the high school staff is temporary.

Now, Mr. Chairman, there are 1270 permanently appointed teachers serving in Grades I through VI. In the manual of the Boston Public Schools issued in May of this year, there are 153 blank lines carried in the lists of permanent personnel from Grades I to VI.

This means that there are 153 permanent full-time classes being taught by temporary teachers. On this basis, 0.107 of the elementary staff is temporary.

And I think, too, Mr. Chairman, it ought to be pointed out that to this figure on temporary elementary teachers there should also be added the number of teachers out on sick leave, maternity leave, and sabbatical leave, and therefore, the percentage of temporary teachers in the elementary grades runs higher than in the high schools.

The point to be made is that all grades in the Boston schools are suffering a shortage of qualified teachers and teachers should realize that every fifth teacher in the schools is a temporary employee.

I don't think the claim can be made that there is a shortage only in the high schools. It is true, Mr. Chairman, that the elementary shortage of permanent teachers is even more acute.

Now, Mr. Chairman, as far as I am concerned, I think that, as you suggest, the remainder of this debate should be held until we come to that point that is more appropriate in these discussions, and I would like to have a vote on Order No. 2.

However, if my colleagues feel that they are going to make some statements in favor of their side of the question, then certainly I shall continue here just as long as they want to, and I shall answer all of the charges.

Chairman: I would ordinarily make a reply to you at this point, Mr. McMorrow, but I also would like to see us dispose of these Orders No. 2 and No. 3 if we can before going into other matters.

Mr. McInerney: I think that is a wise plan, Mr. Chairman and members.

Chairman: Is there further discussion?

Secretary: Someone asked me to read the motion. Mr. McInerney would like to move the adoption of three orders. He said first No. 1, then No. 2 on the same schedule, and then No. 3; but then finally we were not going to vote on No. 1 because that was acted on upstairs. So this is on No. 2.

Mr. Hurley: Was Order No. 1 adopted upstairs?

Chairman: It was not adopted but an expression favorable was given.

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: Will you read it very quickly, Miss Reynolds?

Secretary: Mr. McInerney would like to move the adoption of three orders: First, No. 1 which he crossed out and then Order 2. Do you want me to read the order?

Mr. McMorrow: Yes.

Secretary: "1. Ordered, that effective as of September 1, 1956, the salaries of teachers, members of supervising staff, and others, are hereby established for the school year September 1, 1956, to August 31, 1957, inclusive, in accordance with the following schedule and subject to the following adjustments or limitations."

Mr. McMorrow: No. 2, please.

Secretary: "2. Ordered, that during the period commencing September 1, 1956, and ending August 31, 1957, teachers, members of the supervising staff and others who, on August 31, 1956, shall not have reached the maximum of their salary schedules shall be advanced in accordance with the provisions of the regulations, on their respective anniversaries, by the amount of the annual increment provided for in the following schedules until the maximum of their respective ranks are reached; provided that the final increment shall be such as will place the person on the maximum salaries of his rank."

Order No. 3?

Mr. McInerney: Please.

Mr. McMorrow: Order 3 is several pages long. Can't we take Order 2?

Chairman: Let's have a vote on Order 2 or an expression of opinion.

Secretary: This is the vote on No. 2.

(Roll call:)

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Mr. Hurley: Yes.

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: Abstaining under protest.

Chairman: Yes.

Secretary: Passed.

Chairman: Does anyone want Order 3 read?

Mr. McMorrow: I am not going to ask that Order 3 be read because it covers about twelve pages, I think, but I would like to have the floor, if I may. Am I recognized?

Mr. McInerney: Before he takes the floor, should we read the first paragraph?

Mr. McMorrow: Could I have the Chairman answer my question first?

Chairman: Yes, Mr. McMorrow.

Mr. McMorrow: I simply want to point out, Mr. Chairman, that although I am quite sympathetic with the job that head masters do, I cannot again vote any other way than abstaining under protest until I find out what is going to be done on the high school bonus.

I have a tremendous sympathy, Mr. Chairman, for heads of departments, for coordinators, and for guidance counsellors, who, under this schedule,—under Order 3—have beside their designations a very beautiful round zero.

I think, Mr. Chairman, that a differential of approximately $2400 — and I would like the figures on this, Miss O'Brien—between a head of department and a head master is pretty steep, and the same thing applies to the differential—even though it is not quite as big, I know—between the submasters and vice-principals and the principals.

I think, Mr. Chairman, before voting this order there should have been some opportunity to know what was going to be done on the high school bonus. The heads of departments, to be sure, and others, were to get the $200 bonus; but still, Mr. Chairman, the differential is something that I think is going to create a major morale problem.

I think, too, Mr. Chairman, that having voted an annual increase for the trade high schools that teachers at other levels and even high school teachers would be somewhat interested to know that as soon as this order is passed the teachers in the trade high schools could receive under the terms of the bonus order as proposed the other night a differential of approximately $500. I think, Mr. Chairman, that is worth pointing out.

I think, Mr. Chairman, it is worth pointing out also that with the increase given to head masters—and I am not saying that I am not sympathetic to it—we should have been given some consideration on the matter of the high school bonus before voting for Order 3, because, of course, a head master is technically a teacher and therefore would be given a flat raise of $800 rather than $600.

It is worth pointing out too, that under that procedure a head master on maximum—and most of them are on maximum—would be, I think, approximately $80 under the most recent appointee to the Board of Examiners; and if that doesn't give you a little start, Mr. Chairman, I would be quite surprised.

I think, also, Mr. Chairman, that there are many, many injustices. I think there are many other ramifications to the procedure that the three members of the Committee have followed; and I think that the full effects of what is being done tonight will not be fully realized for some weeks to come.

However, I do think, Mr. Chairman, that there is no other course for me to follow, at least, other than to vote abstaining under protest because now that we have just ordered that the salary schedule shall be effective as follows in the following pages, we still don't know whether there is going to be a high school bonus.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I would like to draw to Mr. McMorrow's attention the following facts. You cannot, of course, put the cart before the horse. The horse is the fifth step in the single salary schedule. I think all the members of the Committee are in favor of granting a raise to all teachers at all levels.

The question of the bonus is a secondary question—the cart—and you cannot put the cart before the horse because the cart won't pull the horse.

Now, with regard to the item of head masters, we have voted tentatively to give the head masters $600—not a large sum of money by any manner of means or by any measure that you may choose to use. We voted tentatively a raise of $600 for head masters on the unanimous recommendation of the Board of Superintendents.

That was supported also by Dr. Haley; and as Dr. Haley explained—when he was in Hyde Park and I suppose his position was shared by many another head master in the system—his happiest and most carefree days were when he was a head of a department and not the head master, because he had the overall responsibility when he was the head master.

He pointed out and supported the view of all of the Assistant Superintendents that there should be a raise of $600 granted to head masters, and I think his point and the point of the Assistant Superintendents is well taken.

Now, with regard to the raise for Boston Trade High School and the Trade High School for Girls, I should like to point out that half of the salaries of the teachers at those two institutions comes from the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. Would that half the salaries of all the other high schools come from the Commonwealth. We would have more money to spend in the City of Boston on our high school teachers.

I should also like to point out that the Committee has already tentatively voted—I think it was four-to-one, Mr. Chairman, with you voting in the negative—the sum of $300 for the personnel at both Trade High Schools. We are merely continuing in effect the same raises that were granted last year and several years past to the personnel at both Boston Trade High School and Trade High School for Girls.

Now, we are not adding anything to that, Mr. McMorrow, with a vote of $300. It is a fact that the teachers at Boston Trade High School and Trade High School for Girls work longer hours than the teachers in the other high schools. They work longer hours because the State Board of Education says they must work longer hours; and therefore, the adjustment of $300 that several Committees in the past have made was warranted after a full weighing of all the credible and believable facts, and we are merely voting to continue the $300 differential for Boston Trade High and the Trade High School for Girls.

If there should be a bonus—and I don't know whether there will be or not because I don't know the inner working of the majority of the members' minds on this Committee—then, if the Boston Trade High School gets $200, I would assume that all the other high school teachers would get $200.

So, if you add up figures that way, it will still be only a $300 differential, and not $500.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, may I just point out that earlier one of the members of our Committee pointed out that we have tentatively approved a $600 increase for our head masters and principals.

Now, this order that proposes an added increment of $200 for Latin and Day High School teachers omits the head masters, and only those who are named in an order, I think, will receive any increment or any salary that goes along with the position.

Mr. Chairman, I think many of the members of our School Department have learned that only those who are named in the salary orders that are adopted in the year receive that compensation that goes along with the order.

Now, the head masters are conspicuous by their absence in this order that proposes $200 so that if they do receive an increase they will receive the tentative $600 that was spoken of.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, again I say, as I said on the other order: How can we vote to pay in full the salaries specified in this salary schedule if we do not as yet know what those salaries will be?

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I am very glad to see that when that special bonus order was drawn up some enlightened member of the Committee, who is evidently going to propose it, did strike off head masters after I spoke of it the other night, and I am very pleased to note, Mr. Chairman, that at least that much has been done.

Now, Mr. Chairman, very quickly, I am going to list those groups under Order 3 that have beside their names the very attractive figure of zero. I am doing that very quickly, Mr. Chairman.

Heads of department; coordinators; guidance counsellors; cooperative instructors; senior instructors, mechanic arts; instructors, mechanic arts; librarians.

Chairman: This doesn't mean we make them a zero offer, I take it. It means we do not offer them a larger amount than last year?

Mr. McMorrow: That is so.

Head instructors; shop superintendents; guidance counsellors; division heads; division foremen; trade instructors with bachelor's degree; regular trade instructors; heads of departments, Certificate IV; some women high school teachers; Chief Examiner of the Board of Examiners; and the members of the Board of Examiners; Associate Directors in the Department of Music; Assistant Directors in the Department of Music; teachers of juvenile adjustment; and various directors, associate directors, and many others, Mr. Chairman.

I think the most serious consideration this Committee should make is the differential that will now exist between head masters and heads of departments. I feel very strongly that the heads of departments have a good case, and I suppose it should be pointed out, that if the bonus proposal goes through, the setup that has existed for many years, ranking heads of departments and vice principals and submasters on the same level, has now been broken.

I think, Mr. Chairman, it should be noted that once the full impact of what is being done here tonight is realized in the school system, we are going to have a very serious problem on our hands.

Chairman: The Chairman would merely like to correct a minor point in Mr. McInerney's statement.

The fact is, I believe, I have always been in favor of again giving the faculty of the Boston Trade High School the $300 sum which we included last year for them.

I might also comment that I am sorry that my colleagues do not see the need as I do or the importance as I do, of giving to your juvenile adjustment counsellors a salary equal to our guidance counsellors.

I believe they do an extraordinary and saintly and qualified work on the seamy side of life on a front of our school work that is being encouraged by the State, and is the chief anxiety in the minds of every parent—the teenage problem—and I regret that we didn't see eye-to-eye on extending them a more gracious offer of dollars this year.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I just very briefly want to say that if we take a vote on this we have covered 12 pages, and then we would be brought to temporary employees.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I stand corrected on the statement.

I did not mean to say that you voted against the $300 for Boston Trade High School. I think it was against the Trade High School for Girls, wasn't it, Mr. Chairman?

Chairman: I think that is correct, Mr. McInerney.

Mr. McInerney: I would just like to draw to Mr. McMorrow's attention that in the case of those people where he finds zeros, again, those people were not recommended for raises by the Board of Salary Adjustment, consisting of the Assistant Superintendents; and the Committee followed, at least a majority of the Committee, almost four in each instance, with your possible abstaining, Mr. McMorrow, based on the advice of the professional educators and the administrators of the school system; and it was in order to preserve the earlier structure with regard to salaries that that was done.

Is that not so, Dr. Haley?

Superintendent: Well, in order to maintain the structure of the single salary schedule.

Mr. McInerney: Yes, and that was why there were no raises recommended nor granted in those areas where there is zero in front of those particular individuals' names.

Superintendent: And in some cases, following the policy established by a previous Committee, Mr. McInerney.

Mr. McMorrow: Does that explain, Mr. Superintendent, why the heads of departments were not given a raise?

Superintendent: Yes, Mr. McMorrow, I would say, it is following the general policy set down by a previous School Committee, that the heads of departments would remain at that figure until the submasters and the vice principals reached them, and then they both would proceed to a higher figure.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, may I point out before the vote is taken, that I think it is worth mentioning also that the Trade High School group made a point of telling me that they were not pressing this matter of the high school bonus.

Chairman: Are we ready for an expression of opinion by a poll?

Mr. Hurley: This is going to be brought up at a later time in the public meeting? Is that right, Mr. Chairman?

Chairman: Yes, and maybe developments will occur that will prompt members to change their votes, Mr. Hurley.

Secretary: This is on Order No. 3—Mr. McInerney's motion.

(Roll call.)

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Mr. Hurley: No.

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: Abstaining under protest.

Chairman: Yes.

Secretary: Passed.

Chairman: Is that Order 3?

Superintendent: Yes.

Secretary: Yes, that is Order 3.

Chairman: Now I think the Committee would proceed to Order No. 4, which deals with temporary teachers. That is on page 12.

The Chairman would move that the compensation of temporary teachers is hereby fixed for the period commencing September 1, 1956, and ending August 31, 1957, at the rate of $15 for each day of actual service except as specified below.

I will end my motion there and we can take up any exceptions later.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I move an amendment to that motion. I move that the compensation of temporary teachers is hereby fixed for the period commencing September 1st, 1956, and ending August 31, 1957, at the rate of $16 for each day of actual service.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I would like to speak in favor of your motion. As I said earlier, we all appreciate the fine service of the Boston school teaching personnel not to mention the administrators, and I think perhaps this Committee would like to go even further than $16 a day, but again we come back to the problem of money; and money means taxes, and taxes mean that somebody has to earn that money in order to pay it into the city coffers in order to pay it out to teachers, permanent and temporary.

So I believe, sir, that your motion is a step in the right direction. I am sure that all members of the Committee unanimously feel we would like to do a lot more, but we only have so much money to spend. We can only appropriate so much. We can only cut it up in so many directions; and I believe your motion will carry because we only have enough money to give the temporary teachers a raise from $14 to $15.

I wish that I could vote, Mr. Chairman, for Mr. McMorrow's motion. I wish that I could propose a motion to give the temporary teachers $17 or $18 a day.

Mr. McMorrow: I shall give you a chance!

Mr. McInerney: But the short answer is that we don't have the money, and unfortunately we can't give them raises without the money; and therefore, Mr. Chairman, I hope that your motion prevails.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, I recall that in May when the budget was made up, the $80,000 earmarked for the temporary teachers to be distributed at an increase of $2 a day was at your request and at your expressed urging, sir. I think now if you vote against Mr. McMorrow's motion you are voting in August against a proposal you made in May. I think what we need in this Committee is at least to be consistent. I therefore urge you to vote for Mr. McMorrow's motion.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I think it ought to be pointed out to persons interested that what is being done here is an attempt to take from the sums which had been set aside earlier in the year to raise the salary of temporary employees a sufficient amount of money to take care of a bonus for high school teachers.

Now, Mr. Chairman, if your motion prevails, taking into mind the fact that last year we received nine candidates from the State Teachers' College at Boston and no more, we shall then be paying our temporary teachers, assuming they are on long-term assignment and working every day, $2700. That is $300 less, Mr. Chairman, than the state minimum which was established this year by the Legislature, of course, for permanently appointed teachers.

I recognize the difference, but nevertheless, Mr. Chairman, I think this certainly is an example of robbing Peter to pay Paul; but worse than that, Mr. Chairman, it is taking advantage of a department and it's taking advantage of a situation that to me is just as critical as any that may exist in any part of our system.

I think, Mr. Chairman, that to vote for your motion is to vote to do something which would harm our system for a long, long time; and therefore, Mr. Chairman, I would hope that my motion, which is now before the body, for $16 a day would prevail.

Chairman: The Chairman might say that it is true that I urged the $16 a day for temporaries when we were putting money in the budget. In fact, I have been urging an increase over the years.

But again we come down under the Mayor's veto to a pinched condition. Why the Mayor thinks he knows what the citizens want to give to their schools better than we know, I can't imagine. I think we know much better than he does. It's our business to know.

However, the Mayor didn't take our word for it, and I am inclined to believe, as I have stated before, that our parents and our citizens would be willing to spend more on their public schools than they do on liquor and tobacco, and that they would be willing to spend a fifth as much on their public schools as they spend on their automobiles, but we did have a reduction made by the Mayor under power from the Legislature, and we can't do anything about it.

Now I will point out that if we do grant a dollar increase from $14 to $15 a day that that is a 7% increase—at least I think that is right, Mr. Superintendent, or about 7%—and that, I think, is more than we have in mind for anyone in the school system except the head masters who, I think, also come out at about 7 or 8% increase.

So that it isn't as though that were an entirely small amount. That is $180 for a year's work. Many of them do work a full year, and that is the same amount that most of you have in mind for those who are appointed for life. I have also been particularly zealous to relieve the hardships of temporary teachers by fighting against that Olympiadic fourth year where under the cruellest caprice of the law we deny teachers employment on a fourth year for the crime of their having given us good service for three years.

So I think, Mr. McMorro, that the Committee could compensate for its regret at not making it $16 if they would join with me next year or join with me right now this coming September and invite back to our service in some appropriate capacity those 200 temporary teachers whom we told to get out of the service last April; as I said, for the crime of having taught three years with us.

Mr. McMorro: Mr. Chairman, in effect we are saying to the temporary teachers that we are going to give you a pittance in return for your services next year.

Now, Mr. Chairman, I point out to you, since you, as you admitted just a moment ago, were one of the strongest advocates of our raising the salaries of our temporary employees, that it's going to be very, very difficult for us to attract temporary teachers to this system if we now vote to pay them no more than $2700 a year. Why, even some of the smallest towns in Massachusetts pay a rate far higher than that.

But, Mr. Chairman, rather than continue this debate, I would conclude by pointing out that I remember very well an order which emanated, I think, from City Hall suggesting that one of the reasons why a certain sum of money was voted was specifically to grant $16 a day to our temporary teachers. Now I could be mistaken, but if my memory serves me correctly, that did find its way into print and did emanate from City Hall.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I would like to dispel the idea that Boston pays merely a pittance to either the temporary or the permanent teachers, and I dislike Boston always getting the knock. I don't take personal dispute with Mr. McMorro.

You go into other cities and other states in the nation and people say—Well, Boston this and Boston that; and I think when we toss off careless remarks like the one Mr. McMorro just made, we do Boston a disservice. Instead of knocking Boston and saying we pay them a pittance, let's look at the facts.

Now I have some facts here which I'd just like to throw a little light on to show just what Boston is doing for teachers. I have some statistics here from the United States Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, and those statistics were prepared by that department, the United States Government, in Washington.

They show, Mr. Chairman—and I quote: "Expenditure per pupil, salaries and wages, general and educational," to be: Boston, with $6.07 per pupil, is topped only by two cities in the United States on the per pupil expenditure basis, and one is by Wilmington, Delaware, with $6.25 per pupil and Phoenix, Arizona in the high school level with $8.86—and that is, mind you, not in the top twenty-five cities of the nation but that's in 383 city and county school systems composing or encompassing every city of any real size in our beloved Republic.

So Boston is not giving the teachers a pittance. Boston is way up at the top of the scale. Boston is spending $6.07 per pupil, the third highest in the nation.

And, Mr. Chairman, to continue, these figures are accurate. They are available to anybody. To look and see how Boston does in our own state, our own Commonwealth, I have some figures from the Massachusetts Teachers' Association, 14 Beacon Street, almost diagonally across the street. In Massachusetts figures are given for forty-three cities and these are recent statistics. This sheet was issued September 15, 1955, and is entitled "Background Data for Comparing cities in respect to Payment of Adequate Salaries to Teachers."

To prove that Boston is not paying "a pittance" to teachers, and to stop the knock on Boston and to put Boston in the proper perspective and to show what the taxpayers and the fathers and mothers of the pupils are trying to do for the teachers, let me cite these statistics.

In forty-three cities and towns of Massachusetts, the average staff salary in Boston, for example, is $4848. Twenty-one cities and towns have a higher ratio of pupils per teacher. In other words, Boston has a lower ratio of pupils per teacher than twenty-one cities and towns, and only three cities and towns in the entire Commonwealth pay a higher average salary than Boston.

Thirty-nine cities and towns have a higher "persistence percentage"—that is, students remaining through high school. Thirty-nine cities and towns have lower assessed valuation per pupil. Boston has the highest tax rate of all.

Get this: Boston has the second highest tax per capita on the population, being topped only by the City of Newton, which is an extremely wealthy city, perhaps the wealthiest in the Commonwealth; and, last but not least, Boston ranks third in the Commonwealth in dollar support per pupil, and it's topped only by the richest town in the world, the Town of Brookline, and the City of Newton.

So, far from Boston paying her teachers a pittance, Boston is doing extremely well on a city level. It's doing well on a state level, and Boston is doing extremely well on a national level.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I have been speaking with different people, and I have reliable statistics, too, Mr. Chairman, and they tell me that of the 25 largest cities in the country the salary for Boston's elementary and junior high school teachers with a master's degree ranks 24th out of 25, and that of the 25 largest cities of the country, the salary for Boston's elementary and junior high school teachers with a bachelor's degree ranks 21st out of 25.

Also, that of the 25 major cities of the country, Boston is the only one which does not give salary credit for the master's degree in elementary and junior high school grades, and that of the 25 major cities of the country, Boston is the only one which has not put single salary into effect.

Additionally, Mr. Chairman, I wish that I could recall the phrase that my colleague on my right, Mr. Hurley, used when he spoke a little earlier this evening—something about someone being the saviour and something else of the single salary schedule; but I do think, Mr. Chairman, it is amusing to note that while we cry about the increase in the tax rate, we are yet, I suspect, prepared to vote a $200 flat bonus to a large segment of our teaching staff.

But, Mr. Chairman, I don't want to get embroiled in a discussion now because I would be perfectly willing to have the vote taken on Order No. 3. I simply wanted to answer with my statistics to show that there are figures and there are figures.

Order No. 4?

Chairman: The Chairman would like to make one further point at the heart of this matter. He holds up the printed list of candidates eligible for temporary service, and he shows that there are seven and a half pages of quite crowded type which you can see showing 346 teachers eligible by our own list to teach in elementary school.

Proportionately, there is a smaller number who are on our list anxious to teach in high school, and then there are further differences. Last year we had in this room some seventy-three temporary teachers pleading with tears in their eyes to be allowed to teach with us, and yet when we come to high schools it's the other way around. Mr. Bond has to stand up with tears in his eyes and tell of pleading to try to get high school men to come and teach with us on a temporary basis.

Also, the high school man, whose career is not interrupted by marriage—at least speaking of him as distinct from the high school women and the other women—looks forward to the ultimate wage he might get as a permanent teacher more than to what he might get during his probationary period of temporary service, whereas the woman who marries much younger and can't very well teach and raise a family at the same time is a little more inclined to look at the temporary pay and yet in the case of the elementary schools, where most of the women are, we do find a great many ready and anxious to work with us, and I think the raise of 7 per cent or one dollar this year will be even more encouraging to all.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, you had such a genuine concern for the plight of our temporary employees earlier in the year that I am quite surprised that you have done such a complete about-face and that you are now willing to vote them only $2700 each year.

However, Mr. Chairman, it seems to me that the points have been made. I have stressed, Mr. Chairman, that what is being done here is this. An attempt is being made to save money by cutting the salaries of temporary employees so that a sufficient sum may be found whereby a bonus may be paid to high school teachers later on.

I think, Mr. Chairman, that we are prepared to vote. We know our stand, so what is the delay?

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, I think I recall that in our conference with the Mayor the $80,000 for temporary teachers was left in the budget at your express urging, sir. I find you are now changing your opinion.

Chairman: I am quite sure that isn't so, Mr. Hurley, because I never tried to put a tag on how the dollars would be spent which the Mayor did or did not allow us. In fact, I was anxious as far as possible not to have him in any way designate or even express an opinion how he wanted the money he allowed us to get to be spent. I was merely concerned with the total amount that he might let us use on the schools.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I don't think you should be concerned too much about your change in sentiment concerning this. I, too, was aware that we put in this amount of money for temporary teachers, but at this time we see the situation as it exists, and I think, as you were just pointing out, that we should consider the shortage of high school teachers on our examined lists. It is a critical situation that exists, and it exists not only in Boston but in other big cities.

I think the Committee should be concerned with taking care of a situation that actually exists and try to hold teachers we actually have rather than being concerned about those teachers whom we possibly might have in our system. They are temporary teachers. We don't know whether we will use the amount of money that we have allocated there now for temporary teachers.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I wasn't aware of the fact that there was any grand exodus from the high schools, and I have the statistics here which I shall read in just a few moments which confirms my thought of the other evening that there certainly is no grand exodus of teachers from the high schools, and I shall read this into the record at the appropriate time.

But I think, Mr. Chairman, that my colleague to my left has made a very fair statement. He has said that the situation here is that some members are now looking to the high school people and want to find the money so that they can pay them a bonus and that therefore there is going to be a cut in the original proposal for the amount of per diem pay that would go to the temporary employees. I think that what he has just said is a fair statement and represents the truth in the matter.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Superintendent, I remember last spring when we were discussing these sums, you told us that nothing was actually earmarked, that we were just putting in temporary sums and that the actual earmarking would come late in August. Isn't that the advice that you gave us at that time, sir?

Superintendent: Mr. McInerney, that is true. When you prepare your budget, you itemize it in a certain way. However, you did not commit yourself officially on how that money would be distributed at the time, and this is the occasion to decide on how the money should be allocated by the Committee.

Mr. McInerney: I believe you also told us, Dr. Haley, that in effect we were putting the sum of $287,000 in the area for instructional services. Is that the word or the expression you used?

Superintendent: I think that is true.

Mr. McInerney: So I don't see that anybody is changing his vote or cutting his vote. We got that much money, almost $300,000, from the Mayor and the Council without actually earmaking it.

Chairman: The Chairman might just say he was anxious last spring to extend more dollars toward high school men and more dollars toward temporary people, and he still is, and he is trying to make a reasonable division.

Is there any further discussion? Now we will have to vote first on the highest amount proposed, and the highest amount proposed was $16 as offered by Mr. McMorrow, so we will vote on $16 and see how many votes are in favor of $16.

(Rollcall:)

Mr. Carr: No.

Mr. Hurley: Yes.

Mr. McInerney: No.

Mr. McMorrow: Yes.

Chairman: No.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I now move a further amendment to your motion that a flat sum of $3,000 be paid our temporary employees so that the order will read in effect "Ordered, that the compensation of temporary teachers is hereby fixed for the period commencing September 1, 1956 and ending August 31, 1957, at the rate of $3000 annually."

Mr. McInerney: May we have the vote, Mr. Chairman?

Chairman: Would you state your motion again, Mr. McMorrow, please?

Mr. McMorrow: I am glad to restate my motion. It means that persons on long-term assignments who, under the original motion or under your motion, would be receiving something like $2880 or $2700, under my amendment to your motion would receive a flat salary of $3000 in keeping with the minimum salary which has been established by the state legislature.

Chairman: Mr. McMorrow, wouldn't you have to designate rather carefully in your motion and in the wording of your motion just whom you refer to?

Mr. McMorrow: I am going to make some amendments if it carries, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: And wouldn't you have to say under what obligation we would be to have the teacher with us already? I guess you did say a contract, but how would you select those teachers who would be favored with contracts as against those who would simply be on call for the shorter terms of service?

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I have indicated that this would be for persons on long-term assignment. We have a number of people who work customarily 180 days per year. I think that to attract people to our system from our state Teachers Colleges with the thought of giving them a long-term assignment that we should pay them $2700 is being a little bit ridiculous and that figure should be $3000.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I have a question. Dr. Haley, could you give us an expression of opinion on this motion with regard to how it would be worked out as a practical matter?

Superintendent: Mr. McInerney, I would think that if the basic salary of $3,000 was established for long-term temporary assignment the per diem allocation would be, let's say, 180 days divided into $3,000.

Mr. McInerney: Well, do you recommend, Dr. Haley, that we give $3,000 to the long-term temporaries and only $14 a day to the so-called short-term temporaries, or would you have an opinion one way or the other?

Superintendent: Well, Mr. Chairman, for all practical purposes it would be pretty difficult for Miss O'Brien in the Department of Practice and Training to decide between the $16-a-day persons and the $14. Many times we get very fine temporary teachers among persons who are not on any of the temporary lists, and I think there might be some dissatisfaction on the part of, let's say a person who has had a great deal of experience but not on one of our lists who does a fine piece of work if somebody off of a temporary list was receiving $2 a day more, which would be $10 a week.

Mr. McInerney: Well, actually, if you work it out on a daily basis it comes to $15.10 a day because 180 divided into $3,000 is $15.10 or so, as I see it.

Chairman: $16.

Mr. McInerney: $16.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I think it would be approximately fifty cents more per day than the other proposal.

Chairman: Mr. McMorrow, if you had proposed year-long contracts for certain temporary teachers at the rate of $15 a day or $2700 per year, then that would be a big benefit and a considerable encouragement to temporary teachers, and I should be glad to vote for that at some other meeting other than where we are merely discussing the level of salary and at some meeting where we are discussing the duration of the contract. I think at the present time I would vote against your motion because it involves a considerable increase in pay as well as a very desirable benefit in security and prospects for the teacher.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I do not agree with you that it represents a substantial increase in pay. I have just pointed out that it means about fifty cents daily more than the original $16 per day which this Committee, I understood, a few months ago was going to grant to its temporary employees.

But since, Mr. Chairman, an expression of opinion has been asked of the Superintendent on this proposal, then, Mr. Superintendent, I think in all fairness I shall have to ask you to tell this Committee in your opinion whether or not you think that if this Committee offers an annual salary of $2700 per year expecting to have persons on long-term assignments serve at that figure, this city is going to be able to attract many candidates from our state Teachers' Colleges or from whatever sources they come at that figure?

Superintendent: Well, Mr. Chairman, if history repeats itself we will not attract many from the Boston State Teachers' College or from other state Teachers' Colleges.

Mr. McMorrow: And is the major factor for that, Mr. Superintendent, the salary schedule for temporary teachers in this city?

Superintendent: I would say so, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. McMorrow: Thank you, Mr. Superintendent.

Mr. McInerney: Dr. Haley, you say that this plan of $3,000 per annum for long-term temporary teachers would be administrative-ly unworkable, is that right, or difficult?

Superintendent: Well, I wouldn't say that it would be, but it wouldn't be easy. However, if the School Committee votes it we certainly will work out a plan that will be practical.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, maybe at this time a point of order should be raised. We have already voted against a $16 pay schedule for temporary teachers. Now Mr. McMorrow is proposing $16.66 per day in effect, and I am wondering if that would be in order, sir, in light of the earlier vote?

Chairman: Well, I suppose it might be in order because he has put it on the basis of a long-term contract. It's rather irregular.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Superintendent, isn't it a fact that the lack of attraction of the Boston school system to those just emerging from college is the fact that they can't be permanently appointed here till they have two years' experience with a bachelor's degree and one year with a master's degree?

Superintendent: No, I don't think so, Mr. Carr. I think it's the fact that superintendents of contiguous cities will go to the State Teachers College and offer contracts of $3100, $3200 and $3300, and naturally those girls graduating will accept those contracts rather than accept what we were offering on the basis—

Mr. Carr: Isn't it also true they offer them a contract and that is a steady job for a year?

Superintendent: That is for a year.

Mr. Carr: Well, isn't it true that they can't come in here on a permanent appointment until they have a year's experience?

Superintendent: Well, they don't have a permanent appointment in these other cities. They are not on tenure until the third year.

Mr. Carr: At least they are assured of a year's work if they sign a contract.

Superintendent: That is true.

Mr. Carr: If they came in here they would have to depend on temporary work on a per diem basis.

Superintendent: If the Committee sees fit . . .

Mr. Hurley: May I ask the Superintendent a question?

Mr. Carr: Go ahead.

Mr. Hurley: I wanted to ask the Superintendent if Mr. McMorrow's motion passes, whether it would be easier to administer the $3,000 yearly if we did sign the teachers to a yearly contract?

Superintendent: We could, Mr. Hurley, establish a pool of teachers at the rate of $3000 a year, and we could use that pool either day to day or on long-term assignments.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I think that is an excellent point that my colleague, Mr. Hurley, has brought out; and therefore I think that if my motion passes and if Mr. Hurley then intends to make such a motion, I would be very happy to vote for it.

Mr. Hurley: Will you amend your motion and add the words "on a yearly contract" after "temporary teachers"?

Mr. McMorrow: Well, I would like to have the Superintendent's thought on that.

Superintendent: Well, I think Mr. Chairman, that your original motion was for a flat $3,000 a year for a group of temporary teachers. Isn't that true?

Mr. McMorrow: That is true—those on long-term assignments.

Superintendent: That's right. However, Mr. Chairman, while we could make the bulk of them long-term, we certainly could use some portion of the bulk if an assignment was terminated for day to day work so that they still would be operating as far as their salaries were concerned on what you might call a permanent basis.

Mr. McMorrow: Then could I suggest that we do this? Let us first see if the motion passes. There is no sense in determining contractual relationships if we don't have the votes for the $3,000 salary.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, would it be possible to postpone action on this amendment at this time until we consider the so-called teachers' bonus and see how that is disposed of first? I believe in my mind it's a monetary question, whether we have the money or not, and I'd like to see one resolved before we entertain any new business.

Chairman: There is a motion on the floor to pay $15 a day to temporary teachers or offer $15 a day to temporary teachers.

Mr. McMorrow: $3,000.

Chairman: Now I made that motion. There is an amendment now dealing with a year-long contract at what would be a higher figure per day, and therefore a higher total per year.

Mr. McInerney: I'd like to see Mr. McMorrow's motion disposed of first and then we will dispose of your motion or act on your motion, Mr. Chairman, and then go on to the other problem.

Chairman: I should think it was the same either way. I would see no gain in dispensing with changing the order of business.

Mr. McMorrow: It is the only way you can do it.

Mr. Carr: Well, the amendment doesn't seem germane to the main motion. You are talking about a per diem pay and a per diem salary in your main motion, and now we have a question of an outright annual salary in the amendment. I don't know how you can tie the two of them together, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I think it is for that very point that you have ruled already in favor of allowing my motion to be put at this time; and I know, Mr. Chairman—

Mr. Carr: It is an amendment, isn't it, Mr. Chairman?

Mr. McMorrow: And I know, Mr. Chairman, you will stand by the ruling you have just made within the last ten minutes.

Mr. McInerney: May we have the question read?

Chairman: It is a substitute motion in the form of an amendment or an amendment in the form of a substitute motion. I think we had better dispose of this amendment, and the Chairman would point out before a vote is taken that there are other recourses for encouraging younger teachers to come with us.

I made a great effort last winter as this Committee knows, to extend the number of people or to extend the title and perquisites of permanent teacher to a great many teachers then called temporary. About one-fifth of our teachers are called temporary.

From anything I have been able to discover, there is no need of having a fringe of temporaries greater than one-tenth. Many times last year I urged that we convert a larger number of temporaries to permanent by changing our formula that admits of permanent teachers. In other words, to use my phrase, I said let us use the same human beings but extend the cloak and pay of permanency to many who are now working as temporaries.

So that we do have a perfectly good recourse for giving very substantial increases in emoluments to a very large section of temporary teachers, and all within the frame of the salary schedule we set up for permanents.

So that under my motion of a dollar a day raise for 180 days we would be offering more than we ever have before, and we still have the door wide open to put the cloak of permanency and the pay of permanency around the shoulders of 50, 100, or 150 or 200 or 250 teachers who next year will start as temporaries.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I'd like to ask the Business Manager in his opinion if this $3,000 flat salary for temporary teachers carried and the $200 increase or increment for high school teachers carried: Would we be able to afford both of them? I mean in his opinion. Do you have enough money in there?

Business Manager: Mr. Chairman and Mr. Carr, in my opinion, of course, I don't know first of all whether the $3000 could be arranged on short notice; but if it were and the $200 you are speaking of as a possibility—a $200 bonus to high school teachers—were approved, I think there is a sufficient sum in the budget.

Mr. Carr: There is?

Business Manager: Yes.

Chairman: Well, the Business Manager says there is a sufficient sum for both the motions—for Mr. McMorrow's present amendment to prevail and then for a possible proposal for a $200 increase for the high school teachers to prevail and still have money.

However, that at least contradicts the figures given us by the Superintendent. There is nothing shown on the table of figures given us by the Superintendent that there is that much money available as far as I know.

Business Manager: Mr. Chairman, the figures shown to you by the Superintendent had the sum of money placed in the budget by the School Committee for salaries. At no time was the question asked: Was there a little more available?

Chairman: May I figure out loud that if we give the temporary teachers under Mr. McMorrow's proposal $100 more for their services from September to the end of the year, that would be a third of the $300 raise embodied in his proposal — that we have after all some 500 temporary teachers, and that would be 500 times $100 or $50,000, so that would seem to imply that there was $50,000 more available to us than we had in mind under the figures submitted to us by the Superintendent two weeks ago.

Business Manager: Mr. Chairman, are you talking about an annual increase or are you talking about an increase for the period September through December?

Chairman: When I mentioned $50,000, it seemed to me it would take that to run from September to the end of the year. In other words, $15 a day, the present policy, comes out at $180 to $2700 a year.

Business Manager: Yes.

Chairman: And $3000 is $300 beyond that.

Business Manager: That's right.

Chairman: But we are only concerned with a third of a year, and therefore we are only concerned with $100 more for each of perhaps 500 temporary teachers, which would be $50,000 more, and I was very doubtful whether that amount of money was in sight.

Business Manager: Well, to begin with, Mr. Chairman, there is a figure in there of $80,000, which is for a $2.00 raise. So you are only talking about the extra 67 cents a day.

Chairman: Mr. McMorrow asked for the floor.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Business Manager, would it be a little easier from a bookkeeping point of view if, rather than make it a flat $3,000, an increase to $17 a day for those on long-term assignment were made? I think that would amount to $3060 or $3080. Would you welcome my changing my motion to read $17 even rather than $3,000 flat?

Business Manager: Well, that would continue the present system.

Mr. McMorrow: It would be a little easier?

Business Manager: I thought perhaps you would suggest that the $3000 be paid on a monthly basis in ten months.

Chairman: Please let's have a little more quiet, ladies and gentlemen.

Mr. McMorrow: Then if this order were changed to read $17 per day to be paid on a monthly basis, Mr. Business Manager, that would satisfy your objections, is that right?

Business Manager: Well, it would be simpler. We are familiar with the per diem rate.

Mr. McMorrow: Then, Mr. Chairman, I move a further amendment of the amendment that I have made to your motion to read that the compensation of temporary teachers on long-term assignment is hereby fixed for the period commencing September 1, 1956, and ending August 31, 1957, at the rate of $17 for each day of actual service and that such compensation should be paid as at present.

Business Manager: That's right.

Chairman: Mr. McMorrow, the worse you get beaten, the more you come up with more aggressive tactics. Now you were defeated on $16 a day, and your answer therefore is to propose $17 a day.

Mr. Carr did raise a point of order that, having been defeated on $16 a day, we couldn't put to a vote a higher figure, and I ruled that because you had talked in terms of a different method of hiring it did constitute a new amendment, but at least it must be clear to you that you don't have three votes to support a figure higher than what you were already defeated on.

It is conceivable that if you made the same figure of $16 with your arrangement for a long-term contract or long-term contracts you might possibly now get more sympathy because the Business Manager has seemed to say that there is more money in the budget than we thought.

However, I will put your motion to a vote if you wish, but I am trying to keep the procedure orderly.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I simply want to state that my colleague, Mr. Hurley, and I have not even yet begun to fight, so I hope you will stay around.

Mr. Chairman, I certainly think that in suggesting that we pay our temporary persons on long-term assignments $17 per day and that they be paid on a monthly basis and that this be given to those on long-term assignment, that certainly fits in with the ruling that you gave just a while ago; and certainly, Mr. Chairman, what more do you need? The Business Manager now says that this can be done, and if the members of the Committee now wish to grant a bonus to the high school teachers, now, he says, there is sufficient money available.

I suppose, Mr. Chairman, that one of the reasons there is sufficient money available is because it is my opinion, Mr. Chairman, that practically everybody else in the school system is receiving nothing so that we can give a $200 bonus to high school teachers, and that includes many persons in the high schools.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, everybody appreciates a laugh, but let's be hard-headed about it. Mr. Burke, you have the sum of $80,000 in there temporarily earmarked for temporary teachers for a tentative raise from $14 to $16. Is that correct?

Business Manager: That is correct.

Mr. McInerney: And if we were to raise the teachers by another dollar a day, it would cost not $80,000 but $120,000—isn't that correct? In other words, each dollar costs $40,000 per year for temporary teachers?

Business Manager: That is correct, Mr. McInerney.

Mr. McInerney: And we haven't got $120,000 for temporary teachers, have we?

Business Manager: We have $80,000, which some say is earmarked.

Mr. McInerney: Well, you have $80,000 over last year, which would allow an increase from $14 to $16.

Business Manager: Yes, that $80,000 was provided, Mr. McInerney, to raise them to $16 a day. To raise them to $17, we would need another $40,000. You mean we have $120,000. We have $80,000 already placed in there and earmarked.

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Business Manager: The question was asked: Is there another $40,000?

Mr. McInerney: Is there?

Business Manager: Not earmarked for that particular purpose. The answer is yes.

Mr. McInerney: Well, where is it?

Mr. McMorrow: You saved it on the heads of departments.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Burke, I'd like you to tell me where the other $40,000 is in the budget.

Business Manager: Well, it's customary at least with this department, Mr. Chairman and Mr. McInerney, to have an unexpended balance—not as some other departments have, a deficit.

Mr. McInerney: How much of an unexpended balance have you?

Business Manager: Our best estimate of the unexpended balance, projecting what has happened to date and the very indefinite things which might happen from now on—and I am sure from this discussion you can determine how definite the "from now on" is—is that our unexpended balance projected to the end of the year would be about one-half of 1 per cent of the budget.

Mr. McInerney: How much in dollars?

Business Manager: About $130,000.

Mr. McInerney: You mean that we have $130,000 in addition to the $287,000?

Business Manager: Earmarked. You are talking about money now that is earmarked. I am talking about money which would be unexpended in balances.

Mr. McInerney: You mean that we have $130,000 besides the $287,000 tentatively marked for raises?

Business Manager: Yes.

Mr. McInerney: I'd like to finish this, Mr. Burke. Did you prepare these figures for the Committee?

Business Manager: Those figures state the sums of money provided in the budget and earmarked for specific purposes in the budget. That's all those figures state.

Mr. McInerney: Do you mean to say, Mr. Burke, that we have $130,000 not tentatively earmarked?

Business Manager: But saved from our experience to date with the figures provided—as one example, the sum of money provided for substitute teachers. Our basis of provision for substitute teachers this year was last year; and last year was, as some of you may remember, a year when we did have more sickness than usual in the spring, and it extended into May.

However, this year we witnessed a return to the more normal, and we have for example saved money in the first part of the year on the sum provided for substitute teachers.

Mr. McInerney: Can you tell me, Mr. Burke, unequivocally whether we have any more than $130,000 not earmarked?

Business Manager: That would be my best estimate.

Mr. McInerney: Why wasn't the Committee informed that we had $130,000?

Business Manager: What is the heading on that sheet?

Mr. McInerney: "Salary increases provided for in the budget."

Business Manager: That's correct.

Chairman: Do you want to yield to the Superintendent, Mr. McInerney?

Mr. McInerney: Yes. I would like to have some light shed on how much money is floating around in the budget, whether it is earmarked or not.

Superintendent: Mr. Chairman, these sheets that you have here simply show what the School Committee put into the budget for salary increases for the instructional personnel. In other words, there are at least three members of the School Committee who wanted $175,000 earmarked in the budget for the single salary step, $22,000 for salary adjustments—

Mr. McMorrow: Would you repeat that again, please, so we can hear it, Mr. Superintendent? There are at least what?

Superintendent: There are at least three members of the School Committee—I don't know the number, but it had to have at least three before it went down to the Mayor—

Mr. McMorrow: Who were willing to do what?

Superintendent: Who placed in the budget $175,000 earmarked to accomplish the fifth step of the single salary schedule.

They also put in $22,000 to provide for salary adjustments, increases, $80,000 to provide for the increase for the temporary teachers from $14 to $16 and $10,000 with the hope of being able to use it in some way or other to attract science and math teachers at the high school level.

Now the total of that was $287,000; so when the Committee a week or two ago started on the problem of the salary schedule, I presented to the Committee a statement on the money that the School Committee put into the budget for salary changes.

Now I want to make this very clear in fairness to our budget and in fairness to Mr. Burke. Mr. Burke tells you that he has projected as best he can our instructional budget through to the end of the year. Or, Mr. Burke, would that be "Operation of Plant and Administration," or was it just in "Instruction"?

Business Manager: The whole.

Superintendent: The whole field. Now keep this in mind. Mr. Burke has this in mind. There are five divisions of the budget. First Administration, Mr. Burke?

Business Manager: Right.

Superintendent: The second one Instruction?

Business Manager: Right.

Superintendent: The third one. Operation of Plant?

Business Manager: Yes.

Superintendent: The fourth one, Auxiliary Services?

Business Manager: Yes.

Superintendent: And the fifth one, Fixed Charges. Now Fixed Charges is really the matter of pensions to veterans and things of that sort where there can be no unexpended balance or very little. If a person who retired dies, then certainly we don't have to pay him, but in general that doesn't change.

Now Mr. Burke has projected as best he can the expenditures of the school budget in these other four. Is that true, Mr. Burke?

Business Manager: That is correct.

Superintendent: And he estimates that across those four there perhaps will be $130,000 unexpended.

Mr. McMorrow: What for?

Superintendent: Across the four divisions of the budget.

Mr. McMorrow: I am just trying to make this clear. We have no more than four divisions?

Superintendent: Well, we have the fifth one, but the fifth one is Fixed Charges, and the chances are that there will be no change in that. There will be unexpended balances in each one of four divisions of the budget.

Now every year we try to project the school budget through to the end of the year. However, this is true — that everything that you do is presently gambling on unexpended balances; and important, too, is the fact that the money cannot be transferred — unexpended money — in November or December from "Administration" or "Operation of Plant" or "Auxiliary Services" to "Instruction" without four votes of the School Committee and the approval of the Mayor. Am I correct?

Business Manager: That's right.

Superintendent: Now I want to be sure that you understand that there isn't $130,000 lurking around in our budget. It's only that the estimated expenses for the complete operation of our school system will show that we will wind up with about $130,000.

Now I am not entering this situation on what the Committee is going to do or what decision they are going to make, but I don't want to have them make decisions on the utilization of the $130,000 or any portion of it and then find that the Mayor would not be willing to transfer, and I don't say he wouldn't. He has always done it, but at least we do not have the supreme control of any unexpended balance that is in any area for salaries other than in the area of Instruction.

Now could I ask Mr. Burke: What portion of the $130,000 would you estimate would be in Instruction?

Business Manager: Approximately $80,000.

Superintendent: So that strictly speaking it appears from savings that we have made that there will be about $80,000 apart from the money which is earmarked here, Mr. Burke, for salary adjustments—apart from that money.

Now keep in mind that we cannot run a school system with a budget of $28,000,000 without having some money left over, and we were told by the Corporation Counsel two or three years ago—at least I was—that if the school system ran into the red it could be considered a criminal act of the Superintendent and the Business Manager.

Now I am not entering any situation on what you are going to do, but I don't want any wrong impressions about any loose money that is in the budget.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, it is certainly interesting that at this point we find that we have $80,000 expected savings in the Instructional area, and I would assume, Mr. Burke, needless to say, that you found the $80,000 or that you determined that you have an expected savings of $80,000.

I am making this comment on my own. When you look through this proposed salary schedule and you find how much we were not doing for practically everybody in the entire salary schedule or in the school system and how much we were doing to take care of the high school system . . .

I am very much guided by what the Superintendent says—that we would, if we ran over, have the problem of asking transfer from one category to another and that requires the approval of the Mayor.

But it certainly interests me, Mr. Chairman, to find out that this Committee has been able to effect savings to the tune of $80,000; and certainly, Mr. Chairman, that $80,000 could have gone a long, long way to doing something for our teaching personnel other than for the small group that you are going to take care of tonight.

Now, Mr. Chairman, I'd also like to ask the Superintendent through you: When this went down and when you listed this group beginning with $175,000, you listed another figure of $80,000 entirely separate from the one I have just mentioned and you said that this $80,000 was earmarked for the $16 a day increase for temporary teachers.

Is that correct, Mr. Superintendent?

Superintendent: For the increase from $14 to $16.

Mr. McMorro: And it is specifically stated that the increase would be from $14 to $16. Is that correct?

Superintendent: That was the understanding on the part of the Committee at the time that the money was put in the budget.

Mr. McMorro: And does the same thing apply to this category as applied to the first . . . the $175,000. That at least three members indicated that they would raise the salary to $16 per day.

Superintendent: Well, at least, Mr. Chairman, they put the money in the Budget to provide for increasing salaries to $16 a day, and that is why . . .

Mr. McMorro: Mr. Superintendent, my question was this: Did at least three members do that?

Superintendent: It would have to have at least three votes:

Mr. McMorro: Thank you, Mr. Superintendent.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Superintendent, getting back to the unexpended balance, you spoke of it being necessary to get the approval of four members of the School Committee and the signature of the Mayor to transfer funds from one department to another. Is there a certain time? Is it the last month in the calendar year that that is prohibited—the School Committee transferring without the Mayor's signature? Is it a particular time in the year?

Superintendent: No, Mr. Carr, any time in the year.

Mr. Carr: If we wanted to transfer funds from one department to another tonight, it would be necessary to get four votes of this Committee and the Mayor's signature?

Superintendent: That's right.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I was indeed surprised to learn that we had a probable surplus of $130,000 in those four areas—Administration, Instruction, Operation of Plant, and Auxiliary Services; and having in mind the fact that we now have $80,000 in the area of Instruction, then I think we should reconsider the vote on raising the temporary teachers from $14 to $16 and I would like to vote to give the temporary teachers a raise from $14 to $16; and I therefore move reconsideration of the vote, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: The Chairman would point out that it would take $40,000 more than we had budgeted to give a $200 increase to the high schools, and we have all known it. Now we find it's $80,000.

It would seem conservative to spend half of it for the purpose of giving a $200 increase to the high school people and still leave a sensible reserve.

Mr. McMorro, in your absence Mr. McInerney has indicated that he would be willing as a member of the prevailing side to vote for reconsideration of the $16 a day payment to temporary teachers. I think it would make life much simpler for the school system, including yourself and ourselves, if you would not raise the question of the long-term contract now. I think we ought to set a salary now or a payment and then meet next week to consider the matter of contracts.

I happen to be very sympathetic with that. Now that you have got a member to move reconsideration, it is my hope that you will take any other submotions off the floor and let reconsideration be put to a vote, which I would think might be in keeping with your original wish.

Mr. McMorro: Well, Mr. Chairman, having discovered this bonanza, I am certainly not going to let it slip through my hands, but I would like to suggest that we should not make it $16 per day but $17 per day and that this $17 per day would bring it up to something like the state minimum teaching salary; and I think that even doing that, Mr. Chairman, there is still a sufficient amount of money to allow the prevailing members of this Committee to do whatever they want to do on anything else.

But, Mr. Chairman, I'd like to make the point again that we certainly have saved an awful lot of money at the expense of the general teaching staff, and we are certainly not going to do much, Mr. Chairman, for them this year.

Chairman: Well, let's not give $17 elsewhere. The only motion the Chair can entertain logically at this time is Mr. McInerney's motion to reconsider our rejection of Mr. McMorrow's original amendment of $16. I should think the Committee would want to vote on that or at least discuss that.

Mr. Hurley: I'd like to ask Mr. Burke a question, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: Go right ahead, Mr. Hurley.

Mr. Hurley: Can you tell us what happens to any unexpended balance, Mr. Burke?

Business Manager: Well, Mr. Chairman and Mr. Hurley, I might preface my remarks by pointing out to the Committee what several of them know because they have been on the Committee in the past—that over the years—for example, from 1951 to 1955—we have had unexpended balances which varied from .66 to 2.02 of the total budget. So it hasn't been an unusual occurrence that we have had an unexpended balance.

Now as to what is done with the money unexpended, under the law that money can be reappropriated next year, and the reappropriation of that money results in a savings to the taxpayer on the school budget for the year 1957. I know that several of the Committee members have expressed from time to time a desire to do something for the taxpayer.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, to make it very clear, Mr. Burke, there is now $80,000 earmarked in the budget for the $16. I am speaking for the moment of the $16 a day payment until this matter is clarified. Right?

Business Manager: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: In addition to that $80,000 there is another $80,000 and the savings. Is that your term?

Business Manager: In the field of Instruction.

Mr. McMorrow: In Instruction—right?

Business Manager: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: What would be the cost of the $17 a day rate of increase?

Business Manager: $40,000 for the balance of the year.

Mr. McMorrow: $40,000 for the balance of the year?

Business Manager: And the effect in the coming year would be the full effect.

Mr. McMorrow: And that would bring us up to the state minimum, and our minimum for teachers on permanent salary is what, Mr. Superintendent—for teachers on permanent salary in the first year?

Superintendent: $3504.

Mr. McMorrow: $3504. I don't see, Mr. Chairman, why any member of this Committee has to have any qualms about voting for a $3,000 minimum salary for these persons.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I don't think that we ought to go further and possibly get into hot water later in the year. I would favor the conservative point of view where we have tentatively earmarked a $2 increase for teachers. Raise them from $14 to $16 now, and then we can pursue later the question of whether we should sign up long-term teachers on a contractual basis. I don't think we ought to decide that tonight. I think we ought to raise the temporary teachers from $14 to $16 now that we have the money and then get on with the other problem.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I move the question.

Chairman: On reconsideration?

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Chairman: The Chairman believes we ought to put the motion on reconsideration on the $16.

The Chair so moves, that the reconsideration of the motion on $16 is now on the floor.

Secretary: This is Mr. McInerney's motion—

Mr. McMorrow: Wait a minute. Just a minute, please.

Mr. Chairman, I would like to have the ruling read on reconsidering matters. Point of parliamentary inquiry: Reconsideration has been proposed on this motion. Is it in order at this conference?

Mr. O'Connor: Mr. McMorrow, any member of the Committee is at liberty at any time during this conference to vote reconsideration, and it precedes the amendment on the other motion. I think the Chairman should proceed on Mr. McInerney's motion for reconsideration.

Mr. McMorrow: Well, Mr. Chairman, I assume you have pushed your proposal for reconsideration with the understanding that I may then offer the proposal for $16. Is that correct—since all of you were opposed to it just a moment ago? I assume, Mr. Chairman, you are not going to take advantage of the situation just because now you find you have the money.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I think it was members of the prevailing side who found that we did have the money.

Mr. McInerney: That's right.

Mr. Carr: Through the honesty of the Business Manager.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, if the majority members continue treating the minority members the way they have been treating them all week, we won't get very far.

Mr. McInerney: A point of personal privilege.

Chairman: Let's speak on the subject.

Mr. McMorrow: If there is going to be an attempt to say that the minority members did not push for the adoption of the $16 increase for temporary teachers, I certainly won't go along with it. I have allowed many things this week but not that.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I again don't like to call Mr. McMorrow to task, but I don't think he ought to characterize a majority of three members of this Committee as pushing him around . . . unquote. Nobody is pushing anybody around, and in the heat of battle I wish he would refrain from any such suggestions. I don't think they do him justice, and they don't lend any stature to him, and, if he doesn't make the motion, I will move to give the temporary teachers an increase from $14 to $16.

When I voted, Mr. Chairman, on the motion that Mr. McMorrow made to raise the temporary teachers to $16, I was of the opinion that we had no surplus or savings in the area of instruction, and, as a result of my probing of Mr. Burke, and with Dr. Haley's assistance, we found that we have $80,000 and I for one will make the motion—and I am certain it will be unanimous—to give the temporary teachers a raise from $14 to $16.

Mr. Carr: I thought I did that!

Chairman: I would like to make a ruling. The Chairman will say, as a matter of procedure, that if the vote to reconsider Mr. McMorrow's proposal for $16 passes and then we do reconsider, what we will be reconsidering is Mr. McMorrow's motion. We will not be reconsidering my motion or Mr. Carr's or Mr. McInerney's or Mr. Hurley's. We will then be reconsidering Mr. McMorrow's motion.

Mr. McMorrow: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Business Manager: Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: Mr. Hurley.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, if the motion to reconsider fails, where are we?

Mr. Carr: You are out. We go on with further business.

Business Manager: Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Hurley: Isn't there a motion on the floor for $17?

Mr. McInerney: It's wiped out by the motion to reconsider, Mr. Hurley.

Chairman: That was the ruling of the Chair, sustained as I thought, by Mr. O'Connor of our rules of order. I think we should vote on whether to reconsider.

Mr. Hurley: You are assuming that the motion to reconsider will pass, is that correct?

Chairman: No.

Mr. McInerney: I move the question, Mr. Chairman.

Business Manager: Mr. Chairman, could I just make one minor point? On the question of the probing to discover that there was a balance, might I point out to you, Mr. Chairman, and the Committee that this Committee upstairs during the last few minutes granted increases of pay to certain persons, which increases were not in the budget, and the Business Manager stated that he could provide the funds so that this Committee was aware that the balance in the budget was not going to reach the mythical zero—that there were certain funds and some of them have been spent already.

Chairman: Thank you, Mr. Burke. (Applause).

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Burke, if my memory serves me, we have only tentatively voted a few thousand dollars to a few worthy individuals.

Business Manager: That's right, and any action that takes place now will reduce that.

Mr. McInerney: I didn't know we had $80,000. It is a revelation to me tonight that we have $80,000 savings in that area.

Chairman: Let's be glad of it. I would like to have the vote on reconsideration. Are you speaking on reconsideration?

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, McInerney moved the question, and the question takes precedence over any other motion.

Mr. McMorrow: That's right.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I would like you to call the roll.

Mr. McInerney: I move the previous question.

Chairman: Call the roll on reconsideration, Miss Reynolds.

Secretary: Reconsideration of the order establishing the compensation at $16 per day?

(Roll call:)

Chairman: Yes.

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Mr. Hurley: It's a little difficult to fathom where we are left if this motion passes or fails. I can't very well vote against the motion where I have already voted for a motion to pay them $16 a day. Therefore, I will have to pass on this.

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: Pass.

Chairman: Yes.

The Chair now states that we are reconsidering Mr. McMorrow's motion to pay our temporary teachers $16 a day.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, on reconsideration —

Chairman: Reconsideration is passed, and we are now reconsidering Mr. McMorrow's motion to pay temporary teachers $16 a day.

Mr. McInerney: On reconsideration of Mr. McMorrow's motion, I am glad that he made it. If he did not, I would have made it, and I am certain that the motion will be unanimous, and I, therefore, second the motion and move the previous question and hope we have the vote and get on to other business.

(Roll call:)

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Mr. Hurley: Yes.

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: Yes.

Chairman: Yes.

Chairman: The Chair wants to point out the next order of business, the next natural order of business, is the further consideration of temporary payments. With that in mind, Mr. McMorrow, did you wish to speak?

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I want to ask one question, but I can't resist making the comment that, as I said before, we are not quite ready to consign the body of the deceased to the burial place. I think we are making some progress, Mr. Chairman.

Now, would you tell me, on the salary schedule that we have finished up through page 12½, the reference you have just made is to which page and in which section, please?

Chairman: We are still on page 12, and we are in the exact center of page 12. We are still on order No. 4. It is still under the heading of "Temporary Employees," and the exact subtitle is "Day Elementary and Day Junior High Schools."

Mr. McInerney: I move the adoption of Order No. 4, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. McMorrow: No objection, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Carr: Second the motion, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: Order No. 4 then goes on to take in various, what might be called, minor officials like certain coaches and certain laborers.

Mr. Carr: We have copies, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: Is there anything you want to bring up on that, Mr. Haley?

Superintendent: No, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: Will you call the roll, Miss Reynolds?

Secretary: That is Mr. McInerney on Order No. 4.

(Roll call:)

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Mr. Hurley: Yes.

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: Yes.

Chairman: Yes.

The Chairman would now like to present another order, and it reads as follows: "ORDERED, That for the year ending August 31, 1957, permanent teachers appointed or assigned full time to the following-named ranks in the Latin and Day High Schools shall be paid at the rate of $200 per year in addition to the regular salary of their ranks," and then follows a list of persons.

Mr. McMorrow: Can we simplify that by saying everyone in the high schools other than headmaster? Is that true?

Superintendent: No.

Mr. McMorrow: Is that true?

Chairman: If you have this order in front of you, there may not be a need of reading every name, but we cannot simplify it, because we want to be sure that every name is spelled out in the order.

Mr. McInerney: Do we have a copy, Mr. Chairman?

Chairman: I have a copy.

Secretary: You have this bunch of papers.

Chairman: Mr. Carr does and Mr. McMorrow has. Mr. Hurley does not.

Mr. McInerney: I have it. Is that simply the first page, Mr. Chairman?

Chairman: I might say in regard to this proposed increase for people in high school that the only definite omissions are headmasters and librarians. Now, I haven't spelled out yet all the items. They are well known to those of us here, but I do raise a question about guidance counselors for this reason.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. McMorrow merely abstained from voting because he wanted the vote on the bonus first before the vote on the fifth step in the single salary schedule and on any of the orders. And if, Mr. Chairman, you should rule against your own motion, then I will move to suspend the rules so that we can consider it, and, as I understand it, a majority is all that is necessary to suspend the rules.

So let's do away with the shenanigans and get on with the vote.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I would like to make a motion to amend your motion to give $200 to Latin and Day High Schools.

Chairman: We now may entertain a motion to reconsider if anybody wishes to make it.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I move the order that for the year ending August 31, 1957, permanent teachers appointed or assigned full time to the following-named ranks in the Latin and Day High Schools shall be paid at the rate of $200 per year in addition to the regular salary of their ranks.

I believe you all have a copy of the order before you, and it lists the different ones and excludes others. It lists those that it will apply to, and I hope the order prevails.

Secretary: You move that it be adopted?

Mr. Carr: Yes, I move the adoption.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, speaking on the motion, now that it has come before us, I would like to ask, Mr. Superintendent and Miss O'Brien: Assuming the $200 bonus is voted for these people, could you tell me what then would be the differential, Miss O'Brien, between head masters and heads of department and between head master and guidance counsellor?

The reason I ask is that I think if we have some extra money lying around we might be able to do something for these people.

Well, to keep matters rolling, Mr. Chairman, the head masters have been increased to a maximum with a flat increase—is it $8736, Mr. Superintendent?

Superintendent: Right.

Mr. McMorrow: $8736?

Superintendent: Right.

Mr. McMorrow: And the heads of departments who have that little round zero next to their category will now go to what, Mr. Superintendent?

Superintendent: $6656 with the $200.

Mr. McMorrow: Making a total of differential of $2080. I think, Mr. Chairman, that one of the reasons why I have not voted on some of these things is because the high school bonus and the effect of the high school bonus on many of these categories cannot and still cannot be determined by this Committee.

It seems to me that that is a pretty steep differential between head masters and guidance counsellors and heads of departments, and I think that we should give some consideration to their problems when we consider that there is some extra money.

So I don't know whether in this rush of business we will be able to frame some kind of motion to do something for these people, but I am most sympathetic to the heads of departments and to guidance counsellors.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I move you, sir, to amend your order to include in it head masters and librarians, which you have inadvertently left out.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I am flatly opposed to that motion, and I consider the mere suggestion that we should raise head masters by a flat $800 a very bad one; and I am sure, Mr. Chairman, that it would have a very, very bad effect on our system. That would mean, Mr. Chairman, that by this motion, if they got a flat $800 raise, they would go not to $8736 but to $8936 or almost $9000.

Now how silly are we going to get, Mr. Chairman? That, Mr. Superintendent, would put almost all of the head masters who are now on maximum close to the Board of Examiners or, in one case certainly, above?

Superintendent: That is true.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Superintendent, it is true that if this motion carries a head master will earn more than a member of the Board of Examiners.

Superintendent: That is true.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I hope this motion will be defeated. I am not prepared at this time to state my sympathy toward head masters and principals because I think they have a very definite problem. I think salary-wise something had to be done for them.

I am flatly opposed to giving them $800; and to think, Mr. Chairman, that this would make a differential of $2280 even if the bonus should be included. That just seems to me to be sheer folly, Mr. Chairman, and I hope that the members of this Committee will not vote to include head masters in this bonus.

I can't imagine, Mr. Chairman, that any head master would push for this bonus for himself. But, Mr. Chairman, let me ask this since this is the first time we are suggesting or talking about the bonus. I think, Mr. Chairman, it's high time that somebody on this Committee moved that the representatives of teacher organizations be granted ten minutes apiece to express themselves on this matter, and I so move, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman?

Chairman: Your motion is out of order.

Mr. McMorrow: Point of parliamentary inquiry. On what basis?

Chairman: On the basis that we undertook to meet tonight in order to accomplish certain work before a deadline tomorrow and because we now have a motion on the floor and for those two reasons the Chairman rules your motion is out of order.

Mr. McMorrow: I appeal the decision of the Chair to the whole committee.

Chairman: I suppose I have to put that appeal.

Mr. McInerney: I move the question.

Chairman: Do you move to sustain the Chair?

Mr. McInerney: Yes, sir.

Mr. Carr: I second the motion, Mr. Chairman, and may I say that I hope that this Committee will act on this order as presented; and if they wish to write a new order, they will wait until they have acted on this one that is now before us.

Chairman: That is also substantially my hope.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, there is nothing in the rules and regulations that would prevent this Committee from hearing from teacher organizations on this proposal at this time. You know it, Mr. Chairman, and I know it, and you know that granting these teacher organizations ten minutes apiece to let themselves be known on the most important issue that has ever come before the school system in ten years is not an unreasonable request, and I am shocked, Mr. Chairman, at the ruling that you have made and I hope that my appeal from the decision of the Chair is upheld.

Chairman: The teachers present, if you refer to them, were not elected to the School Committee, and I am sure other members who want to consider this would want to hear from a great many landlords and tenants and industrial workers and laborers and so forth, all of whom are so interested in how much money we spend on our schools. The Chairman sees no justification whatever for your appeal.

Mr. Hurley: Let's vote on the appeal.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, are there members of this Committee who are afraid to hear from teacher organizations?

Mr. McInerney: Oh, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman?

Chairman: Any further discussion?

Mr. Carr: I hope you will call for this vote. Some members of this Committee have been subjected to this breast-beating and pleading from the same colleague for the whole week now, and I hope we will get around to voting on this matter.

Chairman: I'd like to take a vote if possible now.

Mr. McInerney: I want to say "amen" to Mr. Carr. It's twenty-five minutes of twelve, and I am not kidding anybody. Let's vote and go home.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I have sat through these executive sessions with press present — press being present at my insistence — and, Mr. Chairman, I have repeatedly moved, and Mr. Hurley has repeatedly moved, that these conferences be open to the public.

Instead, Mr. Chairman, the ruling has been against us. The vote has gone against us, and we have not been allowed to have this matter aired in public light.

Now, Mr. Chairman, just as I said about a week ago, it was my suspicion at the time that all other matters would be taken care of and then we would have this final midnight vote on the high school bonus.

Chairman: Mr. McMorrow, this is not the time to argue the merits of the matter. This is a procedural point. The Chair says that you are out of order or your motion is out of order. I don't say your motion is not a good one. I say it is out of order. You have to talk about whether your motion is in order.

Mr. McMorrow: You spoke about not adhering to the rules too closely.

Mr. McInerney: I move the previous question, I'd like to have a rollcall on the question of sustaining the Chair on your ruling.

Chairman: I think we ought to vote on it now.

Secretary: Mr. McInerney's motion to sustain the Chair.

(Rollcall:)

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Mr. Hurley: No.

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: No.

Chairman: Yes.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I would like to speak on the motion and tell the reason why I offered it. Upstairs we considered it for three nights. This is the fourth night, and it was the wish of the Superintendent and his Board of Superintendents that the head masters get a $600 raise and nothing be granted to heads of departments, coordinators, and guidance counselors.

In order to preserve the same structure, sir, you offered a motion for a $200 bonus for high school teachers and left out head masters and librarians, thereby disturbing the structure.

The purpose of my amendment was to preserve the same structure, the same differential, between heads of departments, coordinators, guidance counselors, and head masters; and, sir, by keeping the same structure that we tentatively agreed on upstairs, I think we are not upsetting the apple cart.

It is not an idle suggestion, and I made it in good faith; and because the head masters have already been recommended for a $600 raise and the others none, if we give a $200 bonus to all of them we will be preserving the same differential.

The differential as it now exists is approximately $2300. To be exact, it is $2280; and if we do not give the head masters and librarians a $200 bonus proposed for the others, we will be shifting the differential by $200.

Mr. McMorrow: I move the question.

Chairman: The Chairman would like just a moment to say that he does not support Mr. McInerney's amendment. The Chairman does feel that the high school head masters with the $600 increase have been well regarded and that Mr. McMorrow does have a good point that the spread between heads of departments and head masters should not be too great.

My order as read, which would give $200 to the heads of departments, would close the gap between the projected salary of head masters and the salary of the heads of departments, and I also believe that the librarians are quite separate and aside from the teaching staffs, and I also believe the Superintendent has gone over this matter very carefully and at least I think myself that Mr. Carr and Mr. McMorrow feel that the order should not include head masters or librarians.

Mr. McInerney: In other words, Mr. Chairman—

Mr. McMorrow: I have a point of order that a motion for moving the previous question was made and when it has been made by other members you have certainly, Mr. Chairman, dealt with their motions very, very courteously. Now I have moved the previous question. I understand that is not debatable.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman?

Chairman: The previous question was moved. It takes a three to two vote or four to one?

Mr. O'Connor: Four to one.

Chairman: It takes four out of five votes.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I have sat here all night, and, as a matter of fact, I moved the previous question myself and members have seen fit to debate the thing and speak and give their opinion on the question.

I didn't see anyone insisting on any immediate action at that time, and I don't think they should now. I hope that you will recognize my colleague, whether it's debatable or not. It's only in a formal meeting that those rules of parliamentary procedure need to apply strictly.

Mr. McMorrow: Point of order, Mr. Chairman. Are the rules going to be observed strictly when they apply to some members and not strictly when they apply to other members? I suggest to you, sir, that I have moved the previous question. If you allow debate, you are moving contrary to the rules and regulations once again.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I merely wanted to ask the Superintendent a question.

Mr. McMorrow: I ask for a ruling on my point of order, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: If Mr. McMorrow wants to have a vote on the previous question, why I presume we will have to vote on it.

Mr. Carr: I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

Mr. McInerney: I would just like to know who is now using the steamroller tactics on whom?

Chairman: Miss Reynolds, will you call the roll?

Secretary: What is it on, please?

Chairman: On the previous question—that is a vote to bring to a head and terminate debate on the main motion, the main motion concerning the $200 raise for high school people. Now we are going to bring that to a vote.

It takes four affirmative votes now to end debate.

Secretary: Who made it, please—Mr. McInerney?

Mr. Carr: No, Mr. McMorrow. What is the previous question?

Mr. McInerney: Ten minutes to teacher organizations.

Chairman: This is your motion to pay $200 more to certain high school people.

Mr. McMorrow: The amendment.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. McMorrow's motion was later. He moved to give ten minutes to teacher organizations.

Mr. McMorrow: That motion was ruled out of order and an appeal was made.

Mr. Hurley: We haven't voted on the appeal yet.

Mr. McInerney: What is the question now? We moved to sustain the Chair three to two.

Chairman: Do you want to press your amendment, Mr. McInerney?

Mr. McInerney: I would like to talk on the amendment and I would like to ask the Superintendent a question.

Chairman: Do you want to vote on the amendment?

Mr. McMorrow: That is true. Mr. McInerney is going to move reconsideration. It is defeated four to one. Let's get on with the bonus.

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman?

Chairman: I think we have to put this to a vote, Mr. McInerney.

Mr. McMorrow: Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, if my colleague insists on the previous question immediately upon the completion of the vote on this question I am going to move the previous question, which is this order that has been presented before me, and I hope the Chair will call for a vote on it.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, in that case I immediately withdraw my motion.

Chairman: The motion to move the previous question is withdrawn.

Mr. McInerney: Will you please briefly spell out the reasons why you and the Board of Superintendents felt that the head masters should get a $600 raise this year and no raises should be granted to heads of departments, guidance counselors, and the other group?

Superintendent: I was not a member of the board of six, but I approve all of their recommendations to me and recommend them to you.

The Board felt very definitely that the head masters and principals of elementary and junior high schools should all receive, by virtue of the importance of their work, a flat raise of $600—not only because of the importance of their work, but also in relation to the salaries paid administrators in cities comparable to Boston. They are much higher than the head masters and principals of schools even with the $600.

Mr. McInerney: Do you feel, Dr. Haley, that in order to carry out that same theory, if $200 is to be given to high schools generally, the same $600 differential should be voted this year rather than make it $400 in effect?

Superintendent: Mr. Chairman, as I have said before on the record, when you asked me about the $200 bonus, so to speak, I gave you the reasons why I opposed it. Now I think you asked me about the $600 for the head masters, and I have given you the reasons why I favor it.

Now, the problem of preparing this order which you have before you was delegated to me by Mr. Lee a few days ago and we had to work on it rather intensively to be sure that we carried out the intent of the order that Mr. Lee had in mind, and it was not my doing that there are any omissions from this particular list, and I think Mr. Lee will agree to that. However, it was rather the suggestion of Mr. Lee that the head masters and the librarians should not be included.

However, they are being called to your attention so that the Committee can do whatever it sees fit.

Mr. McInerney: I ask you this question, Doctor: If the $200 bonus is adopted by majority vote and the head masters are left out, then in effect the head masters will not be retaining the $600 differential between them and the others as he listed before. Isn't that true?

Superintendent: That is true.

Mr. McInerney: I take it that the Board of Superintendents would be in favor of preserving that $600 differential?

Superintendent: I couldn't speak for them because this whole problem of $200 bonus was never before them.

Mr. McInerney: Well, it is true, Doctor, isn't it, that the $600 differential could be preserved if 200 was granted to the head masters and librarians as well as to the heads of departments, coordinators, and guidance counsellors?

Superintendent: Arithmetically, that is true.

Mr. McInerney: That is the purpose of my motion. That is why I offered it.

Chairman: Do you want to press it, Mr. McInerney? I feel there is not much support for it.

Mr. McInerney: Take a vote on it, Mr. Chairman. I am merely trying to preserve what we agreed on upstairs.

Secretary: This is Mr. McInerney's motion.

Mr. Hurley: Would you read the motion, please?

Secretary: That Mr. Lee's order include head masters and librarians in it.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Lee's motion?

Secretary: Mr. Lee's original motion.

Chairman: Mr. Carr made the motion.

Mr. Carr: What motion?

Mr. McInerney: I made the motion. I moved to amend it.

Chairman: It is Mr. McInerney's motion or his amendment. On Mr. McInerney's amendment will you call the roll, Miss Reynolds?

(Rollcall:)

Mr. Carr: No.

Mr. Hurley: No.

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Mr. Mc Morrow: No.

Chairman: No.

Chairman: The Chairman would like to ask the Superintendent a question if he might. I have sought your advice and help on these matters although I know you have not agreed with the basic principle, and I have only one question on one group of persons listed here as part of the high school service, and those are the guidance counselors—whether they should be excluded in a $200 increase of payments to our high school people.

The reason I question it is that you yourself stressed the tremendous work in counseling and guidance done by the regular classroom teacher or the teacher of different subjects and because the guidance counsellors already receive some $500 more than the classroom teacher, and particularly because the guidance counsellors, both those at 45 Myrtle

Street and in our Administration Annex and those out in the schools, receive at least $500 and sometimes $1,000 more than our juvenile adjustment counselors who seem to me to be doing very, very vital work.

Would you want to comment as to whether you think that perhaps there is a mistake and a misconception of the purpose of this order to have the guidance counselors included?

Superintendent: Mr. Chairman, if the Committee is going to vote to give the $200 to those at the high school level, then you ask me whether or not the guidance counselors should be included. I would say that they should.

Chairman: Do you want to comment on that, Mr. McInerney?

Mr. McInerney: If that carries, Mr. Chairman, then I would like to move an amendment—if it carries, I say—for $200 for vocational instructors and vocational assistants who, as I understand it, do work in the high school level.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, may I say I will vote against this amendment, and I think we are losing sight of the original purpose of this $200.

When this $200 was appropriated or when this Committee allocated $10,000 during the budget deliberations, they put that $10,000 in there to be allocated to fields where we had difficulty attracting teachers or holding teachers or employing teachers—namely, in the departments of science, chemistry, physics, and in the languages; and if it was possible at that time, Mr. Chairman, I think we would have allocated that money solely to those teachers in that field. If you remember, at a later date when it was brought up again it was pointed out to this Committee that it would be necessary under the equal pay law that we give it to all high school teachers.

Now that is the only purpose I voted for this $200, and it seems we are compelled to give it to all high school teachers. I would have liked to have seen the $200 devoted solely to those teachers in the subjects where we have difficulty in obtaining teachers—namely, math teachers and the other sciences.

I think we are going far afield of our original purpose and it's only due to the equal pay law that many of these teachers are coming into the position where they are receiving this $200.

Chairman: Any further discussion on Mr. Carr's order for a $200 additional salary for the high school people who are listed here?

Mr. McInerney: I would just like to say this, Mr. Chairman, for the record. When Petition #39 was presented to the Salary Adjustment Board, consisting of the assistant superintendents, they voted four to two and put this language on the petition:

"Special additional consideration in a financial way should be given to attract new teachers adequately trained to teach in the high schools."

Mr. Chairman, because of the recommendation of the Board of Superintendents and because of the extended discussion we have had over several meetings, I have decided to go along with the proposal as recommended by the Board of Superintendents; and, feeling as I do, sir, that we should not only attract new teachers adequately trained to teach in the high schools, but we should also seek to hold those who are now already in the high school level.

Boston at one time used to get high school teachers from the top of the barrel, and unfortunately, due to economic circumstances through a great program of research engaged in at the present time by the federal government and by colleges and universities subsidized by the federal government, by private industries and manufacturers in the field of electronics, guided missiles, etc., the federal government is now stealing or swallowing up all people who are inclined along scientific lines, and the problems we face in Boston are faced throughout the Commonwealth and nationally.

So it is incumbent upon us as elected representatives of the people in Boston to do something about the high school teacher shortage, and it is a critical area.

I might say in passing that if this motion prevails—and I believe it will—I shall move also to pay the sum of $200 to teachers in the first grade, the elementary level, because Miss Sullivan has said there has been a critical shortage and it's been a constant problem over the years.

I shall hope, sir, that this motion prevails. We owe it in the final analysis to the pupils in our Boston high schools to do something for them because they are posterity and because the mothers and fathers and the taxpayers of Boston expect us to do what is best when we are presented with a critical problem.

I only wish that we had the money to give the $200 on all levels, but we haven't, and I don't think Mr. Burke could dig it up for all levels. So accordingly I am voting to support the motion of Mr. Carr.

Chairman: Any further discussion?

Mr. McMorrow: Yes, Mr. Chairman. I have waited a long, long time so that we could get to this discussion, and I intend to have my say.

Mr. Superintendent, in view of the fact that a member of the School Committee has said that he has decided to vote for the $200 high school bonus so that he may go along with the recommendation "of the Board of Superintendents," would you, Mr. Superintendent, at this time state, please, if you will, your opinion of the proposed bonus increase for high school teachers, and I shall not ask you to do it again. Would you once again reiterate what was meant by the four to two vote of the Board of Superintendents as you understand it?

Superintendent: Mr. McMorrow, earlier in the meeting I was asked this question, and I said that I had talked with Mr. Bond and that Mr. Bond said that the four to two vote had nothing to do with the bonus for the high school teachers because there was never a petition of that particular nature before the Salary Board of the six assistant superintendents but that four of the six assistant superintendents did say that they felt that some financial consideration should be given to attract well-qualified teachers to the high school level; and then when Mr. Bond was asked what did he mean or what did he feel the four members meant, he explained about the teachers coming to him saying that they felt that they would be interested in coming in if they were placed upon that step of the salary schedule which would be similar to their years of experience in another city.

So that it was with the thought, perhaps, more of raising the minimum of the high school salaries,

I would say from that—at least that was in Mr. Bond's mind.

Now what was in the minds of the other three, I can't be sure. However, in general that is what he said to me.

Mr. McMorrow: You are answering my question, aren't you, Mr. Superintendent?

Superintendent: I am all through, Mr. McMorrow.

Mr. McMorrow: I asked you if you would state your own position.

Superintendent: My own position I have stated several times. I said that I was very anxious to see the minimum and the maximum of all levels raised just as high as it was financially possible to do so and to maintain the single salary schedule on the basis of higher minimums for elementary, junior and senior high, and higher maximums for all three levels so that they would begin to approach the minimum and the maximum of other cities on the single salary basis.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I just want to ask the Superintendent in reference to those teachers who expressed a willingness to come into our system if they were given a salary comparable to the one given to them in the other school system—

Superintendent: Not that, Mr. Carr, because they are by our regulations given a salary comparable.

Mr. Carr: Up to a certain step?

Superintendent: No, right up to the maximum, but you might have, for example, Mr. Carr, a teacher in Belmont, let's say, who perhaps has been teaching ten years at the high school level, and that teacher is getting perhaps $4100.

Now under our regulations we would bring that teacher in on the step rate next lower but most closely allied to the $4100 which might be $4064 or some figure like that.

Now that particular man, using that as an example, if he were put on the tenth step of our salary schedule—of our own salary schedule—would be interested in taking our examinations and hoping to come in and be given credit year for year for his ten or eleven years of service. That would put him up to $5000.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Superintendent, with this $200, the fact that he would be a high school teacher would entitle him to that, and he would come in on the closest step to the salary he is receiving?

Superintendent: No, the $200, Mr. Carr, as a bonus wouldn't do it.

Chairman: That affects the salary scale.

Superintendent: But it is true, Mr. Chairman, what Mr. Carr said—that after he got in he would get $4300 even though in the front of the salary schedule he would be on a $4100 basis. He would actually get $4300.

Mr. Carr: So it might actually attract some one.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, if this bonus order passes, the School Committee has to pay the money in accordance with the order—is that correct?

Superintendent: That is true, Mr. Chairman.

Chairman: I understand that is true.

Mr. Hurley: Now is it possible that the School Committee will run in the red this year?

Chairman: What is the question, Mr. Hurley?

Mr. Hurley: I asked the Superintendent whether it is foreseeable that the School Committee will run in the red this year?

Superintendent: Well, Mr. Chairman, that is very difficult to answer. I have always argued, sometimes unpopularity, that we should never gamble on unexpended balances.

Mr. Hurley: Would you say we are gambling now?

Superintendent: Well, I used that word because it simply means to me that we are doing something that wasn't planned for in the original budget, and I have always said that to me that was not sound budget procedure.

Mr. Hurley: If we have unforeseeable costs in our plant operation and in our auxiliary services, is it not foreseeable that we might run out of money this year?

Superintendent: Well, as Mr. Burke estimates it, projecting it through, he seems to feel that we would have $130,000; but I again want to point out that $130,000 is a small percentage of the entire budget. What percentage of the total budget is that, Mr. Burke, approximately?

Business Manager: Mr. Superintendent, about one-half of one percent.

Superintendent: One-half of one percent. Well, Mr. Chairman, just to give you an example, one-half of one percent figures this way. If any one of us was going to New York and we estimated that our expenses were going to be $100, and we figured it out as closely as we could, then on this same basis we ought to take $100.50, the fifty cents to be prepared for any emergencies. Now that is the same relation of $130,000 left over in our present budget as would be left over when you come back from New York with fifty cents in your pocket.

Mr. Hurley: You mean you might have to walk from the South Station, Mr. Superintendent?

Chairman: Mr. Hurley, there is a paragraph that guards against such a difficulty at the bottom of the first page of the salary schedule. It says that in adopting the salary schedule the School Committee reserves the right, in the event that there is not a sum sufficient in the opinion of the School Committee to pay in full the salaries specified in the salary schedule, to revise the salary schedule between September 1st and December 31st by making such reductions therein as would amount in effect to no more than the amount by which the salary schedule exceeds the salary schedule of September 1st, 1955.

In other words, if we got tight on money we could, under that clause, reduce salaries the last couple of weeks in December as long as they were in these past Decembers, so we are guarded by a safeguarding clause.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, would the Chair be willing to declare a two-minute recess so that the Superintendent and members of the Board may decide whether we are going to work on through the night or whether we can recess and come back, let's say at five o'clock tomorrow night?

Chairman: The Chairman is opposed to a recess now. We are in the middle of a debate. We have a motion on the floor. Do you want to make a motion? If so, all right. I think we should bring it to a head now.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I move for a two-minute recess so that we may decide whether we are going to work through the night or whether Mr. Carr and I may make certain suggestions to the other members of the Board so that if necessary we may recess and not subject these people to having to sit here for another two or three hours. We can accomplish all of our business tomorrow night beginning at five o'clock. We have until 12 o'clock tomorrow night. I move a two-minute recess so that the members of the Board may decide what we are going to do from now on.

Mr. McInerney: I am opposed to a continuance. This is our fourth night on this problem. We are about to take a vote on this and go home.

Chairman: The Chair is against a two-minute recess until this motion is disposed of. May we take a vote on the recess? The motion is to have a two-minute recess. Do you want to vote on that?

Mr. Carr: On what?

Chairman: A two-minute recess.

(Rollcall:)

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Mr. Hurley: Yes.

Mr. McInerney: No.

Mr. McMorrow: Yes.

Chairman: No.

Secretary: Passed.

(Short recess.)

Chairman: Is there any further discussion on Mr. Carr's motion to give $200 more to the high school people?

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, before we vote on Mr. Carr's motion I would like to bring a few other matters to the attention of the Committee and those assembled.

I have in hand a copy of the Brookline teachers' salary schedule, commonly called a single salary schedule. The Brookline single salary schedule, unlike the Boston one, has in effect four different subheadings; Schedule A, which is a salary schedule for teachers in the kindergarten; Schedule B, which is a salary schedule for teachers from Grade 1 to Grade 6; Schedule C, which is Grades 7 and 8; and specialists; and Schedule D, for the high school 9, 10, 11, and 12th grades.

The Brookline single salary schedule, unlike Boston's, has four different schedules in it. They start off, for example, with $3400 in Schedule A for those with a bachelor's degree, $3500 for those with a master's degree, and $3600 for those with a master's degree and an additional year of study.

In Schedule B they move into a $3700 bracket for bachelor's degree, $3800 for master's, and $3900 for those with an additional year's study.

Schedule C moves up into $3800 for those with a bachelor's degree, $3900 for those with a master's, and $4000 for those with an additional year's study.

Schedule D in the high school level slides to a still higher scale, $3900 for those in the bachelor's category, $4000 for those with a master's, and $4100 for those with an additional year's study.

It moves up in each bracket $100 to $200 per year, Mr. Chairman and Members of the Committee. So we see Brookline and Boston. Boston has a tentative $5500-$5900 schedule, $5500 for bachelor's and $5900 for master's. But Brookline has evolved a system within the framework of the single salary schedule that not only has those distinctions but has distinctions for those who have gone beyond the master's degree, and it also has the four different schedules for the four different levels.

But, Mr. Chairman and Members of the Committee, I would be remiss in my duty if I did not bring to your attention an article which I read in the Christian Science Monitor on August 28th, and it highlights the problem. It is focussing the spotlight of public attention and the attention of professional educators and teachers to this problem which is national in scope, and I would like to read it into the record at this time. It's written by Miss Mary Handy, staff writer of the Christian Science Monitor.

"The current battle in the Boston school system over the type of salary schedule to be used for teachers is an indication of a national need.

"This need is to take a new look at public school teachers' salaries—how high they should go, for what accomplishments should raises be given (for length of service, for outstanding merit, or for both) and should men and women teachers necessarily be given equal pay for equal work?

"The most serious crisis facing schools today and in the future is to find more able teachers. Not just blanket 'higher pay' but a fairer salary schedule giving a real professional level salary to outstanding men and women who might otherwise go into business or industry.

"This may sound absurd. Most people take for granted that public school salaries are obviously graded and advanced in the most logical possible way.

"But many people are not aware that almost all teachers' pay scales are based solely on length of service or amount of training—with little or no recognition taken of the quality of the work done. Thus a school board who wants to pay an especially able teacher more to keep him from leaving often finds its hands tied.

"A nine-year study of the teacher-pay problem by New England teachers and school administrators under the leadership of the New England School Development Council has come up with some startling suggestions.

"They favor a new type of merit salary program that would put public school teachers into graded classifications somewhat similar to the categories of instructor, assistant professor, associate professor and professor so long accepted on the university level. Only they use the terms probationary, classroom, school, and professional.

"They envision that a teacher can learn to fulfill his classroom role in eight years of teaching. By this it is meant he has mastered the skills necessary for a fully competent job of teaching his pupils.

"Then he may be ready to be measured in his school role. To fulfill his school role he would take responsibility for leadership among teachers and pupils in the entire school.

"The final highest category would be the professional role in which the most able teachers also give leadership in the community.

"The salary for the full professor or professional-role teacher should range between $7,900 and $8,900, says the NESDEC report. Not all teachers would reach this level as not all college teachers are made professors. But it would be available for those of outstanding service and ability.

"NESDEC does not expect such a plan to be easily accepted. For many teachers merit pay is today a fighting word. They accept on principle that teacher A who is doing outstanding teaching may deserve a higher level of salary than teacher B who just slides along with average work.

"But the human relations problems of who is to decide who deserves the merit bonus have raised such havoc in some school systems that the idea has been discarded as impossible of fulfillment. A New York state merit pay law of 1947 was later repealed. The American Federation of Teachers opposed the merit principle.

"But because many teachers and school administrators believe the only way to get really top ability teachers is to pay them the kind of salaries they might earn as lawyers or business executives, NESDEC has persevered.

"Their merit pay plan is an acknowledgement of the fact that some teachers today are probably being paid about what they earn. Many more are underpaid. And some of the most able—especially the most able men—leave teaching in flocks because they find the salaries too low to support a family.

"Briefly, the mechanics of the NESDEC merit pay program is this: To determine when a teacher is ready to jump from one classification to another a committee composed of the superintendent, the principal in the building, a department supervisor, and three fellow teachers (who would remain anonymous) would make a careful study of the teacher's work.

"Then they would recommend either that he be advanced to the higher classification immediately, be reviewed again in a year or two, or does not seem likely of ever fulfilling the more demanding role.

"But the educators who worked nine years to develop it have richly documented their suggestions on how to make these judgments. These will be fully discussed in later articles."

I submit, Mr. Chairman and Members of the Committee, that NESDEC, the New England School Development Council, has rendered a yeoman service in focusing and in putting the spotlight on a very pressing national problem, and I hope that something will evolve from this study that will help this Committee help us in developing a better pay program.

Those are some of the valid, compelling reasons, Mr. Chairman, why I am voting for this bonus for high school teachers.

Chairman: Thank you, Mr. McInerney.

Mr. McMorro: Mr. Chairman, I spoke with the writer of that article about two hours ago, and she told me that in no way was her article to be construed as an endorsement of a bonus for high school teachers. As a matter of fact, I think the article speaks for itself. I think that anyone can read anything into any article, and, of course, my colleague has a right to read anything into the article that he wishes.

The author of the article, however, wishes, I think, to make it clear that she is not endorsing this particular proposal, and, although she didn't tell me to make the statement publicly, I think that, in view of the fact that the article has been used as an attempt to bolster the suggestion that we give a $200 bonus to high school teachers, that fact should be mentioned.

I also heard mentioned last night, I think, Mr. Chairman, a quotation from Mr. Fine, and I think it's interesting, Mr. Chairman, that at the recent convention of the teachers of the Archdiocese of Boston the Archdiocese saw fit to have as one of its principal speakers Benjamin Fine, education editor of the NEW YORK TIMES and recognized as one of the country's outstanding authorities on education and juvenile delinquency.

In his book, One Million Delinquents, Mr. Fine said: "Greater emphasis should be placed upon the importance of the teacher of the elementary grades. Too often the elementary teacher, particularly in the first, second, and third grades, is considered not quite on a par with the high-school teacher. Indeed, some communities still persist in a double salary scale whereby the high-school teacher receives more money than the elementary-school teacher because she is required to have more training, on the assumption that the job is more important on the upper level."

"We know now from all the evidence that the job is far more important on the elementary level."

Now, I would like to make my position clear, Mr. Chairman. I have said before that I would favor raising the entire salary scale. My position is just the same as the Superintendent's on this matter. I would like to see the salary scale moved to $6000-$6,400, and for that reason, Mr. Chairman, I shall vote against the other proposal that a $200 bonus be given to first-grade teachers. I think, Mr. Chairman, I know what it is to teach in a high school. I don't know anything about teaching at the elementary level. I have a great sympathy for the work that is done and the burdens they have to bear in those lower grades. I think I know what it is to give up a weekend as a high school teacher, and I think I know what it is to handle the work of the high school teacher, but I know also what it is to handle the disciplinary problems that you find in the junior high school level, and I think that each level has its difficulties.

Therefore, Mr. Chairman, I am very proud of the fact that on this issue I stand with the professional educator, with the Superintendent of Schools, and against the bonus—against the bonus for the high school teachers and against the bonus for first grade teachers.

I would like to continue. This was the statement that I wanted to make tomorrow night at five o'clock if the suggestion for a recess had gone through. I think, Mr. Chairman, that this is a test of the single salary schedule in Boston—the single salary in Boston is not going to be buried or defeated by this vote.

I think, Mr. Chairman, that single salary may receive a temporary setback, but I predict, Mr. Chairman, that single salary is going to survive.

Now, Mr. Chairman, there follow many references to the minutes of 1952, 1953, 1954, and 1955; and if I could have the permission of the members of this Committee, I would be willing to forego further reading of it if I have unanimous agreement that this statement may be included as a part of this record.

Chairman: We should be very happy to have it included as a part of the record as far as I am concerned.

Mr. McMorow: If there is no objection, I would like to put that in the record.

Mr. McInerney: I would like to ask a question.

Mr. McMorow: Mr. Chairman, I don't intend to be interrupted for any reason whatsoever.

Mr. Chairman, I regret that in continuing to make this statement I am holding people here at an unreasonable hour, but it was my suggestion that we stop now and come back at five and finish it up, so I am sorry if people are inconvenienced and I will do this just as quickly as I can.

A news item of some interest on this question, Mr. Chairman, comes from the Boston Daily Record of Saturday, August 25th, and it is a release by AP from Pittsburgh.

Back Teacher Single Salary, Hit Merit Pay Pittsburgh—The AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers supports the single salary principle-pay increases based on training and experience—over the merit rating system of pay for school teachers. The annual convention adopted a resolution saying the singling out of superior teachers for higher salaries is "inimical to the best interests of public education and a device to hold down general salary increases."

Delegates claimed the merit system gives school officials the power to play favorites and discriminate against teachers on racial and religious foundations.

Mr. McMorrow (continuing): That is mentioned to note that labor is endorsing the single salary principle, and also in some respects to answer some of the suggestions that have been brought up by another member of this Committee.

I would also like to place in the record, Mr. Chairman, this official document that was given to me by Mr. Bond's department. What is Miss Sheehan's title, Mr. Superintendent?

Superintendent: Assistant.

Mr. McMorrow: This, Mr. Chairman, is the official School Department record of the number of high school teachers who have resigned or retired since 1951, and you will note, Mr. Chairman, as you look over this document which is going to be published in these minutes and which I shall move shall be put in the public record the ages of the persons who have retired.

We have four resignations, two of them women who resigned because of marriage, and one because of a legal technicality, and another who served only one week and decided to resign because of the fact that he had been listed for a week on the record here and wanted to make it clear that he was not connected with the Boston system. So actually, Mr. Chairman, there has been no mass resignation from the high schools.

What about retirement, Mr. Chairman? Here is a gentleman, Mr. Chairman, seventy years old. He retired on a pension of $3244.80. Someone else, Mr. Chairman, retired on $3494.40, and someone else at sixty-six years of age retired at $5054.40. Someone else retired at $3790; another, Mr. Chairman, at $4118; another at $3527. There are several in that category. Many more, Mr. Chairman, at $4118.40; another one at $5054, and another at $4300.

There are several here, Mr. Chairman, and I intended if it wasn't so late to read each and every one of them to prove that there is no mass exodus from the high schools; but if there is no objection, I would simply like to include this in the record.

Chairman: The Chairman would only comment very briefly that he has never questioned the importance of elementary school teachers. He feels, however, that he can run a good school system or help to run it if the present proposed salary schedule goes through and goes through including $200 additional for high school men, and he feels that it would be difficult and he is not at all sure of seeing the school system run well if that additional $200 is not extended to the men.

He is also aware that even if it is extended, the men have still undergone a decline in buying power of 25 per cent compared to when he was on the Committee before, and with tremendous pressure from industry on our men and many women high school teachers to turn away from the schools both before they entered them and after they are here, I think we can run a better school system if we include a $200 extension for the high school people.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, you forget that we now have as many men in the junior and elementary as we have in the high schools.

Chairman: I don't think it's as many. It is not as large a proportion.

Mr. Hurley: We have 504 in the high and 503 in the elementary and junior high.

Chairman: I would think it would be much better if they moved to the higher schools.

Mr. McMorow: Mr. Chairman, I now move that continuation of the single salary schedule is hereby reaffirmed as the policy of the Boston School Committee.

Chairman: Mr. McMorow, there is a motion on the floor which is Mr. Carr's, I believe. I think you know what it is.

Mr. McMorow: I offer that motion as an amendment.

Chairman: I think that is too remote from the purpose of the present motion to be considered an amendment to it. I think we will have to vote on the present motion.

Any further discussion on the present motion?

Mr. McInerney: Yes, sir. I think I should put in a few other items to the record here now that Mr. McMorow is putting his into the record.

I have a communication here, Mr. Chairman, from the High School Teachers of Boston which says there is a shortage of high school teachers. Boston needs 16 mathematics teachers, 12 science teachers, 12 business teachers, 11 English teachers, 9 history teachers, 11 language teachers, 7 physical education teachers, and 6 shop teachers.

84 teachers have walked out of the Boston high schools. Experienced teachers are retiring to other jobs at the age of 55, and the average age of the Boston High School teacher is over 55.

Under the category of inferior instruction, at least 80 temporary teachers are providing inferior instruction to at least 12,000 high school students in one class in every school day.

College Board failures: There has been a marked increase in the number of failures. This increase is due to inferior instruction. In one school alone, 53 out of 70 boys failed the January test in mathematics.

Chairman: Any further discussion, gentlemen?

Mr. McInerney: I haven't finished, Mr. Chairman. Now, Mr.

Chairman, Mr. McMorow referred to Mr. Fine, and I think I cited him last night, but I would like to put in a few other remarks that Mr. Fine made. He, by the way, is the Pulitzer prize-winning education editor of the New York Times. He spoke the other night at the Archdiocesan Institute. Mr. Fine said this when pointing to the need for additional scientists.

(Mr. McInerney then read the following extracts from an article in the Boston Globe, Aug. 28, 1956):

"The speaker was Benjamin Fine, Pulitzer prize-winning education editor of the New York Times, who pointed to the nation's need for a growing number of engineers, scientists, technicians and skilled professional men and women, as he pleaded for 'a sound system of schooling for our future intellectual leaders.'

"This means strengthen our high school program. Take the water out of the secondary school curriculum. Latin and Greek have gone out, so have physics and chemistry. Now algebra and geometry are on the way out.

"We place too high a premium on 'getting by' the easy way. Courses in life adjustment and cooking cannot replace the solid courses so essential to the educated youth—science, math, the modern languages, social science and English."

I would like to ask Mr. McMorow this final question. Does he consider Isadore H. Y. Muchnick the man whose leadership we should follow in our deliberations on this Committee?

Chairman: Any further discussion?

Mr. McMorow: I would like to add these last two paragraphs if I may.

In answer to the question as to why a $200 raise should not be granted to high school teachers alone, for the past four years, Mr. Chairman, the School Committee has been closing the gap between high school teachers on the one hand and elementary and junior high school teachers on the other hand at the rate of $60 a year.

A $200 raise to high school teachers would in the first instance negate three and one-third years of the four years of the closing of the gap and be destructive of the policy of single salary in Boston.

Mr. Chairman, the elementary and junior high teacher is just as important, if no more important, than the high school teacher. The recent convention of the teachers of the Archdiocese of Boston heard Mr. Fine, education editor of the New York Times; and I think, Mr. Chairman, when Mr. Fine is quoted by my colleague in the context that has been used, that it has been misunderstood because my quotation made it very clear that Mr. Fine advocates single salary.

And if Mr. Muchnick was in favor of single salary, then I would say that was one of the good points that Mr. Muchnick had. I disagreed with him on many, many things. I fought him and opposed him and battled him in many, many instances, but I think, Mr. Chairman, that we would do well not to destroy single salary with this vote.

Mr. Hurley: I thought we were following Mr. Carr's lead in this subject also. I believe he was a member of that Committee.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, I have followed the single salary principle in the past years here, and I have said that before. I thought it was the most orderly manner of awarding increments to the teaching staff, and may I state if the truth was known those in the administration followed it because there was no other system as orderly as it, and the teachers asked for it.

However, I don't think there is any special premium in sticking to a system that is in my opinion a failure; and when we get a critical situation such as exists in our high schools today, we should do something about it. And it's not only in our high schools but it's in the high schools throughout the country, and I'd like to read just one comment here on the New York schools.

There are a number of questions here. I am not going to read them all, but I think this one particularly applies to a situation such as exists here in Boston and throughout the country due to the single salary.

I think Brookline's single salary schedule as read by Mr. McInerney is much superior to ours. In New York one question that was asked of one of the educators or one of the authorities was this: "Why did many elementary and junior high school teachers become senior high school teachers?"

I am going to read the answer. It says: "Because of the salary differential which prevailed among the various levels of the school system, many teachers who taught formerly in elementary or junior high schools obtained their senior high school licenses. To obtain this license, they passed rigorous promotional examinations, much more comprehensive in scope than those for the elementary license. This promotional process necessitated meeting higher eligibility requirements involving the expenditure of considerable time, money, and energy.

"Some of their colleagues at the elementary or junior high school levels were either not interested in striving to meet the higher eligibility requirements or failed the examination for the senior high school license. Yet the single salary method of payment is elevating their salaries to that of the senior high school teacher. The results to the morale of the high school staff have been devastating."

Now, Mr. Chairman, that's the situation, I think we have here in Boston along with a scarcity of teachers in fields that warrant this attractive bonus; and let me say this: If we are going to have single salary and this Committee insists on it, let all the teachers take the same examination.

(Applause.)

Chairman: Any further discussion, gentlemen?

Mr. McMorro: Mr. Chairman, my final word, if there is to be a final word on this, is that, as I have said before—and I think this might be the appropriate time to put this in at the conclusion of this discussion—at the time when the League of Women Voters appeared before us at the hearing, we had in the person of our Superintendent one of the finest superintendents in the United States. I'd like to amend that just a little bit tonight, Mr. Chairman, and say that in my opinion we have the finest superintendent of schools in the United States, and I am tremendously proud, Mr. Chairman, of the way that he has taken a direct stand on this issue; and through all of these debates on the salary schedule not only on the issue of the high school bonus but on many other petitions, he has tried, I think, to do his very best to steer this committee in the best manner possible.

Although I have opposed him many, many times and sometimes very vigorously, I am proud that in this instance, Mr. Chairman, my position is that of the professional educators.

I think, Mr. Chairman, that to have him say that this bonus would do what he said it would do to the system or that he was opposed to the bonus for the reasons that he gave is sufficient reason why this Committee should not vote for it.

I might say in passing, Mr. Chairman, that I have noted with some interest the tactics and the technique used by some members of this high school group to get the $200 bonus. I have always been available to them. I have opened my door to them whenever they wanted to come in and discuss things with me, and I don't want to let the occasion pass without saying that it was with some regret that I noted the amateurish note that was struck in the letters sent to the papers having to do with suggestions and some innuendo, Mr. Chairman, that anyone who voted for the single salary schedule was thereby voting to continue a socialistic or Communistic scheme and that appeared, I think, in one of this morning's newspapers.

Well, Mr. Chairman, if I am voting for a communistic or socialistic scheme, I am pleased that the man whom Rome honored within the past year with membership in the Knights of Malta is with me on this issue. Thank you, Mr. Chairman.

(Applause)

Chairman: Mr. McInerney?

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, I don't think we ought to bring religion into the discussions of the School Committee any more than we should bring it into politics. I would like to go a little further. I think we not only have the finest superintendent in the United States and one of the finest boards of assistant superintendents and we have one of the finest teaching personnel groups in the country; and, Mr. Chairman, I would like to note that there is a healthy disagreement of opinion between the Superintendent and his board of assistants, and I for one am glad to see that the board of superintendents voted four to two to give special additional consideration in a financial way to attract new teachers adequately trained to teach in the high schools.

I think it's a comforting thought to know that Dr. Haley doesn't force his opinion down the throats of the board of superintendents, and neither do they regulate his thought or his direction.

I would like to observe that it's wonderful to live in a Republic under a Republican form of government and I use that term "Republican" advisedly. It's wonderful to see democracy in action and to see the people's representatives exerting their every effort to try to solve one of Boston's crucial problems:— notably the shortage of teachers on the high school level; and I am confident that when the great jury of the public, the electorate of Boston, review the work of this Committee, they will applaud in generous terms.

(Applause.)

Chairman: Any further discussion?

Mr. Carr: Come on, Mr. Lee. Call the roll.

Chairman: No further discussion. Will the Secretary call the roll?

Secretary: I have two motions now. The first is Mr. Carr's motion for $200 for the people listed in the order and Mr. McMorrow's motion that the single salary schedule is hereby reaffirmed.

Mr. McMorrow: That is out.

Secretary: Withdrawn?

Chairman: Yes.

Secretary: This is Mr. Carr's motion for $200 for the people listed in the order.

(Roll call:)

Mr. Carr: Yes.

Mr. Hurley: No.

Mr. McInerney: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: No.

Chairman: Yes.

Mr. McMorrow: Mr. Chairman, I now move that continuation of the single salary schedule is hereby reaffirmed as the policy of the Boston School Committee, and I do so for reasons, Mr. Chairman, that I shall make known a little later.

Mr. Carr: Mr. Chairman, if the proposer of this motion means that we are to continue awarding an annual increase to our teachers of $120 in the high schools and $180 in the lower grades, I'd be happy to vote for it.

Chairman: I'd like to comment, Mr. McMorrow, that I haven't the slightest idea of what you mean.

There are two major points of view at this table and in this room. One point of view wants two levels of salary for our school teachers. The other point of view wants two levels of salary for our school teachers.

One system, which you for some reason call the single salary schedule, wants two levels of salary and looks backward only and considers only where the teacher came from in her own school days. The other view, which I espouse, also calls for two levels of salary but looks forward as to where the teacher is going and considers whether the teacher is going to a type of instruction which we are empty of or comparatively empty of.

So we both believe in two pay scales, one based on where the person has been and one based on where they are going. I merely make that comment. The floor is open for others.

Mr. Hurley: Mr. Chairman, I think single salary tonight has gone down like the Andrea Doria, and I think we ought to get going and finish up here and let's get out of here.

Chairman: Any further discussion of Mr. McMorro's motion?

Mr. McInerney: Mr. Chairman, on the motion, it appears that Boston is working towards a single salary schedule at the present time—something akin or analogous to the Brookline system, and I think only by experimenting and testing procedures and policies can we hope to grow and make progress, and I do hope we will develop the single salary schedule with such additions or alterations within the framework of it as are possible; and, if it is not possible, then outside the framework of the single salary schedule.

The ultimate end is, Mr. Chairman, better high schools for the pupils of Boston, better citizens of tomorrow.

Chairman: Any further discussion? This is on Mr. McMorro's motion.

Secretary: This is Mr. McMorro's motion.

Mr. Carr: Inasmuch as this declares a policy by which the teachers will receive an annual increment of $180 and $120 in addition to their $144, I vote yes.

Mr. Hurley: Yes.

Mr. McInerney: I will vote yes on the same premise.

Mr. McMorro: Yes, wholeheartedly.

Chairman: No.

Mr. Carr: Let's recess now, Mr. Lee.

Chairman: I want to call on the Superintendent to make a procedural suggestion for the conclusion of our business. Would you make a conclusion, Mr. Superintendent, from your experience of many years as to how best go forward from this minute and may we have quiet so the Superintendent can speak?

Superintendent: Mr. Chairman, it appears to me that a public meeting was called for tonight. Is that so, Miss Reynolds?

Secretary: Yes, by word of the Chairman.

Superintendent: Then I think, Mr. Chairman, that the Committee should recess the conference, go into public meeting for ten seconds, and then recess the public meeting to tomorrow night at five o'clock.

(Conference recessed at 12:50 to 5:30 Friday, August 21st, 1956.)

(Public meeting)

Chairman: I move that this meeting recess till today at 5:30 p. m., and I furthermore move that this Committee convene at 5:30 p. m.)

(Adjournment)

The following is an editorial which was printed in the Boston Herald, Aug. 24, 1956:

Bonus Pay

If the Boston School Committee is going to abandon the single salary schedule, it should do so openly and not under the pretext of granting a "bonus" to hard-to-get high school teachers.

Chairman Lee's plan to give an extra $200 to high school teachers would result in permanent distortion of the pay picture and undo years of patient work to equalize the pay of elementary and secondary school teachers.

Is the committee really prepared to do that? Do the teachers themselves want it? We can't believe so. And we think the committee should consider very carefully before taking any such step.

Mr. Lee contends that the difficulty in recruiting good teachers at the high school level makes some such come-on necessary. And this argument has force. There is a nation-wide shortage of science and mathematics teachers at present, and Boston, with its relatively low pay schedule, finds it almost impossible to attract good recruits.

But the bonus proposal affects all high school teachers, not just science and mathematics teachers, and teachers in general are not particularly scarce. Indeed, as Committeeman McMorrow pointed out Tuesday, the number of persons taking the regular certificate examination for high school teachers in Boston has increased by more than one third since 1953.

Furthermore, it may be doubted whether a bonus of $200 will do much to attract science and mathematics specialists so long as non-teaching jobs in these fields pay better to the tune of several thousand dollars.

One suspects that the real push behind the bonus drive comes from a hard core of high school teachers who continue to feel that secondary school work should get higher pay than lower school work regardless. A recent memorandum from this group openly attacked the single salary principle and said nothing about the recruitment problem.

It may well be that in order to be fair, as well as to attract good teachers, we must eventually follow the recommendation of the Boston Teachers' Alliance and raise the single salary goal for all teachers. But we should not do even that until our budgetary situation is clarified.

We cannot do better this year than stand by the single salary schedule we have so recently established. The bonus plan should be killed at the next meeting of the committee.

The following is an extract from the Report of the Finance Commission to the Mayor and City Council, Sept. 14, 1956:

Personnel practice ought to conform to the following principles of a salary policy, enunciated in the Strayer Report: (1) "A salary policy ought to define a comprehensive, long-term payment plan.

(2) "Salary policy has to be expressed first in terms of a basic schedule for the rank and file of the teaching personnel."

(3) The Strayer Report endorsed the single salary schedule which "requires that teachers of equivalent educational preparation be paid equal salaries and be advanced equally in terms of step increments for satisfactory service, regardless of the educational level of the school or grade in which they teach.

(4) "The salary grades for administrative, supervisory and special service groups should be considered differentiations from the basic salary schedule, related to it, as well as to each other, by definitely known measures determined upon as a matter of policy. . . . It is only those personnel assignments which represent definitely heavier responsibility, strategically greater values to the schools, special and extensive preparation, special difficulties of procurement, and the like, which need to be accompanied by salary grades differentiated from the basic.

(5) "Certainly, the office in the Boston School System which is functionally responsible for the research and leadership in the salary field should be engaged in a detailed study of the cost of living factor. This is not something that can be done by a board around the table.

(b) "Assign to an assistant superintendent the definite functional responsibility for the development of instructional salary policy Administrative responsibility for and leadership in the developmental tasks ahead with respect to salaries are simply not in the province of boards.

(An assistant superintendent has been appointed to head up instructional personnel management; but a Salary Adjustment Board considers salary revisions.)

(7) "Salaries will be computed automatically from schedules set up after job analysis, thus obviating time-consuming and morale-destroying special pleading.

(8) "Clerical salary policy should be unified and coordinated throughout the school system. Leadership in this task belongs with the assistant superintendent in charge of personnel."

(This last recommendation has not been adopted.)

W. Praught Company's bid of $6,000, for the principal reason that the latter-named firm is not in fact a master plumber and further due to the fact that J. W. drain) and $670.20 for water works, or a grand total of $9,986.50 for both. The work to be done under this contract is to be completed March 29, 1957. The following bids were received December 6:

Clay Pipe.—Rosindale Contracting Company, $10,219; Joseph Capone & Son, $10,340; A. D'Alessandro & Sons, Inc., $10,667; H. DiTullio & Sons, Inc., $10,970; L. The Mayor, on December 17, approved the following:

Approval was respectfully requested to the award of a contract for sewerage works in Moreland street, West Roxbury, to Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., 506 East First street, South Boston, the second lowest bidder, at an estimated cost of $4,057, using clay pipe for the sanitary sewer and concrete pipe for surface drain.

A proposal was received from the firm of L. Maiuri & Sons in the sum of $6,031 for clay pipe for sewer and surface drain and in the amount of $5,249 for clay pipe for sewer and concrete pipe for surface drain.

After department recapitulation of their bid it was found that their proposal sums totaled $3,751 for clay pipe for sewer and surface drain and $3,344.75 for clay pipe for sewer and concrete pipe for surface drain.

A check on their proposal disclosed that they had inadvertently bid on wrong totals under the units called for in Items 1 and 1A of the proposal form. Their bid should have been on the units as called for under these items in the amount of 400 linear feet of pipe for sewer, including 380 linear feet of pipe for surface drain. They erroneously figured their proposal on the assumption that they were to add the totals together, making a total for each item of 780 linear feet to be bid upon.

In a written communication they explained this error in submitting their proposal; and ask in this same communication leave to withdraw their proposal. I have accepted their request as outlined and am recommending that the contract be awarded to Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., the second lowest bidder.

The work to be done under this contract is to be completed March 1, 1957.

The following bids were received December 12:

Clay Pipe.—L. Maiuri & Sons, $3,751; Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., $4,269.50; Z & S Construction Company, Inc., $4,159.50; Rosindale Contracting Company, $4,641.60; N. Bevilacqua & Son, $4,360; Joseph Capone & Son, $5,332.50; Edward Vozzella, $5,335; G & F Construction Company, $5,397.

Concrete Pipe.—L. Maiuri & Sons, $3,344.75; Joseph P. McCabe, Inc., $4,057; Z & S Construction Company, Inc., $4,087; Rosindale Contracting Company, $4,229.10; N. Bevilacqua & Son, $4,360; Joseph Capone & Son, $4,907.50; Edward Vozzella, $4,910; G & F Construction Company, $4,972.

Snow Removal Contract

The Mayor, on December 21, approved the following:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Under date of November 7 of the current year, your Honor authorized the award of a contract to Charles Callahan for removing snow during the 1956-1957 winter season in area No. 1, at the bid price of 85 cents per cubic yard.

Subsequently, the contract books were prepared, but the contract was never executed. On Monday of this week, Mr. Callahan appeared in this office, and stated that he would prefer not to execute the contract, and he requested, in effect, that he be permitted to withdraw his bid. I am agreeable to such an arrangement, as another bidder, Suburban Excavators, Inc., also submitted a bid of 85 cents per cubic yard at the time that the public bids were opened on Thursday, November 1. The latter-referenced was awarded a snow removal district last year, and I have also awarded said contractor the same district this year, which includes the Mattapan and Codman Square areas.

Suburban Excavators, Inc., is experienced and well qualified to perform the snow removal work required in area No. 1, which includes the market district. The award of a contract to the latter-referenced contractor will not in any way increase the cost to the city, because, as noted, the bid of 85 cents per yard is the same as previously submitted by Charles Callahan.

I respectfully request, therefore, your authority to award a contract to Suburban Excavators, Inc., for removing snow during the 1956-1957 winter season in Area 1, at the bid price of 85 cents per cubic yard, which was submitted on November 1 in response to a public advertisement for proposals.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.

DEPARTMENT OF SCHOOL BUILDINGS.

School Alterations

The Mayor, on December 18, approved the award of a contract, without advertising, based on the following communication:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

On October 5, 1956, as a result of publicly advertised bids for alterations at the Girls' Trade High School, a contract was awarded to Rossano Construction Company, Inc., in the sum of $3,020. Subsequently because of incidental and necessary extra work an addition was made to the contract in the sum of $880, making the present contract cost the sum of $3,900.

Within the past few days it has been requested that a considerable amount of added work consisting of electrical, plumbing, and further alterations must be carried out. This new work was not known or anticipated when original plans and specifications were drawn up and proposals therefor publicly invited. The aforementioned additional work has been approved by the Superintendent of Schools on the advice of the headmaster of the school and is imperative to satisfy the minimum requirements of the director, Approving Authority Practical Nursing Training Program. When this course is approved by the Approving Authority, it will be accepted for reimbursement by the Massachusetts Division of Vocational Education.

Your authorization, therefore, is respectfully requested to dispense with public advertising and to amend the contract with Rossano Construction Company, Inc., 401 Border street, East Boston, Mass., to include the said extra work in its scope and to revise the contract cost from $3,900 to $6,000, without public advertising. The price is fair and it is felt that nothing is to be gained by public advertising.

Respectfully yours,

CHARLES A. CALLANAN,
Superintendent of Construction.

PENAL INSTITUTIONS DEPARTMENT.

Taking Photographs

The Mayor, on December 13, approved the award of a contract, without advertising, based on the following communication:

DEAR SIR:

Chapter 69, Acts of 1941, provides "that all persons committed for any crime, unless the court otherwise orders, have or cause to be taken his name, age, height, weight, photograph and general description and copies of his fingerprints in accordance with the fingerprint system of identification of criminals. All such photographs and identifying matter shall be committed forthwith to the Commissioner of Public Safety." The above law took effect on June 8, 1941, and, since that date, it is compulsory that all inmates be photographed upon commitment.

In accordance with the above law, I therefore respectfully request permission to award a contract, without public advertising, to pay Fay Foto Service, Inc., for the performance of taking photographs of all persons committed to the House of Correction, Deer Island, in the sum of $1.75 for each set of the pictures of each person photographed. The contract shall be for a period beginning with the first day of January, 1957, and ending on the thirty-first day of December, 1957. Estimated cost will exceed $1,000.

This type of work is necessarily of a very confidential nature. The Fay Foto Service, Inc., has done this work for a number of years in a highly satisfactory manner. Because this company has guarded carefully these confidences and because the confidential matter is best intrusted to one company, I feel that the city's interests will be best served by engaging their services.

Yours very truly,

EDWARD L. FRIEL,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

Fire Alarm System

The Mayor, on December 12, approved the award of a contract, without advertising, based on the following communication:

DEAR SIR:

As far back as 1943 a fire alarm system has been discussed to prevent extensive damage and conflagration at Deer Island in the event of a fire. The peculiar position of Deer Island and the impossibility of fire boats approaching it now make it mandatory to install a workable system, cost and type being of prime consideration.

In the budget for 1956, your Honor approved a two-program system and appropriated the sum of $9,325 on plans submitted and approved. In order that the city might get the most for the money and at the same time get adequate protection, the Fire Commissioner sent one of his inspectors to Deer Island and agreed that a modified plan would fit our needs very well.

On the basis of figures received from Gamewell Company, Ellis Fire Appliance Company, and Kay Electric Company, the time element involved and the speed with which the work must be done, I respectfully request your authorization to dispense with public advertising and enter into a contract with Kay Electric Company, electrical contractors, 37 Norman street, Boston, to furnish and install one master box, three auxiliary pull boxes, three 24-volt a.c. bells, two locator panels, one relay, pole knots, wire and labor for the sum of $2,025. This figure to include everything except the necessary wire to connect Deer Island from the entrance gate to Winthrop Fire Headquarters which the Boston Fire Alarm System is holding for this purpose. Kay Electric Company will do all labor concerned with this, and is the low bidder.

Respectfully,

EDWARD L. FRIEL,
Penal Institutions Commissioner.

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

Engineering Supervision

The Mayor, on December 13, approved the award of a contract, without advertising, based on the following communication:

DEAR MR. MAYOR:

Under date of November 7 of the current year, a contract in the amount of $453,340 was awarded to the J. F. White Contracting Company for furnishing and driving concrete-filled steel piles for the foundation of the South Bay incinerator.

There is a great deal of welding to be done in connection with the pile work, and a responsible representative of the Building Department has insisted, and properly so, that a competent firm of testing engineers be engaged to supervise the welding work to be done by the above-referenced contractor and also to inspect the pipe shells. For many years this department has engaged the services of the Thompson & Lichtner Company, Inc., in connection with the testing of materials, and this company has proved exceptionally satisfactory in every respect. It is held in high regard by the officials of the Building Department, and they have approved my selection of this company to perform the services required in connection with the inspection of the pipe and the welding to be done at the above-referenced site.

Incidentally, this is the type of a contract that should not be publicly advertised for bids, as the quality of services to be performed and the integrity of the testing engineer to be selected are of far more importance than the price for which the services are to be rendered, although the latter is an important consideration. The services to be performed by the Thompson & Lichtner Company, Inc., are to be done in accordance with accepted rates which have been approved by me and which are fair and reasonable.

I respectfully request, therefore, your authority to dispense with advertising, and to award a contract to the Thompson & Lichtner Company, Inc., in an amount not to exceed $6,000 for inspecting steel shells and for supervising and inspecting all welding operations to be conducted at the South Bay incinerator by the above-referenced contracting firm of J. F. White Company. The services of the Thompson & Lichtner Company, Inc., will include the furnishing of a capable inspector at the site to inspect the pipe and welds, the machining and testing of weld samples in the laboratory, and other related services in accordance with the schedule of rates included in a proposal of December 13 sent to me by Miles N. Clair of the above firm of testing engineers.

Respectfully yours,

GEORGE G. HYLAND,
Commissioner of Public Works.
